REDS ADMIT NAZIS TIGHTENING RING AROUND LENINGRAD

U. S. Navy to Protect Lend-Lease Cargoes Knox Declares

AXIS DRIVE AGAINST RUSSIAN CRIMEA SAID TO BE CONTEMPLATED

By the Associated Press

German tanks, artillery and troops were reported storming Leningrad's main outer defense bulwarks today, with Nazi high-velocity shells smashing into a ring of six-foot concrete bunkers in a climactic assault on the old czarist capital.

The Germans, acknowledging bitter Soviet resistance, said the bunker system was equal to anything they encountered in the blitzkrieg sweeps through France or Belgium but declared the attack was progressing successfully. They said 4,500,000 Russians were trapped in the Leningrad area.

Nazi military observers asserted that the eastern front, aflame from the Karelian isthmus to the Black Sea, was "ripening for the successes which the High Command announced were unfolding."

German troops were reported by the High Command to have cracked Leningrad's "defense front" at one point, while on the southern front, the Russians admitted that a Nazi pincers movement was tightening the trap around Kiev.

Simultaneously, observers at Ankara forecast a sea-borne German drive against the Russian Crimea, site of the big Soviet Black Sea naval base of Sebastopol. There were reports that the Germans had ordered all Rumanian and Bulgarian Black Sea ports closed to commercial shipping.

The Nazi order capped repeated rumors that both German and Italian troops were being massed in Bulgarian ports for an attempt to land forces behind Russia's Dnieper river defense line in the Ukraine.

Dispatches from Sofia said partial mobilization of the Bulgarian army had been ordered for today.

Advices reaching London said the Germans had already thrust into the Perekop area, on the thin neck of land connecting the Crimea with the U. S. S. R. mainland. Previously, the Germans had claimed the capture of Zhaporoze, on the main railway line connecting Sebastopol with northern sources of supply.

Meanwhile there were reports that a German sea raider was operating in the Pacific approaches to the Panama Canal.

While spectacular mass air battles raged over Leningrad, the British reported they were rushing RAF pilots into the 86-day-old struggle on the eastern front. London newspapers said the first British fliers to arrive in Russia, several squadrons strong, already had gone into action, presumably in defense of Leningrad.

The Daily Telegraph said it was reasonable to assume that the newly-arrived RAF unit was only "the advance guard of a large fighter contingent destined for the eastern front." Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced last week that hundreds of RAF fighter planes were being sent to the U. S. S. R.

With the battle of Leningrad flaming toward a climax, the Germans quoted Soviet prisoners as saying that defenders of the old Czarist capital were dynamiting huge blocks of buildings in the city to clear the line for artillery and machine-gun fire in a street-by-street defense.

In the skies, the Russians reported 100 planes engaged in the latest duel, with the Germans fleeing after losing 17 aircraft.

Adolf Hitler's High Command declared that the encirclement of Leningrad had been "further tightened in stubborn fighting for possession of modernly constructed fortifications."

Soviet dispatches conceded the loss of several settlements on the bank of the river "T" at the approaches to the city, but said Red Army troops had recaptured three of them.

"Great offensive operations in the east are progressing successfully," the German High Command said. "Repeated enemy counter-attacks supported by heavy tanks collapsed."

While acknowledging a grave new threat to Kiev, the Ukraine capital, the Russians declared that Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies were hurling the Germans back in a smashing counter-offensive on the central front.

Soviet troops were reported within 12 miles of burned and wrecked Smolensk, key city on the Napoleonic road to Moscow, with Russian artillery shelling German positions around it. Other Red forces were said to be fighting near Yartzevo, 27 miles northeast of Smolensk.

On the southern front, the Russians said Hitler's invasion armies north and south of Kiev were trying to meet behind the city. Only Production Of Cars To Be Cut 48.4 Pct.

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—The office of production management announced today that December production of passenger automobiles would be cut 48.4 per cent below the output of last December to conserve essential materials for defense.

Manufacturers will be permitted to produce only 204,848 passenger cars in December, compared with 396,823 in December 1940, it was made known at a meeting of Leon Henderson, director of OPM's civilian supply division, with the automotive defense industry advisory committee.

AMERICANS ON WAY TO RUSSIA STOP IN LONDON

HARRIMAN IS EXPECTED

By the Associated Press

London, Sept. 15—With a wing of the RAF reported already in action against Germany on the eastern front, the entire U. S. mission to Moscow has arrived in Britain for stop-over talks before continuing on to the Russian capital for consultation with the British and Russians on how to beat Adolf Hitler.

The RAF units now in Russia were only the advance guard of greater forces to go, informed quarters indicated, and the British press carried reports that American-made planes already were in the service of the Red Air force.

WATCH CLUE TO UNSOLVED CRIME

Philadelphia, Sept. 15—(AP)—A gold watch gave police a clew today in the unsolved slaying of a 22-year-old bridegroom who was found shot to death on April Fool's day, 1938.

Detective Lieutenant Thomas Summerscale said the wrist watch missing since Mitchell Kazimirski was slain, was found in the pocket of a 19-year-old youth who was arrested yesterday for tampering with a parked car in Philadelphia's Elkins Park section.

Magistrate James W. McBride ordered the young man held on a charge of suspicion of homicide for further hearing Sept. 28 after Summerscale testified the youth refused to give a satisfactory ex-

Record Number Of Planes Here For Sunday Morning Breakfast Meeting

Ninety-Six Ships Carrying 186 Persons Land At Warren Airport To Attend Rendezvious Sponsored By Merchants' Committee

NO ACCIDENTS LISTED

The largest number of airplanes ever to gather on the field at one time visited the Warren Airport yesterday morning when 96 ships carrying 186 persons landed here to attend the breakfast rendezvous sponsored by the local merchants' committee in charge of the "Retailers-for-Defense" week, which opens today.

Since the morning was without the usual early fog, the guests were able to arrive early. The first plane arrived about 8:30 o'clock and from then until 11, the air was full of ships.

At the local airport the guests were greeted by members of the Chamber of Cammerce, members of the retail merchandising committee and members of the Warren Citizens' Committee.

Mrs. Marshall Mathis was in charge of the welcoming and registeration committee at the airport. She was ably assisted by Dorothy Hood, Shirley Thompson and Adelaide Russo.

FINAL ATTEMPT TO AVERT RAIL STRIKE STARTS

Chicago, Sept. 15—(AP)—A final effort to avert a national railroad strike was started in Chicago today.

A representative of the National Railway Mediation Board met with members of the president's emergency fact finding board in an executive session which they indicated might last for several hours.

They were to choose a time and place for the initial session of the five-man emergency board appointed by President Roosevelt Sept. 10 to investigate the issues of the colossal wage dispute between the nation's major railroads and 1,260,000 of their workers.

This emergency board, headed by Dean Lyman Morse of the University of Oregon law school, is required to report to the president within 30 days from the date of its creation. Not for 30 days after the report is made, the railway labor act provides, may the 19 unions involved put a strike into effect.

Five brotherhoods of the so-called operating crafts are demanding a 30 per cent increase in basic rates of pay. Fourteen non-

Argentina's Congressional "Dies Committee" Keeps Close Watch on Activities Of Emissary and Friend Of Hitler

UNDER SURVEILLANCE

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 15—(AP)—Argentina's congressional "Dies committee" kept a close watch today upon the activities of Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, emissary and friend of Adolf Hitler, while pressing its demand for the expulsion of German Ambassador Edmund Von Thermann.

The chamber of deputies is near a vote, perhaps today, on the committee's resolution accusing Von Thermann of "overstepping the bounds of a diplomat and abusing his privileges."

Into the midst of the furore throughout Argentina over the resolution and two sharp protests made by Von Thermann, Capt. Wiedemann stepped yesterday from a four-motored plane which brought him from Rio De Janeiro, Brazil.

The smiling captain, ousted from his consular post in San Francisco last July and sent back to Europe with 500 other Axis representatives, greeted a large crowd at the airport with a wave of his hand and drove off in Von Thermann's limousine.

Von Thermann, who said yesterday he had no intention of with-

WOMAN BELIEVED MURDER VICTIM

Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 15—(AP)—The body of a 45-year-old widow was found late yesterday in an isolated mountain section four miles southeast of here and Detective Chief Richard Powell said authorities were working on the theory the woman had been murdered.

He identified the woman as Mrs. Myrtle Fields, a Kingston, Pa., domestic.

Dr. Lewis Reese, Luzerne county coroner, said a post mortem had disclosed that death was caused by a blow on the head. The body also bore a blackened eye.

Powell said there was no evidence of a struggle at the scene where the body was found by a

NEUTRAL POSITION DISCUSSED

Speaker Rayburn Tells Press Conference That Revision of Act Was Subject Of Conference With President at White House During Day But That No Conclusions Had Been Reached

MESSAGE PLANNED ON LEASE-LEND FINANCES

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—Speaker Rayburn told his press conference that revision of the neutrality act was discussed by legislative leaders at a conference with President Roosevelt at the White House today but that no conclusions had been reached.

The speaker did not disclose the details of the discussion but said, in answer to a question, that there had been "a lot of talk about it."

At the same time, Rayburn said the president would send a message to congress Thursday on the subject of a new lend-lease appropriation which informed sources said would amount to about $6,000,000,000.

Since Ppresident Roosevelt's order to the navy to shoot Axis sea raiders on sight in American defensive waters, there has been considerable speculation as to whether outright repeal of the neutrality law, which forbids entry of American merchant ships into combat zones, might be proposed or whether the arming of merchant vessels would be undertaken.

A provision of the neutrality law forbids the arming of merchant ships engaged in commerce with any foreign nations after the president has proclaimed a state of war exists between any countries.

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—Amid reports that a German raider was operating in the Pacific approaches to the Panama Canal, the Senate naval committee will be asked to decide whether there should be an investigation of the north Atlantic shooting clash between the U. S. S. Greer and a U-boat.

Chairman Walsh (D-Mass), who summoned the committee to meet Wednesday, said he would ask it to question Secretary of Navy Knox and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, about the Greer incident—one of the recent series which led to Pre-

TOO EARLY FOR RECESSION IN POLIO OUTBREAK

Harrisburg, Sept. 15—(AP)—Pennsylvania's current infantile paralysis outbreak — which has spread to 53 counties—will not show any marked recession until October, Dr. A. H. Stewart, acting secretary of health predicted today.

"At mid-September, it is apparent that the infantile paralysis epidemic is following the usual pattern with little likelihood of marked recession until the end of this month," he declared in a statement.

"When reports for the week just closing come to be analyzed, all indications are that the number of cases will be about at the level of the preceding week.

"Washington, Monroe, Warren, Forest, Indiana and Mifflin counties reported their first cases during the first two weeks of September. Adams, Franklin and Cumberland counties, except the eastern border of Cumberland have shown no spread of the disease for three or more weeks."

Nearly 400 cases of the disease have been reported and at least 26 deaths have been record

All Babies Under Six Years Are Eligible To Be Named In Contest

Two thousand dollars in cash and commissions and two large loving cups will be awarded to the community's favorite babies in the "Favorite Baby" election being sponsored by progressive merchants and business men of the community in co-operation with The Warren Times-Mirror.

Cash prizes to be awarded are designed to provide the educational foundation of success in life for babies of the community who are elected to first places by community residents.

Any baby and every baby in Warren and adjoining counties, under six years of age is eligible for nomination. A picture for publication in the Warren Times-Mirror is required so that people of the community may choose their favorite. Arrangements for their pictures, without cost, have been made by this newspaper.

This community's favorite baby will be given a cash award of $500 and a valuable cup.

The business concerns that have aligned themselves with The Warren Times-Mirror in this cause are able to do so because of the support experience has taught them to anticipate.

Each customer trading in the stores of co-operating merchants will receive a voting coupon on all cash purchases or payment on accounts in which 50c or more is involved; a coupon will be issued for each 50c involved at the time the transaction is made, which credits any baby selected to 500 votes. All votes are to be deposited at The Warren Times-Mirror election office, 238 Pa. Ave., West.

The list of the leading firms that will give vote coupons with each purchase of fifty cents or over appears in today's paper. Others will undoubtedly be added.

The election will last approximately nine weeks following publication in the Warren Times-Mirror next week of the first list of babies nominated.

Any baby in the trade territory within the age limit of six years may be nominated by any relative, friend or admirer. Mothers, fathers, grandparents, aunts, and uncles, brothers and sisters, all admirers of babies may nominate the baby of their choice.

Winners will be decided by the people of the community on a vote-count basis. Their votes for babies entered in the election may result from selection of a favorite after seeing photographs of the entrants in this newspaper.

FINLAND TALKS OF EARLY PEACE WITH NEIGHBOR

REGAINS LOST AREAS

Helsinki, Finland, Sept. 15—(AP)—The possibility that Finland may be near the end of her war with Soviet Russia was heightened today by the declaration of a government spokesman that there are "good hopes of peace in the nearest future."

Any talk of a separate peace with Moscow was ruled out, however, by Vaino Tanner, minister of trade and communications and leader of the Dominant Social Democratic party, in an address to the nation yesterday.

He stressed that Finland was an ally of Germany "only by accident" and that this country would continue to fight only as long as her interests demanded.

"It is for us an entirely defensive war with the aid of which we desire to obtain secure frontiers and lasting peace," Tanner said. "Whatever is needed to secure this must be done, but there our task also ends."

Finland, he added, never wanted war but he declared that since "barbarous and expansionist Russia" is a neighbor "our long frontier is still insecure and it is probably essential that we should render areas beyond it safe in a military sense. Before that, there is no possibility of concluding peace with anybody."

(Tanner failed to give the basis for his hopes of early peace, but

SISTERS KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Pennsylvania weekend accidents claimed at least 10 lives, including two sisters and a companion killed in the collision of two automobiles near Carlisle.

The sisters were Miss Loma Daisy Loy, 48, and Miss Myrtle Loy, 32. Their companion was Ralph Clayton Henry, 52.

While her 14-year-old brother cried "look out," Betty Orr, 10, dashed in front of an automobile at Meadville and was fatally injured. Another youngster, George Henry Diller, 11, was killed near York when he dashed in front of a machine. Twelve-year-old Geo. Hamm was killed by a car at Uniontown while riding his bicycle.

REVEALS DECISION TO LEGION

Announcement Made By Cabinet Member in Address To Convention At Milwaukee Is First Official Disclosure How Government Is Preparing To Carry Out New Policy Enunciated By Roosevelt

THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE IS SCORED

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 15—(AP)—Secretary Knox told the American Legion's convention today that, beginning tomorrow, the United States Navy would protect all lease-lend cargoes traversing the sea "between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland."

The navy chief described the Atlantic fleet's orders in unequivocal language—"to capture or destroy" every Axis surface or subsurface raider encountered.

Although Knox avoided the particular word "convoy," his announcement recalled the interpretation given President Roosevelt's shooting-on-sight speech of Thursday night in London, particularly by the British press which broke out such jubilant headlines as: "U. S. to Guard Our Ships."

The Knox announcement constituted the first official disclosure of how the navy was preparing to carry out the new policy enunciated by Mr. Roosevelt—that henceforth Axis war vessels entering United States "defensive waters" would do so at their own peril and that American naval vessels would not wait for them to shoot first.

In a speech prepared for the Legion convention, Knox said:

"Beginning tomorrow, the American navy will provide protection as adequate as we can make it for ships of every flag carrying lend-aid supplies between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland."

Whether "protection as adequate as we can make it" meant that U. S. warships would begin escorting convoys of British and other cargo vessels tomorrow was a matter of conjecture, but the fact that an interim of four days was necessary between President Roosevelt's statement and the beginning of this protection indicated that some special arrangements requiring time to complete had been made.

Moreover, the fact that the protection will be extended into waters adjacent to Iceland was taken as an indication that the United States probbaly had agreed to assume sole responsibility for guarding supply ships up to that point with the British to take over from there on.

Knox's announcement came near the end of his address to the Legion gathering, and after he had declared that since United States occupation of Iceland on July 7 "Hitler and the Nazi were palpably

Cornplanter Indian Grant Scene Of Colorful Ceremony on Sunday

The Cornplanter Indian Grant was the scene of another colorful event on Sunday when the Cornplanter descendants adopted Dr. C. E. Schaeffer, assistant state ethnologist, as a member of the Wolf Clan of the Senecas.

Dr. Schaeffer has had general charge of the archeological work in the upper Allegheny valley this summer and his frequent visits to the Grant in this connection had brought him into contact with these Senecas.

The ceremonial was planned as a surprise for Dr. Schaeffer. He was asked to go to the Grant about noon, ostensibly to see some of the work going on there. When he arrived he was met by the Cornplanter band with a group of costumed singers and dancers from the Cold Spring council house and was given the name "Diu-joh-ohn-dote" — "Standing Tree"—one of the chief's names belonging to the Wolf Clan.

A picnic lunch was served on the Windsor Pierce lawn after which visiting Indians and whites were conducted over the points of interest on the Grant, including the cemetery, the site of Cornplanter's house and mill and places where, according to local legend, the bodies of British and French soldiers are buried.

In the evening the party adjourned to the Pearl English farm at Sugar Run, where the archeologists have uncovered an extensive and highly interesting early burial site which is being excavated with the help of Indian labor. Here, at the suggestion of the Indians themselves, an ancient ritual was exemplified. Chauncey Johnny John, from Cold Spring, assisted by several of the Cold Spring Indians, threw water about the excavation site, recited the old Mohawk compact of the Five Nations with their Maker and prayed for the repose of the souls of the people, whoever they might be, whose burial place this had been.

Chief Windsor Pierce, of Cornplanter, explained the significance of the ceremony, saying that wherever cold meets hot, a vapor arises to heaven. The cold water strewn on the warm ground sent up an invisible steam which carried with it the earth-bound spirits and the prayers of the living.

A large crowd viewed the "dig" and the ceremonies. Many stayed until late in the evening about the camp fire, watching the Indian songs and dances and listening to their stories about the old days in these parts.

BRADFORD MAN IS BURNED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Ralph Dieter, 42, of 817 East Main street, Bradford, is in the Warren General Hospital with first and second degree burns about the face, ears, neck and both hands, received about noon Sunday in a gas explosion which occurred on his lease near Kinzua.

According to the meager information obtained, Dieter was working in a pump house on the lease at the time of the accident. What caused the gas to explode was not determined.

The man was first taken to the office of a Kinzua physician and later brought to the hospital by Louis Town, who was with Dieter at the time. Town was not hurt.

Dieter's condition is said ot be good. He expects to leave the hospital sometime tomorrow.

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—Members of congress got back on the job today after an extended legislative holiday, and leaders called for fast action on the unprecedented $3,500,000,000 revenue bill.

The House has had a month's vacation, nad almost every incoming train and plane carried members summoned back by the leadership to act on the tax measure.

That legislation, carrying the heaviest tax burden in history, was agreed upon last week by a joint conference committee adjusting differences between separate feasures passd by both chambers, however. House members of the conference group technically had to obtain official authority from their chamber to make a compromise agreement with the Senate.

Because of a controversitl Senate amendment lowering income tax exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single individuals, it was expected that the House would have a record vote on the bill.

Leaders said any vote probably would be delayed until Wednesday in order that all House members might have time to reach Washington.

Recounting the U-boat attack on the U. S. destroyer Greer, Knox said the Navy Department immediately made public all information on the incident, while the German government countered by saying the Greer fired the first shot.

The sceretary said that "the whole issue is far too broad to make the question of who fired first of great importance" but he said he wanted to refer to it because "it offered a chance for that curious organization known as 'The America First Committee' to tell the American public that, in its judgment, it was more likely the German U-boat commander was telling the truth than the American naval officer who commanded the Greer."

"That is an important fact for the American public to digest," Knox declared "that we have in our midst an organization of American citizens who, on a question of veracity, declared publicly that they prefer to accept the word of a piratical murderer of women and children on the high seas, engaged in a type of warfare denounced by every civilized nation in the world, rather than accept the word of an American commander of an American warship."

FIRST NAZARENE CHURCH PASTOR TO LEAVE SOON

At the Sunday evening service in the First Church of the Nazarene, its pastor, Rev. H. Blair Ward, tendered his resignation effective October 1.

Mr. Ward has accepted a call to the First church in Toronto, Canada, a field which offers splendid opportunities for Christian work, since it is the "mother" church of the movement in that section.

Rev. Ward will be sincerely missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances in Warren. He has been active in many circles since coming here nearly four years ago from Providence, R. I. In addition to his own parish work, he has served in many capacities in the Warren County Ministerial Association and has been one of its most active workers.

Water street, collided at the intersection of Canton street and Pennsylvania avenue. According to local police, the accident occurred when Deliman started to make a left turn into Canton street. Police said a charge of driving too fast under the conditions would be placed against Wolfe. Damage to Wolfe's car amounted to $100 and to Deliman's machine, $25.

Two persons were treated at the oice of a Sugar Grove physician about 10:15 o'clock Saturday night when a car driven by Herman M. Hebner, 44, of R. D. 1, Pittszeld, went off the highway, struck an abutment and overturned while proceeding south on Route 69, near Sugar Grove. Hebner suffered lacerations of the forehead and mouth, while his wife received a fractured elbow.

State motor police said Hebner was forced off the highway by a car traveling in the opposite direction. Driving onto the berm, Hebner struck the abutment with the right front wheel of his car. Damage to the machine was estimated at $200.

Victor Graziano, 20, of 1109 Spring street, was treated at the Warren General Hospital about 5:15 today for a cut on the chin, sustained when a car he was driving struck a tree near the corner of Water street and Pennsylvania avenue. He is also reported to have lost two teeth. He told hospital attaches he fell asleep while driving west in Pennsylvania avenue. Damage to the car was estimated at $275 by borough police, who investigated.

Four persons escaped injury last evening when a sedan driven by Wallace Heminger, 20, of Sugar Grove, rolled over three times on U. S. route 6, just west of Irvine. The car was completely demolished. According to state motor police, Heminger was driving along a straight stretch of highway when the machine started to zig-zag across the highway, finally rolling over.

Three cars figured in an accident on U. S. Route 6, near Youngsville, last Friday evening and although all were badly damaged, no person in any of the machines was injured. According to state motor police, George W. Mathers, 16, of Tidioute, traveling west, tried to pass three cars on a straight stretch in the face of oncoming traffic. R. L. Gerould, 112 Redwood street, Warren, who was traveling in the opposite direction, attempted to avoid the Mathers car by turning to the right. However, the Mathers machine was struck a glancing blow, causing it to overturn. Gerould brought his car to a stop, but John Gallagher, 203 Division street, who was following Gerould, was unable to strop and struck the Gerould car in the rear.

SECOND COUNTY POLIO CASE IS REPORTED TODAY

The Russell school, which was to have opened today after having been closed since the development of a case of infantile paralysis there, remained closed today when the second case of poliomyelitis was diagnosed in the same family yesterday. The school will remain closed all this week, it was stated.

Glenn Pangborn, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pangborn, of Russell, and brother of Miss Lois Pangborn, who was stricken while employed as a domestic here over a week ago, is the second victim. There are two other children in the family.

The attending physician said today that the condition of the boy is not serious at the present time and that no actual paralysis has developed. The case is believed to be a mild one, similar to that of his sister, whose conditon is reported to be favorable.

No other cases of the disease are reported in the county.

Neutral Position Discussed

sident Roosevelt's shoot-on-hight speech Thursday night.

"I think the naval committee should look into the matter," Walsh told reporters. "It is the type of incident which might be used to involve this country in war. Congress and the country are entitled to know the facts and I shall ask the committee to conduct an open hearing."

Meanwhile, the navy was believed to be checking reports that a Nazi raider was in the general vicinity of the Galapagos Islands off the coast of Ecuador—some 1,000 miles west f the Pacific entrance to the canal—and was preying on merchant shipping.

The location indicated, involving the possession of a hemisphere nation, apparently would fall within the "defensive waters" area which Mr. Roosevelt mentioned in his speech when he warned Axis war craft that they entered those stretches of the sea at their own peril.

The navy treated the raider reports in a very gingerely manner and would give no hint what was being done about them.

(From Page One)

Upon their arrival, the guests were given breakfast tickets and were transported to the Geracimos and Blue and White restaurants to eat. A bus was provided for this purpose by the West Ridge Transportation Company, while members of the Citizens' Committee also assisted in the transportation.

A special guest for the occasion was W. T. Piper, president of the Pipe Aircraft Corporation, Lock Haven. Mr. Piper, flying a Cub trainer, was on his way to St. Louis.

Considering the rough and shifting wind, the fact that the morning passed without even a minor mishap was notable. Both in the air and on the ground, pilots showed their fine training by the manner in which they handled their ships.

During the time that the planes were at the field, hundreds of spectators were attracted and the various types of planes were given a close inspection.

Planes were here from the following places: Meadville, Oil City, Jamestown, N. Y., Erie, Youngsville, St. Marys, Titusville, Hornell, N. Y., Corry, Little Valley, N. Y., Seneca, Pa., Falconer, N. Y., Buffalo, N. Y., Mt. Jewett, North Tonawanda, N. Y., Kenmore, N. Y., Olean, N. Y., Friendship, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., Clarion, State College, Lockport, N. Capt. Wiedemann has a transit visa to cross Argentina to Chile. Members of the committee said he would be watched every minute of his stay here.

Von Thermann declared the charges made against him by the committee were "ridiculous and do not constitute a reason for my withdrawal."

Three Changes In Warren County Methodist Pastorates Announced At Final Session Of Conference

Three changes in pastorates of Warren county churches were made in appointments read at the closing session of the Erie Conference of the Methodist church at Meadville last evening. One of these changes is in Warren, while the others are in smaller communities of the county.

The Rev. H. L. Knappenberger, former Russell pastor, was appointed pastor of the Grace church here to succeed Dr. J. H. Clemens, who retired from the active ministry at the end of the conference year. Dr. Clemens will make his home in Warren.

At Lander, the Rev. W. A. Fuller was appointed to replace the Rev. D. D. Samuelson, a Warren young man, who was transferred to Findley Lake. The Rev. Jack Boyd was named supply pastor at Kinzua, succeeding the Rev. E. V. Price, who was transferred to Marienville.

Dr. Thomas E. Colley was returned as pastor of the First Methodist church here, while the Rev. M. I Harding comes back as pastor of Epworth church.

Other Warren county pastors returned include the following: Russell, Rev. R. S. Naylor; Sheffield, Rev. I. E. Rossell; Sugar Grove, Rev. W. O. Brainard; Youngsville, Rev. Dwight Jack.

A large number from Warren attended the closing services of the conference at Meadville yesterday. At the morning service Bishop Straughn spoke on "God, The Primary Fact." At the evening service, Dr. Ralph A. Diffendorfer, of the board of missions, spoke on "The Christian Mission In a World of War."

An invitation to meet annually at Allegheny College was referred to the conference committee, action to be taken at its next meeting.

Following is the complete list of appointments for the Jamestown district of the Erie conference, of which Dr. J. A. Galbraith is superintendent:

ONE CASE JUMP IN RELIEF FOR WARREN COUNTY

While increased private and WPA employment combined to send Pennsylvania's relief rolls tumbling to a record low, the first week in September saw the number of public assistance cases in Warren county increased by one, according to information from the Department of Public Assistance in Harrisburg today.

In the state, the sharpest weekly decline since early July sent direct relief rolls tumbling to 87,992 cases containing 174,419 persons. Expenditures for the week in the state amounted to $443,797, a decline of $19,777.

In Warren county the one-case increase sent the total number of relief recipients to 73, representing 92 persons. Cost of relief in the county for the week was $224.31.

Following are the figures for some nearby counties:

Clarion—Cases, 206; decrease, 2; cost, $734.09.

Crawford—Cases, 289; decrease, 6; cost, $985.66.

Elk—Cases, 98; decrease, 7; cost $413.47.

Erie—Cases, 582 decrease, 10; cost, $2,254.48.

Forest—Cases, 26; increase, 1; cost, $88.47.

McKean—Cases, 232; increase, 5; cost, $843.02.

Venango—Cases, 383; decrease, 4; cost, $1,232.49.

Barnes

Barnes, Sept. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Marley and family, of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wahlgren and son, of Lakewood, N. Y., were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Maud Ford.

Mrs. C. L. Brown is ill at her home and her sister, Mrs. Lewis Elder, of Warren, has been with her several days this week. Mr. Brown, who is employed at Mayburg, has also been home for a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis, of Dayton, Ohio, are spending their vacation visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lyle.

Miss Betty Knapp, who is employed at Washington, D. C., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Knapp, last week.

Mrs. J. B. Lyle and daughter, Barbara Jean, spent the weekend visiting relatives in Akron, O.

The primary elections failed to attract many voters to the polls in this precinct as in other parts of the county. Only fifty-eight votes were cast, 44 Republican and 14 Democratic.

The Adult Bible class of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Wayne Whitton Wednesday afternoon for its regular monthly business and social meeting.

Jack Smith, who is stationed at Mitchel Field, Long Island, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Roberts Saturday night.

Mrs. D. R. Titus, Miss Nelle Titus, Mrs. Ruth Miller and daughter, Nancy, Mrs. Maud Ford and Miss Margaret Titus motored to Meadville, where they visited Mrs. Coquessa Herring. Mrs. Herring has failed so much that she is now confined to her bed and because of her advanced years, members of her family are gravely concerned about her condition.

George Irvine, Jr., was a dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barnes in Erie last Thursday evening.

Methodist Pastors United In Marriage At Sunday Session

The Rev. Sherman H. Epler, of Salamanca, N. Y., and Ona B. Chilson, of Kane, were married at Meadville Sunday by Bishop James H. Straughn, of Pittsburgh.

A hundred pastors and their wives and 200 friends who had been attending sessions of the Erie Methodist Conference were present at the ceremony.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Epler are well known in Warren. Rev. Epler has appeared on programs here on many occasions. Mrs. Epler was former pastor of the Kinzua Methodist church and during the past year was pastor at East Kane.

STAMPS ON THE SHELVES

Beginning today and continuing through Saturday, a million stores and business establishments throughout the country, including those in Warren, co-operating in "Retailers-for-Defense" week, will offer the public a product never handled before.

They are Defense Savings Stamps, and it is hoped that thousands of Americans who seldom go into banks will see these bargains on the shelves and buy them, thus forming a habit that will benefit them, their country, and their liberties all at once.

If you know a better bargain than that, go to it, but it looks like an awfully good one to us. Remember, "To Keep 'Em Flying, Keep on Buying" U. S. Defense Savings Stamps. A million retailers are making it easier for you.

When you buy anything, any time, at any store in Warren or anywhere else — Buy Defense Savings Stamps, too!

DO YOU REMEMBER SCHLAGETER, ADOLF?

Viggo Hansteen and Rolf Wickstroem have by their death at the hands of the Nazi overlords in Norway wiped out the blot of Quisling. The two Norse labor leaders, led before a Hitler firing squad on charges of having sabotaged aganist the conquerors of their country, more than overbalance in their martyrdom the man whose name has become a synonym for treachery and shame.

Hansteen and Wickstroem! There are two more names to remember. One man should understand their "crime," and that man is Adolf Hitler. Leo Schlageter was his hero when he wrote Mein Kampf. Schlageter was a German Hansteen or Wickstroem of 20 years ago. But the shoe was on the other foot then.

Leo Schlageter had been a German artillery officer in the World War, a fellow veteran of Hitler. In 1923, five years after that war was over, the French occupied the Rhineland when Germany failed to pay reparations. A railway line between Dusseldorf and Duisburg was blown up, and Schlageter was caught in the act.

Despite appeals to the French by the Reich government and even by the Vatican, Schlageter was executed on May 26, 1923. Immediately he became a hero of all the nationalist elements in Germany, and one of the "political saints" of the early days of the Nazi party. Many a "Heil" has Hitler himself given to his hero, Leo Schlageter.

Now it is almost 20 years later. The position is now entirely reversed. Now it is Hitler whose legions trample the peoples of a dozen conquered countries. Now it is German oppression that brave men take their lives in their hands to resist. Now it is Hitler, who admired the courage and loyalty of his comrade, who is giving the orders to shoot down other Schlageters of other lands.

Hitler thought all the Schlageters were in Germany; that courage and loyalty and devotion were German. Increasingly, day after day, week after week, month after month, he is going to run against the same qualities in other peoples. In Holland, France, Belgium, and Denmark, in Yugoslavia and Greece and Czechoslovakia and Poland there are other Hansteens and other Wickstroems.

Hitler may shoot them, but he must understand them, and as each dies, may Hitler start up in his bed and look into the eyes of his old comrade, Schlageter.

Warren airport officials with the assistance of the C. of C., and a group of civic-minded citizens did an excellent job in playing host to almost 200 visitors who came here in 95 planes to participate in the Breakfast Rendezvous Sunday morning.

It was nice to see about 75 per cent of the Warren county boys with Company I who were spending the weekend with friends and relatives.

Warren's football teams provided grid fans some excellent entertainment Saturday and Sunday.

The half-way mark in September!

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—James Montgomery Flagg treats the warm weather calmly. . . . His wiry, bristly grey hair is innocent of a hat. . . . He wears rumpled gaberdines with no tie, and his collar is on the outside of his coat.

Flagg is six-feet-two and owns the bushiest eyebrows in New York. The wrinkles at the corners of his eyes are laugh wrinkles. He likes Roosevelt and the radio but hates athletics. "The word baseball makes me shudder," he recently said to Vesta Kelling during an interview. "I like neither the game, the dust, the yelling, the pop bottles, the peanut shells, nor the shirt sleeves. I must be a snob."

One of these days some motion picture producer is going to have Oliver Gramling's book, "AP—The Story of News," crammed down his throat; then he will receive credit for being an astute showman and grabbing a "natural" while his rivals weren't looking. Had Noel Coward written it (which he couldn't have, even had he wanted to) it would already be hailed as another Cavalcade. It is exactly what its title says it is—the story of news. If you like newspapers, you ought to read it. Presently Oscar Serlin is going to produce it on Broadway. There's a plum in it for the man who takes it to Hollywood.

THE seals in Rockefeller Center should be viewed from all angles. Yesterday I happened to be in the offices of the American Spirits company, high in the RCA building. Peter Siskin said, "Poke your head out the window and look at the seals." . . . I did. . . . From that distance, they seemed to be something thought up by Salvador Dali. . . . They were flat as pancakes, utterly without depth. . . . They swam and frolicked like apparitions out of a Walt Disney film.

While there I was introduced to a famous old character of the New York bar—Judge Warren Foster, whom Herbert Asbury mentions so favorably in his book "The Gangs of New York." The Judge likes to talk of Mark Twain, whom he knew, and also of Ben Butler, who won questionable fame as "Beast" Butler, military dictator of New Orleans during the Civil War and who was charged with stealing all the silver spoons in that southern metropolis. "That wasn't true," the Judge declared. "Ben Butler was greatly maligned."

The Judge also had an interesting explanation of the word "stateroom" as we know it today. Accommodations aboard ship are universally known as "cabins." In New Orleans there was one captain who had two especially fine cabins on his ship. One of these he named Louisiana and the other Mississippi. It was his custom to give these to distinguished guests. . . . If you were important, you got one of the "State" rooms. . . . That's how the word stateroom came into common use.

Yugoslavs Rejected Axis Pact, Made Peter King

THE ascendancy of 17-year-old King Peter II of Yugoslavia to the throne, March 27, 1941, infuriated Adolf Hitler, influenced him to launch his Balkan campaign with an attack on Yugoslavia.

The stage had been set for the type of Nazi infiltration that took place in Rumania and Bulgaria. Prince Regent Paul, reportedly goaded by his pro-Axis wife, Princess Olga, had signed a pact making Yugoslavia a part of the Rome-Berlin-Tokio alliance. After a night of rioting, young Peter overthrew the regency and took the throne, inciting Hitler to war.

The stamp above was issued by the government in 1933 honoring Peter, then a young prince. It was issued in connection with the 60th anniversary meeting of the National Sokols, a sports association.

Peter was born in 1923 and grew up in Belgrade. His mother was Princess Marie of Rumania, daughter and namesake of Queen Marie.

Peter was sent to England to study at the age of 11 but after only 13 days tragedy brought him home. His father, King Alexander, was assassinated as he disembarked at Marseille, France.

Peter fled to England after the German invasion this year.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—When the news of the death of Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt reached Washington the remark most often heard was that she was the most remarkable mother any President ever had.

Although never in the foreground except at a benefit for some charity, such as the Warm Springs Foundation, Mrs. Roosevelt senior was a legend in Washington. From an intimate of the family, here are three stories which illustrate traits which made her remarkable:

HER resistance to weather and her indomitable will were two characteristics which many believe she passed on to her son and which made it possible for him to rise above illness to now nearly nine strenuous years of almost perfect health in the White House.

On a bitterly cold morning in January 1931 Mr. Roosevelt was preparing to leave the Governor's mansion in Albany for New York City. The entourage was already in cars when Mrs. Roosevelt senior entered a front room.

"Where's Franklin?" she demanded. "I must talk to him."

A friend explained that he already was in his car. Mrs. Roosevelt hurried to the window, thumped the pane, signalled for the cars to wait and rushed out into the freezing weather without hat or coat. In a few moments Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt entered the room, saw her mother-in-law standing in the cold and hurried to get her coat. The friend offered to take it out. Mrs. Roosevelt explained "She would never put it on for you."

She hurried out with it, but the 76-year-old matriarch impatiently pushed it aside and finished out her talk with her son, the icy wind whipping through her gray hair. When she returned to the room her only comment was that she wouldn't stand for any coddling.

No matter that her son was President three times, he never grew up as far as she was concerned—and she never hesitated to administer a verbal spanking when she thought he needed it.

At a small family dinner, before the world situation brought a pall on White House gaiety, there was much banter going around the table. The President had been working late and had come to the table in a well-worn pair of slacks. His sons were kidding him about his disreputable pants.

"I suppose," said the President, "you would have had me come to dinner without them."

"Franklin," said the elder Mrs. Roosevelt sharply, "if there is any more such lewd talk, I will leave the table immediately."

AND finally, although President Roosevelt certainly had made himself the most famous politician of his generation, his mother never took politics seriously and didn't care a snap for diplomacy.

The late Huey Long had just come to Washington as senator. As is often the custom he was invited to a White House dinner. It was formal, and the table was long. Mrs. Roosevelt was sitting near one end of the table. The new senator was holding forth at the other and talking loudly.

Mrs. Roosevelt had become a little hard of hearing. She leaned across the table and said to her daughter-in-law "Eleanor, who is that man?" The younger Mrs. Roosevelt, fearing what might be coming by way of comment, made a shush sign and went on talking.

But the President's mother refused to be shushed. In a louder voice she repeated "Who is that man?" and added "I don't like him."

While the politicians were trying to catch their breath, Mrs. Roosevelt went calmly on with her dinner.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"I guess the captain doesn't like me—he said 'Present arms!' this afternoon and walked away!"

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM

By VIVIEN GREY

YESTERDAY: Pam Quellerton is a native of Key West, which makes her a "conch.' But to Pam the term is a compliment, for her family is as good as any that spend the winter in that gay city. And Jerry Winthrope may be a playboy, but now he is seriously in love with Pam, though Freda Barington, to whom he has been engaged for years, will not release him. She just has told him so.

Chapter Six

Insult

FRIEDA was on her feet and looking down at him.

"Lunch time," she said. "Coming?"

"Not just yet." Jerry didn't even watch her as she moved away.

Meanwhile, Pam had been busy all morning completing the largest bunch of violets she had ever made. They were lovely when she finally held out the finished bouquet to admire it. It would be perfect, she reflected, for Mrs. Winthrope's black chiffon dress. Pam had tried to do especially lovely work because they were to be a gift. Jerry's mother had been so sweet and gracious. It was still early afternoon when she stood at the desk of Casa Marina and asked for Mrs. Winthrope. The clerk telephoned and then turned to Pam.

"You may go right up," he said.

Pam followed a bellboy to the door of the Winthrope suite. Lenore opened the door.

"Oh, the little basket girl!" Lenore took the flowers. "How much are they?"

"They're a gift for Mrs. Winthrope," Pam said quietly.

"Just a minute." Lenore took the flowers and let Pam stand at the door. "For you, Mother!" She moved to a desk and picked up her purse, extracting a few silver coins, then went back to Pam.

"But I said it was a gift." Pam's words were clearly and quietly spoken.

The silver fell on the floor when Pam failed to put out her hand for it. A maid in the hall snickered and Mrs. Winthrope, coming to the door, looked at the coins and then at Lenore with something like reproof in her eyes. She had the flowers in her hand.

"Lenore! How could you!" Then to Pam: "Thank you, child. How lovely they are! How sweet of you! You've gone to a great deal of trouble for me. Won't you come in?"

"I'm so glad you're pleased." Pam's face lighted with pleasure. "And now I'll run along."

Mrs. Winthrope had seemed genuinely pleased. Pam had done something for Jerry's mother. That was enough for her.

"That Lenore's the high and mighty!" the maid said when the door of the Winthrope apartment was closed. "But aren't you going to pick up your money?"

"No, it isn't mine. It looks as if you can have it."

"Thank you!" The maid stooped swiftly to scoop up the coins and glanced after Pam as if she thought the girl had gone mad.

"Money on the floor." Pam heard her say, "and she dosn't even bother to pick it up."

But to Pam a gift was a gift. She wanted no return for it. . . .

In the suite at the hotel, Mrs. Winthrope, the violets still in her hand, turned to her daughter. Lenore was furious.

"Did you see what that little Conch girl did?" Lenore exclaimed. "Spurned my money! Made me ridiculous before that maid. Little beachcomber! Beach rat!"

Mrs. Winthrope was surveying herself in the mirror, holding the violets against her gown and finding the result pleasant to look at.

"Serves you right, Lenore," she replied. "I'm sorry to say it, dear, but that little girl didn't humiliate you at all. You did it yourself. You're altogether too high-handed. Use a little discrimination when you tip. You should have asked the girl in and treated her as a friend, not an errand girl."

"Mother! You'll talk differently when you find your son bringing you a Conch daughter-in-law!"

"That's What You Think!"

MRS. WINTHROPE turned sharply to the girl. "What do you mean, Lenore?" she demanded. "You know Jerry would never marry anyone but Freda. He's been in love with her for years. That was settled long ago. Jerry is only amusing himself."

"That's what you think!"

"Jerry's simply doing what every boy does. Flirting. It's harmless, I'm sure." She paused. "I only hope he doesn't hurt her, that she understands it's only a passing interest. She's such a sweet little thing. Pretty, too. I must speak to Jerry. Boys are so thoughtless sometimes."

"Passing interest? That's what you call it!"

"Jerry would never marry anyone but Freda. You know that, Lenore."

"Oh, I'm not saying he actually intends to marry this—this creature. But you can't tell. These little Southern girls aren't as dumb as you think. They know a good thing when they see it. She won't give Jerry up immediately, and his mother accepting gifts from her won't make it any easier for Jerry to pull out of the picture when the time comes. There may be conch shells in the Winthrope family yet!"

Adele Winthrope's eyes were doubtful as she looked at her daughter. "Well, what would you have me do? Return these flowers? Refuse to accept them?"

"I think you should. It would be the thing to do."

Adele hesitated only for an instant.

"I'm not going to. I don't see any point in hurting anyone when you don't have to. And they're beautiful. Quite unusual. I want to take them home with me."

Lenore shrugged. Adele Winthrope stared at her daughter thoughtfully.

"You have so much deviltry in you, Lenore, that sometimes I wonder how you ever happen to be your father's and my daughter. You're talking impossibilities. Jerry is a sensible boy."

"All right! Close your eyes. Refuse to see anything. But won't that be a sweet thing for Dad to face when he comes down? Conch in the Winthrope family! His ancestors will turn in their graves!" Lenore pulled on her beach coat and went out.

After she had gone, Adele Winthrope tried to dismiss the subject as too preposterous for consideration. Pam was a sweet little thing. She hoped nothing would happen that would make Pam unhappy. She must do something nice for her in return for the violets. And very soon. It had been so sweet of the child to do all that work for her.

But she surely needn't fear on the score of Jerry. He wouldn't do anything foolish. After all, he was a Winthrope. She paused a moment just there. Jerry wasn't all Winthrope. He was part Adele Blodgett. She lingered on the thought of the Blodgett girls in the little town of Shirley, Indiana.

Their father had been superintendent of the creosote plant. Their home had been a big comfortable one with plenty of food: all of the necessities, but not many frills. Adele had been the youngest of five girls in a family that had been motherless since her birth. Their father's maiden sister had tried to take the place of their mother, but had never been too successful at it.

A mist gathered in Adele's eyes. She had been fond of her father. As fond as he gave her opportunity to be. They had never taken time to understand each other very well. That was the old way. She was glad Jerry and Lenore regarded her as one of them and spoke to her as such. They might, with their modern young casualness, seem a trace disrespectful sometimes. But they understood each other and there was a deep and abiding love that bound them together.

It was after Tom Blodgett's death, which came after the other four girls had married and Matilda had passed on to her reward, that Adele went to New York and did the thing she had always wanted to do—get a job singing in a restaurant of prewar elegance. There she met handsome Bart Winthrope. All of the fine old Winthropes had been a little shocked when Bart brought his bride home.

But she had won them over. It was probably some last vestige of Matilda that had helped her do that.

Party

THAT night Edmund Antoine gave the supper which paid his bet to Jerry. It had to be late, after he had finished his work at Casa Marina. There were twelve couples at dinner, with a great many more invited in for dancing afterwards.

Antoine had spared nothing. He wanted to make the event something to be remembered, and she looked about the place, Pam, dancing with Jerry, felt that all of the flowers in Key West had been cut for the party and were scenting the air.

Outside Pena's the piazzas and garden were softly lighted with what looked like subdued orange lanterns, but which really were holiday lights after the old Indian custom—just brown paper bags with about three inches of sand in them to form a base and a short candle lighted and standing upright in the sand. The bags were tied at the top.

"The Indians do it in New Mexico," Jerry explained, "to light the way for the coming of Christ Child at Christmas. Isn't it beautiful?"

"Oh, it is! It's lovely! Lovely!" exclaimed Pam.

There was a fay quality about her, Jerry thought, looking down at her. All of her bright young beauty was pointed up by her happiness. Others, besides Jerry, had observed it, and he was having trouble with cut-ins.

"You're too popular," he said to her as one claimed her. "I'll have to do something about it!"

Pam smiled back at him. A girl standing next to Freda said:

"Look, all the rest of us have to work like coal heavers to get and hold a little attention. What's she got that we haven't?"

"Oh, they're just hitching their old wagons to a new star!" Freda said lightly. "It doesn't mean anything."

"That's what you think! It means the difference between a good time and a dull one. I'd like to scalp her!"

Youngsville News

ELECTION

There was a fair sized vote out Tuesday for primary election.

Local officers nominated on the Republican ticket were: Justice of the Peace, John Hutley; burgess, Warren Kay; tax collector, G. R. Ball; school director, Fred Beckenbach; auditor, R. M. Freeborough; councilmen, Leo Johnson, Gilbert Sanford, R. M. Spencer and Earl Young; judge of election, Wylls Johnson; inspector of election Kenneth Sample.

WOMEN'S GROUP NAMES OFFICERS AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 13—The Blue Circle met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Carr. At the business session officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Maye Hooven; vice president, Mrs. Mildred Jones; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Evelyn Carr.

Plans were made for finishing the afghan being made by the members. Mrs. Edna Wood was named as chairman of this project.

Mrs. Gwen Mariner assisted the hostess in serving a delicious luncheon.

TOWNSEND CLUB

Youngsville Townsend Kitchen Band and other members of the club attended the Western Penn State Convention, held recently at DuBois.

The trip was made by chartered bus. The local band was on the entertainment program. Speakers included the Mayor Wm. L. Hoover of DuBois and Representative Nonemaker.

The Founders Day program at Busti is also of local interest as Sugar Grove and Youngsville Townsend Clubs are joining with the Busti group.

BROKENSTRAW GRANGE

Brokenstraw Grange will celebrate Booster Night the evening of Sept. 30th with a good program. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hyde have charge of the lunch.

At the regular meeting, Sept. 23rd the Mountain Grange will present the Brokenstraw Grange with the traveling implement case.

That the Brokenstraw Grange is growing was shown by the initiation into 1st and 2nd degrees of four new members at the last meeting. Entertainment included a quiz on points of interest in Pennsylvania.

AIRPORT

One of the interesting things to do is to motor up to the Brokenstraw airport and see the mail plane deposit and receive mail. Of course there have been times when the plane did not pause because of lack of mail but the getting and receiving of mail does not make much difference in the speed of the plane.

Seven new solo pilots have recently acquired this ability in the flying school here. They are Russell Peck, Warren; Joe Greywitt of Cleveland; Dales Fobes, Albion; Joe LaBarr, Shippenville; Isaac Clubb and James Griffith, of Brookville.

A group from the Brokenstraw Field flew to Jamestown, Sunday to attend the rendezvous.

BRIEFS

The local Garden Club will meet Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, with Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Briggs at 7:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

Sgt. Melvin Dahl, of Westover Field, Mass., spent Tuesday afternoon as the guest of Mrs. Flora Wilcox. Melvin is a Pittsfield boy.

Plans are going forward for an evangelistic service in the Free Methodist church to open Sept. 3d and continue until Oct. 5th.

Messages will be brought by Evangelist Tessaro.

AT WARREN

A number of the members of the Lady Gray Rebekah Lodge attended the district meeting at Warren Friday afternoon and evening; also the dinner at the Y. W. C. A. at 6 o'clock.

Checking Up

Judge Sam Rosenman, above, who has finished his OPM job for the President, is reported stirring up an Army-Navy shakeup with his investigation of various officers' co-operation with the administration.

WHERE TO GET BABY VOTES

From today look for the signs, printed in red and black, appearing on the windows and in stores and offices of leading community merchants and business men. With each 50c cash purchase or payment on account you will receive a coupon at these business establishments—each coupon entitles any baby you select to votes—thus these progressive firms cooperate in helping the people elect a King and Queen of Babyland by popular vote. Always ask for Baby Votes when you make a purchase—merchants want you to have them, but ask for at the time the purchase is made. The Baby Selection starts now and ends Saturday, November 22, 1941.

STAMPS ON THE SHELVES

Beginning today and continuing through Saturday, a million stores and business establishments throughout the country, including those in Warren, co-operating in "Retailers-for-Defense" week, will offer the public a product never handled before.

They are Defense Savings Stamps, and it is hoped that thousands of Americans who seldom go into banks will see these bargains on the shelves and buy them, thus forming a habit that will benefit them, their country, and their liberties all at once.

If you know a better bargain than that, go to it, but it looks like an awfully good one to us. Remember, "To Keep 'Em Flying, Keep on Buying" U. S. Defense Savings Stamps. A million retailers are making it easier for you.

When you buy anything, any time, at any store in Warren or anywhere else — Buy Defense Savings Stamps, too!

DO YOU REMEMBER SCHLAGETER, ADOLF?

Viggo Hansteen and Rolf Wickstroem have by their death at the hands of the Nazi overlords in Norway wiped out the blot of Quisling. The two Norse labor leaders, led before a Hitler firing squad on charges of having sabotaged aganist the conquerors of their country, more than overbalance in their martyrdom the man whose name has become a synonym for treachery and shame.

Hansteen and Wickstroem! There are two more names to remember. One man should understand their "crime," and that man is Adolf Hitler. Leo Schlageter was his hero when he wrote Mein Kampf. Schlageter was a German Hansteen or Wickstroem of 20 years ago. But the shoe was on the other foot then.

Leo Schlageter had been a German artillery officer in the World War, a fellow veteran of Hitler. In 1923, five years after that war was over, the French occupied the Rhineland when Germany failed to pay reparations. A railway line between Dusseldorf and Duisburg was blown up, and Schlageter was caught in the act.

Despite appeals to the French by the Reich government and even by the Vatican, Schlageter was executed on May 26, 1923. Immediately he became a hero of all the nationalist elements in Germany, and one of the "political saints" of the early days of the Nazi party. Many a "Heil" has Hitler himself given to his hero, Leo Schlageter.

Now it is almost 20 years later. The position is now entirely reversed. Now it is Hitler whose legions trample the peoples of a dozen conquered countries. Now it is German oppression that brave men take their lives in their hands to resist. Now it is Hitler, who admired the courage and loyalty of his comrade, who is giving the orders to shoot down other Schlageters of other lands.

Hitler thought all the Schlageters were in Germany; that courage and loyalty and devotion were German. Increasingly, day after day, week after week, month after month, he is going to run against the same qualities in other peoples. In Holland, France, Belgium, and Denmark, in Yugoslavia and Greece and Czechoslovakia and Poland there are other Hansteens and other Wickstroems.

Hitler may shoot them, but he must understand them, and as each dies, may Hitler start up in his bed and look into the eyes of his old comrade, Schlageter.

Warren airport officials with the assistance of the C. of C., and a group of civic-minded citizens did an excellent job in playing host to almost 200 visitors who came here in 95 planes to participate in the Breakfast Rendezvous Sunday morning.

It was nice to see about 75 per cent of the Warren county boys with Company I who were spending the weekend with friends and relatives.

Warren's football teams provided grid fans some excellent entertainment Saturday and Sunday.

The half-way mark in September!

The Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and then he shall reward every man according to his words.—Matthew 16:27.

God gives to every man the virtue, temper, understanding, taste, that lifts him into life, and lets him fall just in the niche he was ordained to fill.—Cowper.

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—James Montgomery Flagg treats the warm weather calmly. . . . His wiry, bristly grey hair is innocent of a hat. . . . He wears rumpled gaberdines with no tie, and his collar is on the outside of his coat.

Flagg is six-feet-two and owns the bushiest eyebrows in New York. The wrinkles at the corners of his eyes are laugh wrinkles. He likes Roosevelt and the radio but hates athletics. "The word baseball makes me shudder," he recently said to Vesta Kelling during an interview. "I like neither the game, the dust, the yelling, the pop bottles, the peanut shells, nor the shirt sleeves. I must be a snob."

One of these days some motion picture producer is going to have Oliver Gramling's book, "AP—The Story of News," crammed down his throat; then he will receive credit for being an astute showman and grabbing a "natural" while his rivals weren't looking. Had Noel Coward written it (which he couldn't have, even had he wanted to) it would already be hailed as another Cavalcade. It is exactly what its title says it is—the story of news. If you like newspapers, you ought to read it. Presently Oscar Serlin is going to produce it on Broadway. There's a plum in it for the man who takes it to Hollywood.

THE seals in Rockefeller Center should be viewed from all angles. Yesterday I happened to be in the offices of the American Spirits company, high in the RCA building. Peter Siskin said, "Poke your head out the window and look at the seals." . . . I did. . . . From that distance, they seemed to be something thought up by Salvador Dali. . . . They were flat as pancakes, utterly without depth. . . . They swam and frolicked like apparitions out of a Walt Disney film.

While there I was introduced to a famous old character of the New York bar—Judge Warren Foster, whom Herbert Asbury mentions so favorably in his book "The Gangs of New York." The Judge likes to talk of Mark Twain, whom he knew, and also of Ben Butler, who won questionable fame as "Beast" Butler, military dictator of New Orleans during the Civil War and who was charged with stealing all the silver spoons in that southern metropolis. "That wasn't true," the Judge declared. "Ben Butler was greatly maligned."

The Judge also had an interesting explanation of the word "stateroom" as we know it today. Accommodations aboard ship are universally known as "cabins." In New Orleans there was one captain who had two especially fine cabins on his ship. One of these he named Louisiana and the other Mississippi. It was his custom to give these to distinguished guests. . . . If you were important, you got one of the "State" rooms. . . . That's how the word stateroom came into common use.

Yugoslavs Rejected Axis Pact, Made Peter King

THE ascendancy of 17-year-old King Peter II of Yugoslavia to the throne, March 27, 1941, infuriated Adolf Hitler, influenced him to launch his Balkan campaign with an attack on Yugoslavia.

The stage had been set for the type of Nazi infiltration that took place in Rumania and Bulgaria. Prince Regent Paul, reportedly goaded by his pro-Axis wife, Princess Olga, had signed a pact making Yugoslavia a part of the Rome-Berlin-Tokio alliance. After a night of rioting, young Peter overthrew the regency and took the throne, inciting Hitler to war.

The stamp above was issued by the government in 1933 honoring Peter, then a young prince. It was issued in connection with the 60th anniversary meeting of the National Sokols, a sports association.

Peter was born in 1923 and grew up in Belgrade. His mother was Princess Marie of Rumania, daughter and namesake of Queen Marie.

Peter was sent to England to study at the age of 11 but after only 13 days tragedy brought him home. His father, King Alexander, was assassinated as he disembarked at Marseille, France.

Peter fled to England after the German invasion this year.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—When the news of the death of Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt reached Washington the remark most often heard was that she was the most remarkable mother any President ever had.

Although never in the foreground except at a benefit for some charity, such as the Warm Springs Foundation, Mrs. Roosevelt senior was a legend in Washington. From an intimate of the family, here are three stories which illustrate traits which made her remarkable:

HER resistance to weather and her indomitable will were two characteristics which many believe she passed on to her son and which made it possible for him to rise above illness to now nearly nine strenuous years of almost perfect health in the White House.

On a bitterly cold morning in January 1931 Mr. Roosevelt was preparing to leave the Governor's mansion in Albany for New York City. The entourage was already in cars when Mrs. Roosevelt senior entered a front room.

"Where's Franklin?" she demanded. "I must talk to him."

A friend explained that he already was in his car. Mrs. Roosevelt hurried to the window, thumped the pane, signalled for the cars to wait and rushed out into the freezing weather without hat or coat. In a few moments Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt entered the room, saw her mother-in-law standing in the cold and hurried to get her coat. The friend offered to take it out. Mrs. Roosevelt explained "She would never put it on for you."

She hurried out with it, but the 76-year-old matriarch impatiently pushed it aside and finished out her talk with her son, the icy wind whipping through her gray hair. When she returned to the room her only comment was that she wouldn't stand for any coddling.

No matter that her son was President three times, he never grew up as far as she was concerned—and she never hesitated to administer a verbal spanking when she thought he needed it.

At a small family dinner, before the world situation brought a pall on White House gaiety, there was much banter going around the table. The President had been working late and had come to the table in a well-worn pair of slacks. His sons were kidding him about his disreputable pants.

"I suppose," said the President, "you would have had me come to dinner without them."

"Franklin," said the elder Mrs. Roosevelt sharply, "if there is any more such lewd talk, I will leave the table immediately."

AND finally, although President Roosevelt certainly had made himself the most famous politician of his generation, his mother never took politics seriously and didn't care a snap for diplomacy.

The late Huey Long had just come to Washington as senator. As is often the custom he was invited to a White House dinner. It was formal, and the table was long. Mrs. Roosevelt was sitting near one end of the table. The new senator was holding forth at the other and talking loudly.

Mrs. Roosevelt had become a little hard of hearing. She leaned across the table and said to her daughter-in-law "Eleanor, who is that man?" The younger Mrs. Roosevelt, fearing what might be coming by way of comment, made a shush sign and went on talking.

But the President's mother refused to be shushed. In a louder voice she repeated "Who is that man?" and added "I don't like him."

While the politicians were trying to catch their breath, Mrs. Roosevelt went calmly on with her dinner.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"I guess the captain doesn't like me—he said 'Present arms!' this afternoon and walked away!"

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM

By VIVIEN GREY

YESTERDAY: Pam Quellerton is a native of Key West, which makes her a "conch.' But to Pam the term is a compliment, for her family is as good as any that spend the winter in that gay city. And Jerry Winthrope may be a playboy, but now he is seriously in love with Pam, though Freda Barington, to whom he has been engaged for years, will not release him. She just has told him so.

Chapter Six

Insult

FRIEDA was on her feet and looking down at him.

"Lunch time," she said. "Coming?"

"Not just yet." Jerry didn't even watch her as she moved away.

Meanwhile, Pam had been busy all morning completing the largest bunch of violets she had ever made. They were lovely when she finally held out the finished bouquet to admire it. It would be perfect, she reflected, for Mrs. Winthrope's black chiffon dress. Pam had tried to do especially lovely work because they were to be a gift. Jerry's mother had been so sweet and gracious. It was still early afternoon when she stood at the desk of Casa Marina and asked for Mrs. Winthrope. The clerk telephoned and then turned to Pam.

"You may go right up," he said.

Pam followed a bellboy to the door of the Winthrope suite. Lenore opened the door.

"Oh, the little basket girl!" Lenore took the flowers. "How much are they?"

"They're a gift for Mrs. Winthrope," Pam said quietly.

"Just a minute." Lenore took the flowers and let Pam stand at the door. "For you, Mother!" She moved to a desk and picked up her purse, extracting a few silver coins, then went back to Pam.

"But I said it was a gift." Pam's words were clearly and quietly spoken.

The silver fell on the floor when Pam failed to put out her hand for it. A maid in the hall snickered and Mrs. Winthrope, coming to the door, looked at the coins and then at Lenore with something like reproof in her eyes. She had the flowers in her hand.

"Lenore! How could you!" Then to Pam: "Thank you, child. How lovely they are! How sweet of you! You've gone to a great deal of trouble for me. Won't you come in?"

"I'm so glad you're pleased." Pam's face lighted with pleasure. "And now I'll run along."

Mrs. Winthrope had seemed genuinely pleased. Pam had done something for Jerry's mother. That was enough for her.

"That Lenore's the high and mighty!" the maid said when the door of the Winthrope apartment was closed. "But aren't you going to pick up your money?"

"No, it isn't mine. It looks as if you can have it."

"Thank you!" The maid stooped swiftly to scoop up the coins and glanced after Pam as if she thought the girl had gone mad.

"Money on the floor," Pam heard her say, "and she dosn't even bother to pick it up."

But to Pam a gift was a gift. She wanted no return for it. . . .

In the suite at the hotel, Mrs. Winthrope, the violets still in her hand, turned to her daughter. Lenore was furious.

"Did you see what that little Conch girl did?" Lenore exclaimed. "Spurned my money! Made me ridiculous before that maid. Little beachcomber! Beach rat!"

Mrs. Winthrope was surveying herself in the mirror, holding the violets against her gown and finding the result pleasant to look at.

"Serves you right, Lenore," she replied. "I'm sorry to say it, dear, but that little girl didn't humiliate you at all. You did it yourself. You're altogether too high-handed. Use a little discrimination when you tip. You should have asked the girl in and treated her as a friend, not an errand girl."

"Mother! You'll talk differently when you find your son bringing you a Conch daughter-in-law!"

"That's What You Think!"

MRS. WINTHROPE turned sharply to the girl. "What do you mean, Lenore?" she demanded. "You know Jerry would never marry anyone but Freda. He's been in love with her for years. That was settled long ago. Jerry is only amusing himself."

"That's what you think!"

"Jerry's simply doing what every boy does. Flirting. It's harmless, I'm sure." She paused. "I only hope he doesn't hurt her, that she understands it's only a passing interest. She's such a sweet little thing. Pretty, too. I must speak to Jerry. Boys are so thoughtless sometimes."

"Passing interest? That's what you call it!"

"Jerry would never marry anyone but Freda. You know that, Lenore."

"Oh, I'm not saying he actually intends to marry this—this creature. But you can't tell. These little Southern girls aren't as dumb as you think. They know a good thing when they see it. She won't give Jerry up immediately, and his mother accepting gifts from her won't make it any easier for Jerry to pull out of the picture when the time comes. There may be conch shells in the Winthrope family yet!"

Adele Winthrope's eyes were doubtful as she looked at her daughter. "Well, what would you have me do? Return these flowers? Refuse to accept them?"

"I think you should. It would be the thing to do."

Adele hesitated only for an instant.

"I'm not going to. I don't see any point in hurting anyone when you don't have to. And they're beautiful. Quite unusual. I want to take them home with me."

Lenore shrugged. Adele Winthrope stared at her daughter thoughtfully.

"You have so much deviltry in you, Lenore, that sometimes I wonder how you ever happen to be your father's and my daughter. You're talking impossibilities. Jerry is a sensible boy."

"All right! Close your eyes. Refuse to see anything. But won't that be a sweet thing for Dad to face when he comes down? Conch in the Winthrope family! His ancestors will turn in their graves!" Lenore pulled on her beach coat and went out.

After she had gone, Adele Winthrope tried to dismiss the subject as too preposterous for consideration. Pam was a sweet little thing. She hoped nothing would happen that would make Pam unhappy. She must do something nice for her in return for the violets. And very soon. It had been so sweet of the child to do all that work for her.

But she surely needn't fear on the score of Jerry. He wouldn't do anything foolish. After all, he was a Winthrope. She paused a moment just there. Jerry wasn't all Winthrope. He was part Adele Blodgett. She lingered on the thought of the Blodgett girls in the little town of Shirley, Indiana.

Their father had been superintendent of the creosote plant. Their home had been a big comfortable one with plenty of food: all of the necessities, but not many frills. Adele had been the youngest of five girls in a family that had been motherless since her birth. Their father's maiden sister had tried to take the place of their mother, but had never been too successful at it.

A mist gathered in Adele's eyes. She had been fond of her father. As fond as he gave her opportunity to be. They had never taken time to understand each other very well. That was the old way. She was glad Jerry and Lenore regarded her as one of them and spoke to her as such. They might, with their modern young casualness, seem a trace disrespectful sometimes. But they understood each other and there was a deep and abiding love that bound them together.

It was after Tom Blodgett's death, which came after the other four girls had married and Matilda had passed on to her reward, that Adele went to New York and did the thing she had always wanted to do—get a job singing in a restaurant of prewar elegance. There she met handsome Bart Winthrope. All of the fine old Winthropes had been a little shocked when Bart brought his bride home.

But she had won them over. It was probably some last vestige of Matilda that had helped her do that.

Party

THAT night Edmund Antoine gave the supper which paid his bet to Jerry. It had to be late, after he had finished his work at Casa Marina. There were twelve couples at dinner, with a great many more invited in for dancing afterwards.

Antoine had spared nothing. He wanted to make the event something to be remembered, and she looked about the place, Pam, dancing with Jerry, felt that all of the flowers in Key West had been cut for the party and were scenting the air.

Outside Pena's the piazzas and garden were softly lighted with what looked like subdued orange lanterns, but which really were holiday lights after the old Indian custom—just brown paper bags with about three inches of sand in them to form a base and a short candle lighted and standing upright in the sand. The bags were tied at the top.

"The Indians do it in New Mexico," Jerry explained, "to light the way for the coming of Christ Child at Christmas. Isn't it beautiful?"

"Oh, it is! It's lovely! Lovely!" exclaimed Pam.

There was a fay quality about her, Jerry thought, looking down at her. All of her bright young beauty was pointed up by her happiness. Others, besides Jerry, had observed it, and he was having trouble with cut-ins.

"You're too popular," he said to her as one claimed her. "I'll have to do something about it!"

Pam smiled back at him. A girl standing next to Freda said:

"Look, all the rest of us have to work like coal heavers to get and hold a little attention. What's she got that we haven't?"

"Oh, they're just hitching their old wagons to a new star!" Freda said lightly. "It doesn't mean anything."

"That's what you think! It means the difference between a good time and a dull one. I'd like to scalp her!"

ELECTION

There was a fair sized vote out Tuesday for primary election.

Local officers nominated on the Republican ticket were: Justice of the Peace, John Hutley; burgess, Warren Kay; tax collector, G. R. Ball; school director, Fred Beckenbach; auditor, R. M. Freeborough; councilmen, Leo Johnson, Gilbert Sanford, R. M. Spencer and Earl Young; judge of election, Wylls Johnson; inspector of election Kenneth Sample.

WOMEN'S GROUP NAMES OFFICERS AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 13—The Blue Circle met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Carr. At the business session officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Maye Hooven; vice president, Mrs. Mildred Jones; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Evelyn Carr.

Plans were made for finishing the afghan being made by the members. Mrs. Edna Wood was named as chairman of this project.

Mrs. Gwen Mariner assisted the hostess in serving a delicious luncheon.

TOWNSEND CLUB

Youngsville Townsend Kitchen Band and other members of the club attended the Western Penn State Convention, held recently at DuBois.

The trip was made by chartered bus. The local band was on the entertainment program. Speakers included the Mayor Wm. L. Hoover of DuBois and Representative Nonemaker.

The Founders Day program at Busti is also of local interest as Sugar Grove and Youngsville Townsend Clubs are joining with the Busti group.

BROKENSTRAW GRANGE

Brokenstraw Grange will celebrate Booster Night the evening of Sept. 30th with a good program. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hyde have charge of the lunch.

At the regular meeting, Sept. 23rd the Mountain Grange will present the Brokenstraw Grange with the traveling implement case.

That the Brokenstraw Grange is growing was shown by the initiation into 1st and 2nd degrees of four new members at the last meeting. Entertainment included a quiz on points of interest in Pennsylvania.

AIRPORT

One of the interesting things to do is to motor up to the Brokenstraw airport and see the mail plane deposit and receive mail. Of course there have been times when the plane did not pause because of lack of mail but the getting and receiving of mail does not make much difference in the speed of the plane.

Seven new solo pilots have recently acquired this ability in the flying school here. They are Russell Peck, Warren; Joe Greywitt of Cleveland; Dales Fobes, Albion; Joe LaBarr, Shippenville; Isaac Clubb and James Griffith, of Brookville.

A group from the Brokenstraw Field flew to Jamestown, Sunday to attend the rendezvous.

BRIEFS

The local Garden Club will meet Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, with Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Briggs at 7:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

Sgt. Melvin Dahl, of Westover Field, Mass., spent Tuesday afternoon as the guest of Mrs. Flora Wilcox. Melvin is a Pittsfield boy.

Plans are going forward for an evangelistic service in the Free Methodist church to open Sept. 3d and continue until Oct. 5th.

Messages will be brought by Evangelist Tessaro.

AT WARREN

A number of the members of the Lady Gray Rebekah Lodge attended the district meeting at Warren Friday afternoon and evening; also the dinner at the Y. W. C. A. at 6 o'clock.

Checking Up

Judge Sam Rosenman, above, who has finished his OPM job for the President, is reported stirring up an Army-Navy shakeup with his investigation of various officers' co-operation with the administration.

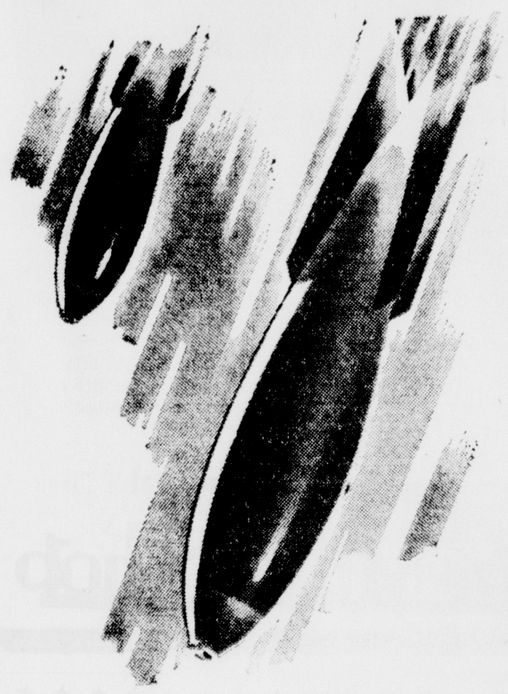
It Must Not Happen Here



They laugh at distance, these raiders in the sky. They spare no school or church or home! Their victims are the aged and the infirm, women and little babies.

But here their missiles SHALL NOT FALL!

For AMERICA is AROUSED! Our men are ARMING! Guns, tanks, and munitions pour from our factories! New ships slide into our seas! More and more planes are taking wing!
But the blessings that only we in AMERICA know must be paid for by dollars — your dollars.

To defend your home and your country, the Government asks every man and woman, every boy and girl, to LEND—not give—your SAVINGS FOR DEFENSE.

CARS DAMAGED IN AUTO CRASH AT SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Sept. 15—A car, owned and operated by Banks Heeter, of Saybrook, and another, operated by Robert Nichols, of Ludlow, collided at the intersection of routes 6 and 666 opposite the Sheffield Service Station here about 10:30 Saturday night.

Bus Edwards, of Sheffield, who received light cuts on the head and forehead, was the only person injured. He was an occupant of Heeter's car, in which Roland Heeter, of Sheffield, was a passenger also. Nichols was accompanied by Rachel Nichols, of Ludlow, and Wilma Robbins, of Warren.

Heeter, who had just left the business section of town, was enroute west to Saybrook and Nichols was enroute east to Ludlow when the mishap occurred. Damage to the cars, confined largely to the left front areas, was estimated at $100.

The accident was investigated by Sanford Secor, local police chief.

Defense Stamps As Way To Buy Bonds

United States Defense Savings Stamps provide an easy convenient method for Americans to save enough money to buy a United States Defense Savings Bond. The Stamps can be bought for a dime, a quarter, a half-dollar, a dollar, or 5 dollars. Albums are given with the purchase of your first Stamp. When your album is filled, you can exchange it readily for a Defense Bond.

A Stamp album containing 75 of the 25-cent Stamps has a total value of $18.75 and buys a Bond worth $25 in 10 years. An album filled with 75 of the 50-cent Defense Stamps represents $37.50 and buys a Bond worth $50 in 10 years. Albums containing 75 of the $1 Stamps or 15 of the $5 Stamps represent $75 and buy a Bond worth $100 in 10 years.

Regular purchase of Defense Savings Stamps is a simple and systematic way to save money. When you have exchanged your completed Stamp albums for Defense Savings Bonds, you will have put money aside where it will be safe, where it will grow, where you can get it when you need it, and where it will help National Defense.

HOW IT WAS NAMED

The great Portuguese navigator, Vasco da Gama, was born Christmas Day of 1460, and died Christmas eve of 1524. Natal, Africa, was discovered by him on Christmas Day of 1497, and he called it "Terra Natalis," or "Land of the Nativity."

BARKING DOGS

When a dog barks, he holds his head high, leaving his throat exposed. When he growls, he lowers his head, for a growl means impending attack, and the vulnerable neck is guarded by the sinking of the head.

Three Evangelical Pastors Returned To County Charges

Three Warern county Evangelical pastors were returned to their charges for another year at the closing session of the Pittsburgh Conference at Johnstown yesterday.

They are the Rev. J. C. Wygant, of Warren First church, the Rev. S. R. Schieb, of Warren Salem church, and the Rev. A. G. Meade, of Clarendon.

The conference has accepted the invitation of the Bedford street church in Johnstown to make it the 1942 conference site.

SPEEDY STARS

Our galaxy of stars is moving faster than 200 miles a second, approximately north at 45 degrees in the general direction of the star Vega, astronomers have estimated.

Annual production of brown sugar is worth $20,000,000 according to the Bureau of the Census, with 473,000,000 pounds of brown sugar refined.

PRICE OF MILK TO BE BOOSTED CENT PER QUART

Retail price of milk in Warren will be increased one cent per quart, effective tomorrow, as a result of an order received from the Pennsylvania State Milk Control Commission, it was announced here today.

The price increase is effective in all parts of Pennsylvania designated as the state-wide area.

Other areas have had price increases previously, it was stated.

It was pointed out that the one cent per quart increase will benefit the milk producers to the extent of approximately 25 cents per hundred pounds in this locality.

New retail milk prices here will be 12 cents per quart and seven cents per pint for the regular grades. Vitamin D and chocolate milk are one cent more per quart.

OBITUARY

GEORGE HILLMAN

George Hillman of York Hill, near Youngsville, died Saturday night at 8 at the Warren State Hospital, from pneumonia. He had been a patient in that hospital about five weeks. He was 80 years old, having been born on Dalrymple Hill, near Sugar Grove, the youngest son of George and Sarah Hillman. He had resided in Warren County all his life. The earlier years of his life he worked as sawer in lumber mills in the county. His only survivors are several nieces and a nephew and great-nieces and nephews. The remains were taken to the Schoonover Funeral Home in Sugar Grove, where funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 11, D.S.T. Interment will be made in the Stilson Hill Cemetery.

MRS. FLORENCE WOLF

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Florence Haag Wolf, a former Warren resident and a graduate of the Warren General Hospital nurses' training school, were held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Richmond Avenue Church of Christ in Buffalo, with her pastor, Rev. Treewallow, officiating. Friends and relatives were in attendance from Buffalo, Lakewood, Erie, Pittsburgh, Youngsville and Jamestown.

Interment was in the family plot in Oakland cemetery here at 5:30 o'clock with the Rev. Treewallow in charge of services at the grave.

JAMES WALLACE

James Wallace, Pioneer Kane resident, died early Saturday at the home of his niece, Mrs. Henry Appel, 9 Schanz street, Warren, from complications that have kept him in ill health for the past several months.

Mr. Wallace was born in Kane, May 15, 1870, when that community was in its infancy. He attended the parochial schools there and after completing his education, entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and remained with them for 45 years until his retirement six years ago. For several years he was assistant yardmaster at Kane and previous to that time he was yard conductor.

In 1895 Mr. Wallace was married to Miss Julia Dwyer, of antotheer pioneer family, whose death occurred in February, 1940. Surviving are three sons, Russell, Thomas and Mark, and two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Eld and Mrs. Charles Thomas, all of Kane. He also leaves five grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. A. A. Daly and Mrs. Mary McNamara, both of Warren.

Mr. Wallace was a charter member of the Kane Moose Lodge, a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen since its early days, and a lifelong member of St. Callistus church at Kane.

Removal was made to Kane, where services in his memory will be conducted from St. Callistus church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

HENRY W. HIGHHOUSE

Funeral services of Henry W. Highhouse, held at three o'clock Sunday afternoon at the family home in Pleasant township, were very largely attended. Rev. Edward K. Rogers, pastor of the First Lutheran church, officiated and interment was made in Oakland cemetery. Those who acted as bearers were Henry Peterson, Harold Honhart, Maynard Briggs, Harold Briggs, James Highhouse, Louis Highhouse.

Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John Highhouse, Howard Highhouse, Mary Alice Highhouse, Mr. and Mrs. David Parker, Erie; Mrs. Amelia Herrick, Ernest Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Swanson, Maynard Swanson and Dorothy Swanson, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Alland, Mrs. Dalton, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Honhart, Mr. and Mrs. George Honhart, Mr. and Mrs. Willett Shearman, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Honhart, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Briggs, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hertzel, North East; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, Bradford.

MRS. JOHN NELSON

Funeral services in memory of Florence Nelson, wife of John Nelson, of the Jackson Run road, were held at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Peterson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. J. H. Cruickshank, pastor of the North Warren Presbyterian church. Interment was made in Oakland cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: Raymond Fisk, Merle Bosworth, A. T. Bergeson, Martin Anderson, Willard Tremblay and Herbert Waite.

Attending the rites from out of town were Mrs. George Evan, Oil City; Joseph McCool, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCool, John McCool, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCool and family, Sheffield; Mr. and Mrs. Clark Harriger, Bolivar, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Ebby Nelson, Erie; Mrs. F. h. Harvey, Cleveland, O.

IRA F. SAMUELSON

Ira Frank Samuelson, local building contractor for many years, passed away this morning at eight o'clock at his home, 312 Jackson avenue. He was aged 74 years.

He is survived by his wife, Christine Sizer Samuelson; one daughter, Bernice Samuelson, at home; two brothers, Ivan L. and Norman L. Samuelson, of Akron, Ohio. One son preceded him in death nine years ago.

He was a member of the First Lutheran church. He also was a member of Warren Lodge, No. 339, I. O. O. F., and Kossuth Encampment, No. 98.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the home, 312 Jackson avenue, with the Rev. Edward Rogers officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

BIG CAKE

Every year a one-ton birthday cake is cut by a Los Angeles department store. The making of this mammoth cake requires 260 pounds of butter, 372 pounds of sugar, 382 pounds of flour, 3600 eggs, 3 quarts of vanilla and 400 pounds of icing.

INFLATED LIZARDS

Chuckwalla lizards of the southeastern deserts of the United States inflate themselves in rocky crevices. This makes it impossible to pull them out, so Indians capture them by puncturing their bodies with wires.

ABOUT GYPSIES

The first gypsy tribe left India some 2500 years ago, but it was not until the 15th century that a band of the gayly dressed wanderers made their first appearance in western Europe.

FRENCH TRUFFLES

Hogs are trained to locate and dig up truffles in France. The truffle is an underground fungus, used for omelets, sauces, poultry dressings and other dishes.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Around Metro these days there's a noticeable palpitation, an excitement. Their new "discovery," Miss Shirley Temple, has started her first picture, "Kathleen."

"What do you think of our new little star?" asked one of the Metroites after I'd been over to inspect. "We've got great hopes for her."

Well, that's Metro for you. Miss Temple has arrived. She is working for Leo the Lion. Leo has great hopes for a little fellow who led the box-office parade for four consecutive years, earned millions for 20th Century-Fox and tucked a couple away for herself and Uncle Sam.

Miss Temple, of course, is making a comeback. About 15 months ago, she retired to the calm of home and private school life, attending an exclusive school for girls where, next semester, she will enter the ninth grade.

There was a general impression abroad that the young lady was "washed up" in pictures, due to the fact that in a stellar rating she had slipped from first to fifth. The Temples quietly did their own slipping out of the movie scene. The offers came, and Metro's was the first accepted. She will make two movies a year, one in vacation, one during school, at about $65,000 per.

A FIRST look at Shirley after 15 months is startling. She's on the verge of what is usually called "radiant young womanhood." Not exactly streamlined, but most of the childish plumpness is gone. Her once curly golden hair is now brown. I remember, when it began to turn several years ago as Mrs. Temple said it would, it was practically as sensational an item as, in its day, the bobbing of Mary Pickford's curls.

"I think," said Shirley seriously, "that there are more brunettes than blondes now, anyway."

Mention of the "awkward age" in connection with Miss Temple is rather ridiculous. Shirley is in it, now, of course, but she can't seem to be awkward about it. As we were talking, a delegation of visitors, including two priests, arrived. Miss Temple excused herself to greet them, and for the next five minutes, alone and unprompted, she held pleasant court, as poised as a duchess, as unaffected as a baby.

IT WAS like old times when Shirley went back into her scene: Mrs. Temple sitting on a stool watching, and Shirley's stand-in and friend of old, Mary Lou Islieb, back at work. "I don't need to watch her any more," said Mrs. Temple, "but I'm just interested."

Through force of habit, perhaps, Mrs. Temple would make a suggestion here or there, aside to Shirley. But that was all.

The Temples were delighted with "Kathleen," with Director Harold Bucquet and with the cast—Laraine Day, Herbert Marshall among others. Said Mrs. Temple: "Shirley won't have to carry the whole burden this way—and she shouldn't have to."

Little Miss Temple, Metro's discovery, went trouping through another scene. I too think Metro "has something there."

KIDDIE MODE HAS TWO VERSIONS

Pattern 4885

By Anne Adams

First-in-fashion for little youngsters is Pattern 4885 in both of its charming versions. Anne Adams designed this frock with a clever yoke accented either by simple embroidery or made of a contrasting fabric. In the contrast version the short sleeves, front and back yokes and the center-front panel are made of a different fabric, perhaps plain contrasted with check. The other version is all of one fabric—a motif for the flower embroidery and directions are included with the helpful Sew Chart. There is an optional sash belt beginning at the front panel and tying in the back. Both frocks use button trim in front but open at the back.

Pattern 4885 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6, dress all one fabric, takes 2 yards 35 inch fabric; other dress, 1⅝ yards 35 inch fabric and ⅞ yard contrast.

Pattern 4887 is available in sizes semall (32-34), medium (36-38), and large (40-42). Small size takes 3¼ yards 35 inch fabric.

Mid-afternoon Church Ceremony Unites Miss Mary Martha Taylor and Kenneth E. Carlson

White gladioli, candelabra and palms were used in pretty decoration of the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon, when Miss Mary Martha Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Taylor, 600 Henry street, became the bride of Kenneth E. Carlson, of Cleveland, O., son of Albert Carlson, of Sheffield. Dr. Harold C. Warren read the ceremony.

As guests were assembling, Marcus Naylor played the following selections for an organ recital: "Fanfare in D" by Lemmens, adagio from First Sonata by Mendelssohn, allegro vivace from the "Water Music Suite" by Handel, "Ave Maria" by Schubert; "Gavotte" by Wesley, chorale prelude "Dearest Jesus, We Are Here" by Bach and "I Love You Truly" by Bond. In addition, he played the Wagner and Mendelssohn wedding marches and, softly during the ceremony, "O Perfect Love," Scott-Gatty. Miss Bessie Strickland, soprano, sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg and "Still As the Night" by Bohm.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and had as her attendants her sisters, the Misses Bernice and Gladys Taylor, and Miss Elaine Koebley. Others in the bridal party were Roy A. Carlson, of Harrisburg, as best man; Ardelle T. Saylor, of Warren, and Robert L. Jones, of Sheffield, as ushers.

The bridal gown of white satin was fashioned with sweetheart neckline, leg o' mutton sleeves, and lace panels in skirt and train. A lace tiara held her fingertip veil and a lavender orchid centered her shower bouquet of white roses. Attendants' gowns were of taffeta, with short sleeves and peplums, the maid of honor wearing blue and the others pink. All carried bouquets of pink roses and had matching fresh flowers in their hair.

A reception followed at the Philomel Club, when Mrs. Taylor received about 70 guests in a green crepe jacket dress with which she wore a corsage of red roses.

Appointments were carried out in white, with a three-tier wedding cake, decorated with miniature bridal couple, and white gladioli.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Phillips and family, Olean, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carlson, Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Justin Sheddy, Fredonia, N. Y.; Mrs. Lina Phillips, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Offerle, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkins, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shoop, Corry.

For a wedding trip to Harrisburg and eastern Pennsylvania, Mrs. Carlson chose a black wool frock with jacket, black accessories and the orchid from her bride's bouquet. After September 22, the couple will be at home at 1242 Rozelle avenue, Cleveland.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school in 1936 and has been employed by the New Process Company. Mr. Carlson, alumnus of Sheffield High School in the same year, is employed with the war department, Cleveland ordnance district, Cleveland.

Following an announcement party given by her mother, the bride-elect was entertained with a dinner at Gretchen's Kitchen in Jamestown by Angeline Cosentino, Mrs. Elsie Stewart and Mrs. Margaret Briggs; a dinner at the Y. W. C. A. by the New Process credit department; miscellaneous shower by Martha Schwartz and Elaine Koebley; kitchen shower by Bernice and Gladys Taylor; miscellaneous shower by Janet Ross and Mary Betty Trusler; miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Helen V. Peterson and Mrs. Glayds Carlson. Mrs. Taylor gave the rehearsal party at the family home Friday evening. A stag party was arranged for the bridegroom by Sheffield and Warren friends.

Smith and Althaus Marriage On Friday

Miss Ila Althaus and Raymond Smith, both of Warren, were united in marriage in St. Joseph's rectory at eleven o'clock Friday morning, according to announcement made today. Father Edward Jacobs performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length frock of blue with matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of red roses and blue delphinium. She was attended by her sister, Miss Wanda Hoskins, who wore black, black accessories and a shoulder corsage of yellow roses and baby's breath.

Mr. Smith was attended by Edwin Smith, also of Warren.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served in Jamestown, N. Y. After a short wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canadian points, the couple will reside at 206 East street.

A number of shower parties have been given for the bride-elect. The latest was given by Mrs. Hazel Homan, who entertained a few friends at her home on Jackson street extension last Wednesday afternoon. The honored guest received some lovely gifts for her new home from Mrs. Joseph Maley, Mrs. Freda Mathis, Mrs. Mendal Hunter and the hostess, Mrs. Homan.

Community Council Opens Season Sale For Drama Tickets

Mrs. Fred Schuler, who is general chairman for this year's Clare Tree Major play presentations by the Community Council P. T. A., announces that the season ticket sale gets under way today.

Chairmen who have been appointed for the various schools in the borough are as follows:

Jefferson, Mrs. John Harrington; McClintock, Mrs. James Scalise; Lacy, Mrs. Arthur McDonald; Seneca, Mrs. Hjalmar Forsgren; Home Street; Mrs. R. W. Carlson; East Street, Mrs. William Bennett, Jr.; South Street, Mrs. Quay McCune.

The plays are always given at four o'clock in the afternoon in the high school auditorium, a plan that allows the younger children to enjoy these dramatic productions without being out in late evening.

An advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue gives further information concerning the season ticket sale plan.

Announcement Made By Concert Unit Of Tentative Artists

The annual membership canvass of the Warren Concert Association got under way over the weekend and will continue through Saturday of this week, with nearly 40 workers participating in the enrollment.

Although no definite announcement can be made until the campaign for members is concluded, Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, president of the association, announced today that the committee has in prospect a very good array of talent for presentation this season. If the present membership is maintained in this week's campaign, the officials will present for three attractions the following:

Frederick Jagel, leading tenor for Italian roles in the Metropolitan Opera since 1927 and just home from a most successful summer concert tour in South America.

The Curtis String Quartet, farfamed for its annual summer festivals of chamber music in Captain Eell's Boat Barn at Rockport, Me., and in Acadia National Park, while its winter four-and-five-concert series in Philadelphia, Newark, Wilmington and Baltimore are entirely sold out weeks in advance.

Sidney Foster, young American pianist and first winner of the Leventritt Foundation Award, who was heard in a brilliant concerto with the New York Philharmonic this spring.

CHURCH REVIVALS

SERVICES CONTINUING

Services at the revival center will continue each evening at eight o'clock except Wednesday evening. The Rev. F. O. LeLaCheur, who has been speaking on prophetic subjects, will continue his lectures from the Bible chart. Thursday evening a special program will be held for young people. Tonight the service will be in keeping with the defense program to be emphasized in the city.

Family Reunions

STEEN AND BATTIN

The Steen and Battin reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steen at Petroleum Center on Sunday, September 21. There will be a basket picnic and chicken is to feature the menu. All relatives of the above families are urged to be present to make this first reunion a success.

MATHIS FAMILY

Members of the Mathis families gathered Sunday at Lloyd Jones' camp, Bubbling Springs at Cherry Grove, for their first reunion. There were about 90 present, including the following from away:

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Host and sons, Jim, John and Jay, of Salamanca, N. Y.; Clara Mathis Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold, Florence Mathis Hammond and daughter, Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hermann, Rochester, N. Y.

It was decided to make the gathering an annual affair and the following officers were elected: President, Dewey Baldensperger; vice president, Lloyd Jones; secretary-treasurer, B. H. Mathis; historian, Ella Jones.

Entertainment included games for the younger folks and ball games for the elders and a picnic dinner was greatly enjoyed by the entire gathering.

Quick Facts About U. S. Savings Bonds

A United States Defense Savings Bond is proof that you have loaned money to the government for national defense. The full faith and credit of the United States government are pledged for payment of principal and interest on each bond.

The Treasury has divided Defense Bonds into three groups, series E, F and G. These Bonds may be obtained for cash, or in exchange for Defense Savings Stamps.

For example, a Stamp album containing 75 of the 25-cent Defense Stamps represents $18.75 and buys an E Bond worth $25 in 10 years. An album filled with 75 of the 50-cent Defense Stamps represents $37.50 and buys an E Bond worth $50 in 10 years. Albums containing 75 of the $1 Defense Stamps of 15 of the $5 Defense Stamps represent $75 and buy an E bond worth $100 in 10 years.

Series F and Series G of the Defense Savings Bonds are for persons or corporations accustomed to investing larger earnings and are available in denominations from $100 to $10,000.

Demand for a recent Department of Commerce report on use of the United States flag in commerce necessitated a second edition.

Sugar Grove

Sugar Grove, Sept. 10—The W. C. T. U. met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Claude Davis, with Mrs. Mabel Dallas presiding. The group voted to sell glass knives and discussed plans for a convention with a state speaker in the near future. The hostess served refreshments.

Among the students who are entering college within a few days are Miss Felice Hagberg, Harold Landin and Laurence Olson, at Houghton College; Miss Helen Abbott, at Jamestown Business College; Charles Swanson and Curtis Norbeck, at State College.

Miss Jane Abbott has resigned her position at Blackford County Hospital at Hartford City, Ind., and accepted a position as technician at Butler Memorial Hospital at Butler.

Stuart Cumming and friend, Lloyd Merrill, of Greenfield, Mass., returned to their home Friday, after being guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cumming. They were accompanied by Mr. Cumming's sister, Mrs. George Wholeben, of Warren, who will be the guest of her brother and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Byrd, of Hartford City, Ind., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Abbott. The two couples spent Friday at Niagara Falls.

Laurence Dalrymple spent the weekend at Canton, O. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Dalrymple, who had spent the week with relatives in Canton and at the Ohio state fair at Columbus.

Mrs. Charles Swanson and son and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kooman, of Jamestown, spent Sunday at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Abbott accompanied their daughter, Jane, to Butler Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Edlund, at Russellton, Pa.

Miss Marie Norbeck, who has been suffering from a foot infection, was able to return to her duty as a member of the new class at W. C. A. training school Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sherrard and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sherrard and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Keiffer and family, of Tionesta.

Many Sugar Grove families are inconvenienced by a shortage of water, as many wells are dry. One of the old wells on the condensery property has been opened and a pump placed on it, as many in that vicinity are without water.

Mrs. Cora Broughton and daughter, Flossie, have returned to Lakewood, N. J., after spending the summer here. Miss Broughton will resume her work on the faculty of Lakewood High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hendershott, of Rockland, Pa., were week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thompson.

PHOBIAS

FEAR is the greatest enemy of mankind. It is a poison that affects the entire physical being. One of the most useful and constructive functions of medical science is to combat FEAR, as far as possible.

In training children, modern methods stress that everything put into a child's mind to instill FEAR is harmful to mental and physical development. Parents should cultivate confidence and fearlessness in every sense.

However, the fears of "phobias" of grown-ups are just as harmful and nerve-wracking as those of childhood. The man who lives with the fear of failure, losing his job, money reverses, disease, of being discovered in some situation—sooner or later will pay physical toll.

A famous specialist on nerve diseases once said that "a contented man does not drink—he does not need to escape his fears." Whether or not that is true, the average physician can testify that fear is one of the most potent factors he has to combat in high blood-pressure, nervousness, and many other physical ailments. Your physician can help you to overcome many of your "phobias" or FEARS, if you will give him the opportunity. Keep up your mental health as well as your physical well-being.

BROWN AND BIZZARO STAND OUT FOR CHAMPS AS THEY HANG UP FIRST CONQUEST OF CAMPAIGN

The Red Jackets opened their ason yesterday with an impres- ve 20-0 victory over the Home- ood Community Club, one of the appiest teams ever to come out the Pittsburgh district of sand- t grid outfits, and though the als have lots of room for im- rovement, show that the team is ing to be a powerhouse if it de- lops as it should.

Playing without the services of Brud" Murphy, Jamestown, and Ken" Whisner, who were Red acket contributions to this ris- ng eastern pro football power nown as the New York Yankees, he Reese-Paris aggregation pulled ome nifty plays that gave the ans an entertaining fracas which asn't marred greatly by various rrors, mainly fumbles committed y both outfits.

The game was hardly under way efore the Red Jackets had drawn lood, and they hinted that it was oing to be a quick rout of the ighter opponents. Harry Ganza, 45-pound fullback from Erie, re- urned the opening kickoff from he 20 to 36 yard line in Jacket erritory, then romped through he Homewood team to the visit- rs' 37 on the first play. Brad- ord's Joe Bizzaro gained a yard, anza added three and Warnie heck teamed his southpaw pass- g arm with Bizzaro's fine run- ing for a 37 yard aerial and run r a touchdown. Harry Rosequist icked the point.

Highly inspired by the quick ore, both the Jackets and fans emed to be looking for easy oing, but from there on till the ird period, the Community Club- rs braced themselves and threw ack attack upon attack in stag- g a beautiful defense.

Not until the fading minutes of he third quarter did the western ennsylvania semi-pro champs get to another scoring position and ien Bizzaro swept right end for even yards and a score, with Rosey" again booting the point.

The play was set up by a sev- nty-yard drive, starting with amestown's Louis DeSantis re- irning a punt from the Warren to 44 yard stripe. Harold rown fumbled the center on the xt play, recovered and passed Blossey, after nearly being apped, for sixteen yards and a rst down on the Homewood rty. Martines added another rst down with a 27 yard run round right end placing the ball the Homewood 13.

Bizzaro tried the line twice for ree yards, tossed a pass which as knocked down by Sonny immer, and then crossed the line.

Midway in the final canto hompson intercepted a Warren ass on the Homewood thirty, re- rned to the 35 where he was hit rd and fumbled. Graham recov- ed on the Homewood 37 yard ne for Warren.

A pass from Check to Johnny arnes, fleet end from Corry, gave ne locals a first down on the urteen, and another toss from heck to Clair Ward, North War- n Jacket prospect, added anoth- first down on the four yard ne, after Warren had drawn a 15 rd penalty for holding. The pass Ward was good for 24 yards.

"Bullet Bill" Graham hit the cen- r of the line to place the ball the one yard stripe, and scor- on the following play through ft guard. Warnie Check tried to ot the point but failed.

The Jackets came back strong ter the kickoff and were threat- ing to score again, having the ll on the visitors' three yard line the game ended.

Next week the Pace Athletic ub from the Pittsburgh district, aturing the popular "Whitey" owle, is slated to be the Red ckets' opponent, and a week om Wednesday night the locals ll play their first of four games der the arcs in Corry.

Soose and Garcia In Bout Tonight

BY ROBERT MYERS

Los Angeles, Sept. 15—(AP)—Middleweight Champion Billy Soose planks his prestige, if not his title, on the line tonight in a 12-round outdoor fight to a decision with bronze-skinned Ceferino Garcia, veteran Filipino with the famed so-called bolo-punch.

Good looking Billy, fromer Penn State College boxer and owner of one of the most gifted lefthands in the fight business, goes into the ring a slight betting favorite to outpoint Garcia, who held Soose's New York-Pennsylvania recognized world title in 1939-40.

PHILLIES MAY BE PURCHASED BY NEW GROUP

BY SID FEDER

New York, Sept. 15—(AP)—Although no one involved will make a peep about it yet, it was learned today that a group of men headed by John B. Kelly, former world champion oarsman, is interested in buying the Philadelphia Phillies.

The story is that Kelly, a Philadelphia Democratic leader and now national chairman for civilian physical training, and Jim Peterson, who pitched for Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics about a decade ago, are the guiding lights in the attempt to purchase the National League's chronic cellar dwellers.

Eagles and Lions Drop Grid Games

BY TOM SILER

Chicago, Sept. 15—(AP)—Earle (Greasy) Neale and Big Bill Edwards, two highly successful college coaches, still were a bit dazed today by their rude reception in the National Football League.

Each made his competitive bow over the weekend with almost identical results—crushing defeat by two of the most improved and powerful elevens in the 10-team circuit.

Neale, former backfield coach at Yale, saw the stream-lined New York Giants smear the first edition of his Philadelphia Eagles 24 to 0, before 38,747 at Philadelphia Saturday night. Curly Lambeau's Green Bay Packers were no more hospitable to Edwards, rolling over his Detroit Lions, 23 to 0, yesterday afternoon.

Hogan Ties DiMag With 56 Straight

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 15—(AP)—You'll probably be hearing a lot from now on about Lloyd Mangrum, the golfer from Monterey Park, Calif.

The 157-pound slugger came to Atlantic City the other day with the prediction that he'd walk off with top money in the first $5,000 Greater Atlantic City Open Tournament. He hit 1,000 in the prediction league, taking the lead with a seven-under-par 65 on the first round and never going above par as he wound up with 69-69-72 for a total of 275.

Ben Hogan, the year's leading money-winner, and Vic Ghezzi tied for second with 281's. Jack Grout of Pittstown, Pa., and Lawson Little of San Francisco were another stroke back while Denny Shute, Horton Smith and Tony Penna had 283's.

Dodgers Win, Lose Half Game As Cards Sweep Doubleheader

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It will be some time before baseball produces two gamer, more stout-hearted teams than the pair now locked in battle for the National League championship. The fact is emphasized anew daily as the Dodgers and the Cards go into the final furious fortnight.

If either of them intended to crack, yesterday offered a beautiful opportunity. Both contenders ran into superb pitching and both trailed at one time or another, but when the dust settled last night they both had won their games and still were breathing defiance.

The St. Louis gang perhaps displayed the sterner fighting qualities in overcoming the Giants twice by scores of 1 to 0 and 6 to 5, the second tussle going 10 innings. Carl Hubbell, still a master craftsman, held them to three hits in the opener, but they put one run across with a Giant misplay to score and give the veteran Lon Warneke a richly deserved triumph.

They went into the ninth frame of the second game trailing by two runs, but they knocked Cliff Melton from the hill to tie it up and then won out in the 10th on an error by Dick Bartell with the sacks filled.

LEW JENKINS HURT

Little Ferry, N. J., Sept. 15—(AP)—Lew Jenkins, lightweight boxing champion, was injured today when his motorcycle slid off the roadway at a traffic circle.

Jenkins, training at Pompton Lakes for a non-title fight October 6 in New York with Welterweight Titleholder Freddie Cochrane, was treated at Hackensack hospital for contusions and abrasions. His condition was described as not serious by hospital attaches.

The double win enabled the Cards to reduce Brooklyn's lead to a game and a half, despite the Dodgers' hard-earned 7 to 5 victory over Cincinnati. The margin is certain to be changed one way or the other today, as the Cards take a rest while the Dodgers have another shot at the Reds.

The defeat nearly cost Cincinnati third place in the National. Pittsburgh won its first game with the Phils 2 to 1 and appeared to have the nightcap sewed up until the Phils suddenly blasted loose for five runs in the ninth inning to win 6 to 3.

The Chicago Cubs split a pair with the Boston Braves. The Braves blasted 15 hits to take the first 6 to 3, but absorbed a 10-3 licking in the second.

Young Sid Hudson turned in the day's feature piece in the American League, yielding only four hits in pitching Washington to a 2-0 shutout over Detroit.

The Cleveland Indians hopped on Marv Breuer for five runs in the eighth inning to win the second game from the Yanks, 5 to 2, after losing the first 6 to 3 on George Selkirk's homer with two aboard.

The Boston Red Sox virtually clinched second place by taking a pair from Chicago, 9-2 and 5-2, and their great first-baseman, Jimmy Foxx, carved himself a hunk of baseball record by running his runs-batted-in total to 102. It marks the 13th year he has passed 100, tying the record held by the late Lou Gehrig.

St. Louis shoved the Philadelphia Athletics into the cellar by sweeping a doubleheader 7-2 and 5-1.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press

Billy Herman, Dodgers—His ninth-inning homer provided the winning run over Cincinnati.

Lon Warneke and Coaker Triplett, Cardinals—Warneke pitched 1-0 shutout victory over Giants to keep Cards in race, Triplett made four hits in second game and scored winning run.

Bobby Bragan, Phillies—His single with bases loaded in ninth beat Pittsburgh, 6 to 3, to earn even break in doubleheader.

Jimmy Foxx, Red Sox—Ran his runs-batted in total to 102, marking 13th consecutive year he has knocked in more than 100 runs and tying record held by late Lou Gehrig.

SHEFFIELD HIGH IS EASY WINNER AT WATERFORD

Sheffield, Sept. 15—Piling up points in every period of the game, the Sheffield H. S. Wolverines opened their 1941 grid campaign here Saturday afternoon with a 61 to 0 conquest of plucky but outweighed and outmanned Waterford Hi, Erie County Class B. Conference eleven.

The locals directed this season by a new coach, Joe Massa, former Kinzua H. S. mentor, started their big scoring spree almost immediately after the opening kickoff, Captain Don Lyle racing 44 yards on the third play from scrimmage for the first touchdown.

Ere the game was over, Lyle notched 2 additional six-pointers and an extra point, but the locals' big scoring gun was Lowell "Blitzkrieg" Blake, six-foot, 180-pound fullback who tallied 5 touchdowns and a pair of extra points for a total of 32 for his afternoon's work.

"Big 15" Will Have No Champ This Year

Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 15—(AP)—There won't be a championship at stake in the East Central Pennsylvania Interscholastic Football Conference this year.

Representatives of the "Big 15" have voted against naming a champion because at least nine of the members schools have been forced to curtail training periods and schedules by the outbreak of infantile paralysis.

The conference also decided that no member school affected by a quarantine could open its season until 15 school days after the ban has been lifted.

The conference includes Steelton, Lebanon, York, Lancaster, Bethlehem, Allentown, Shamokin, Sunbury, Williamsport, Hazleton, Reading, Pottsville and William Penn and John Harris high schools of Harrisburg.

BLUE AND WHITE IMPRESSIVE ON GROUND; YELLOW JACKETS SCORE TWICE ON LONG JAUNTS

Three teams were impressive in Saturday's high school tussle on Russell Field, the Girard Yellow Jackets and the Warren High varsity and third team, as the locals pounded out a 26-13 verdict over Joe Leson's warriors before a crowd of 1300 school grid fans.

Concentrating on a ground attack which netted 256 yards, the Blue and White crossed the visitors' goal line once in every period to cop the decision easily, and leave plenty of time in the ball game for experimenting with some of the younger candidates.

The Leidigmen hit their stride early in the first quarter, started a drive on the Girard forty-five, and completed it with a line plunge by Albert Salerno from the two yard line for the first touchdown with only a third of the period gone. A pass from Don Sharp to Adams added the extra point.

The two teams battled back and forth, with the Dragons carrying the play and being on the offensive most of the time until the second quarter, when they again found the range and added another score.

Davern, Girard left halfback, fumbled on his own 27 yard line on the first play after Don Sharp had punted into the end zone early in the canto, and Warren recovered the ball. Bob Sedon tossed a pass to Sharp for a first down on the Girard 12, Sharp gained four on a line play, and then Sedon's heave to Frank Peterson was complete for the tally. A bad center was picked up by Sedon, but he failed to make the point.

After the half, during which time the local high school band made its first appearance on the field and gave an outstanding performance which was applauded by the crowd, both teams settled down to scoring.

Midway in the third stanza the Yellow Jackets, waiting for an opening all afternoon, caught the Dragons napping and Davern skirted right end, cut back diagonally across the field and raced thirty-seven yards for the first Girard touchdown. Hopkins couldn't reach Stearns' pass for the point, but the underdogs had crossed Warren's goal.

With reserves in and out, the locals kept pounding away at a tiring Yellow Jacket line and late in the third quarter scored themselves on another short plunge by Salerno which capped a drive started from Warren's sixteen where Don Sharp caught a punt and returned it to the 41 yard line in Dragon territory. Staying on the ground, the Blue and White juggernaut wasn't molested until it had gained its objective.

Coach Leidig sent the second team in by droves in the fourth quarter and with a few varsity men still playing against Leson's crew, Warren added their final six-pointer. A blocked punt recovered by Fred Irwin, reserve end for the Dragons, gave them possession of the ball on the Girard 28. Four line plays, interrupted by a five yard penalty against Warren for the backfield being in motion, took the ball to the one yard line, and Marasco hit the center to score. Bob Sedon this time hit off right guard for the point.

Immediately following the play the third team went into the lineup. George "Bugs" Wells kicked off to Girard and Stearns took the ball, handed it to Davern on a reverse, and the entire Warren reserve outfit was caught off guard as the latter player raced along the south sidelines 60 yards to a touchdown. Stearns plunged for the point and the scoring was over.

But following the kickoff the third team had a chance to show their wares—and show them they did. With Gusty Arrigo pacing the way, they ripped off two first downs and thirty-seven yards in seven plays, a fumble losing four yards and being held on the first play to no gain. Arrigo banged his way through the line in four tries, used his speed and shiftiness to advantage in gaining thirty-two yards alone.

They finally lost the ball to Girard, but the Jackets couldn't move against them and were being held at a standstill as the game ended.

Industrial Loop Starts Tonight

The bowling season will be officially ushered in tonight on the Arcade Alleys when the Industrial League's eight entries pound away at each other for victories in their respective initial starts.

At 7 p. m. Bab's Barbers engage Millie's Inn on slides 1-2, and the National Forge Forge Shop entertain the N. F. O. Heat Treat on 3-4. At 9 p. m. the Butter Krust keglers battle Sherwood Refinery, 1-2, and the Times-Mirror goes against Wm. Crossett, Inc., team on 3 and 4.

Tomorrow evening there will be a special match held between Struthers-Wells teams and an important City League meeting at the Arcade at eight o'clock.

Wednesday the Struthers-Wells circuit starts its season and Thursday night the Commercial Leaguers kick the lid off their campaign.

In a special match rolled over the weekend, the National Forge defeated Valone's Cleaners 2275 to 2184.

Governor's Cup Won By Bradford's Bees

Bradford, Sept. 14—(AP)—The second-place Bradford Bees of the Pony League won the Governor's Cup today by whipping fourth-place Hamilton, Ont., 19-4, to take the best-of-seven playoff series, four games to one. Bradford, farm club of the Boston Braves, previously had defeated Hamilton 5-3, 3-0 and 8-7. Hamilton's 3-2 victory was a seventeen-inning game. Bradford won Saturday night, 8 to 7, in ten innings. Schoette and Cardoni pitched for the winners and Wargo and Mochuk for the losers.

The playoff cup is given by the governors of New York, Pennsylvania and the governor-general of Canada.

The pennant-winning Jamestown Falcons were eliminated by Hamilton, three games to two, in the semi-final playoffs, and Bradford also beat third-place Batavia, three games to two.

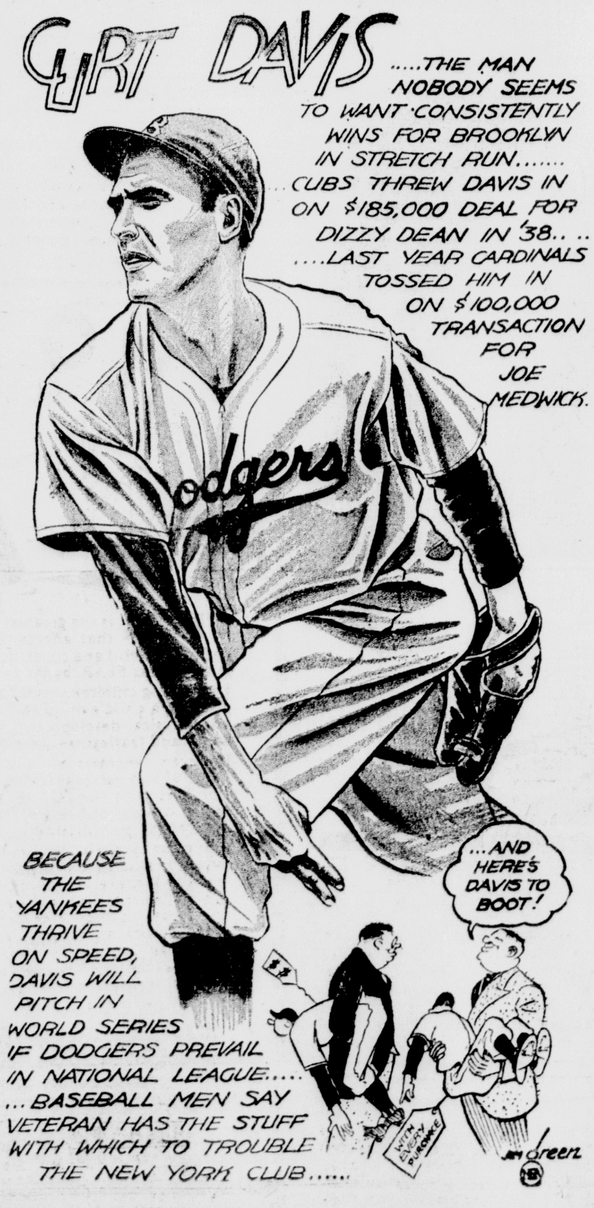
Rec. Center Softball Team To Be Honored

The Recreation Center, runners-up to the K. of C. for this summer's City League softball championship, will be honored Thursday evening at the club rooms with a banquet.

More complete plans will be announced later, but every team member and several specially invited guests of honor are expected to make the banquet an enjoyable affair.

The banquet will be the club's token of appreciation for the efforts of the players in their diamond hunt for softball fortunes during the recent campaign.

They were first half champions, but lost out to the Caseys in a three-game playoff series after walloping the champions in the first game.



SHIFTY GUSTY ARRIGO MAY BE "FIND" OF SEASON ON DRAGON SQUAD; JACKET TEAM UNSTEADY BUT SHOULD PROGRESS

What may have been the "find" of the season for the local scholastic football squad, was the discovery made Saturday when diminutive Gusty Arrigo was given a chance to show his wares against Girard and did so—but good. The speedy, shifty runner tore off thirty-two yards in four chances with the ball, averaging eight yards a try and doing better than that because he was held to no gain on the first play. His longest run was a seventeen yard dash against the amazed Yellow Jackets and the youngster showed in that run, as in his others, that he's a natural runner and may be transformed into one of the finest backs ever to play under Leidig. Only a sophomore in high school, the youth will have two more seasons and possibly will see more action this campaign. He made that outstanding yardage with the third team line, made up of large boned boys but with little meat over them yet, and sadly outweighed by the Jackets. Yet they opened good sized holes that anyone could run through, but after once through the line, the runner had to make for himself. Had Arrigo had the varsity blocking for him, this corner will wager he'd have done even better, and we hope he gets a chance to show his goods with the varsity line making the way before the season is all over.

Though a case of fumbleitis and the New York grid Yankees' taking two good candidates for the Red Jackets didn't do "Doc" Reese's squad any good, the local outfit showed fans that it can develop into a real powerhouse this season in a couple of weeks, once they get used to playing together and learn the plays better. Whisner and Brud Murphy, a Jamestown gridder, are the two who received Yankee contracts, and if the club gets going the Yanks will probably be back to pick off a couple of more of Reese and Paris' charges. The Jackets must be a farm club of the Yanks though they haven't come to any working agreement. But back to the club we do have presently Brown, Bizzaro, Check and Ganza make up a good backfield combination and there is little to worry about on the line. The club was impressive in Sunday's game and could have added one or two more touchdowns if the strongest eleven had been left on the field throughout the contest, but the iracas, as we said in Saturday's paper, was an experiment, and a valuable one to the two Jacket coaches. Every man had his opportunity to do what he could, and from where we sat they all did a pretty fair job. So, when they get going, everything should be fine, and this year's Jacket team, we don't believe, will have to take a back seat because of any former aggregation's fortunes.

Grid-ironing . . . Joe Massa visited our sanctum last evening to tell us that the reason for that score of 61-0 rolled up by his Sheffield Wolverines over Waterford was due to the latter club having only thirteen players . . . and while in here, took time to worry about Johnsonburg High which is one of the high spots, and tough games carded for the Orange and Black this year . . . Joe also told us that he could put out a really fine club if some of the boys going to Sheffield High lived closer . . . Many are from rural districts . . . After seeing the police expel a couple of tear-eyed youngsters at Saturday's high school football encounter, we offer the suggestion that all grade school children be admitted free to the games and a special section be set aside for them . . . This would take in all pupils in local schools until they entered Beaty school . . . After all a kindness to a small child can't be measured in dollars and cents, and the athletic association of W. H. S. doesn't need money so badly that these tots should be forced to pay a quarter each week . . . And who knows when one day several of them may be future scholastic stars on the gridiron? . . . Until tomorrow, chew that over for awhile. . . .

Axis Drive Against Russian Crimea Said To Be Contemplated

last Friday, the Russians admitted they had withdrawn from Chernigov, 80 miles north of Kiev between the Dnieper and Desna rivers.

The Soviet communique said the rail junction of Kremenchug, 175 miles below Kiev, had been evacuated after days of fierce fighting and thus the Russians admitted for the first time a German crossing of their natural bastion in the Ukraine, the Dnieper river.

However, the Germans some time ago claimed they had crossed the lower Dnieper and captured Zaporozhe, 140 miles southeast of Kremenchug.

In Helsinki, Vaino Tanner, minister of trade and communications and leader of the dominant Social Democratic party in Finland, declared there are "good hopes of peace in the nearest future."

He stressed that Finland was an ally of Germany "only by accident" and that Finland would fight only as long as her interests demanded.

The British had virtually no aerial activity on their home front. Only one plane was reported officially to have dropped bombs on a northeast coast town, during the night, causing slight damage and some casualties.

But the weekend found British bombers ranging from Norway to the Mediterranean.

Seeds of revolt against the German conquest continued to sprout over the weekend.

In Croatia, the explosion of four time-bombs in Zagreb's central telephone exchange and blasts from machine-gun snipers elsewhere in the capital wounded two-score persons, including a German army major.

A German lieutenant, four Nazi soldiers and a German telephone operator also were injured.

In German-occupied Norway, between 250 and 300 labor union leaders were reported to have been arrested in the Oslo region following labor troubles which led to the German decree of a civil state of siege last week.

Advices reaching Stockholm said a mass strike in the Oslo district by 40,000 workers precipitated the decree.

On the North African war front, long quiet, action flamed anew. An official statement said Italian and German troops captured a British outpost near Sidi Belgasem, east of siege-bound Tobruk in a fierce fight in which the British lost an unspecified number of dead and prisoners.

FOSTER CHILDREN

More than 20,000 children in England are being brought up by 15,000 foster mothers, under supervision of health inspectors.

Out of every hundred farmers in the United States, 51 operate owned farms; 59 are tenants, and 10 are part owners or managers according to the Census.

AT HORSE SHOW

A large crowd attended the horse show which featured the closing day of the Sugar Grove Community Fair on Saturday. About thirty horses were exhibited, including entries from Jamestown and South Dayton, N. Y., Meadville, Ludlow and Warren. A complete prize list will be printed later. The horse show was preceded by a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Grace Siggins.

HURT IN FALL

Mrs. Annis George, of Tidioute, was treated at the Warren General Hospital about 11:30 o'clock Saturday night for lacerations to her forehead and left eye, sustained when she fell off a flight of steps at her home. She was discharged from the hospital following treatment.

Today's Story

To make sure that anglers seeking really big fish get an honest-to-goodness bang out of the sport, two ingenious inventors have patented a fish hook which first snares the quarry and then fires a bullet at him.

Americans On Way To Russia Stop In London

can mission reached London yesterday with the Russian ambassador to Washington, Constantin Oumansky, after a Trans-Atlantic plane flight, and the American embassy announced today that W. Averell Harriman, head of the mission, and the remainder of the delegation had arrived "somewhere in the United Kingdom."

Harriman was expected to reach London tonight.

The delegation has been commissioned, with its British counterpart, to study with the Russians all means of speeding supplies and weapons of war to the Russian front.

Harriman and other members on the mission arrived in London by air from "somewhere in the United Kingdom," where they had landed earlier in the day in the bomber which carried them across the Atlantic.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden greeted Harriman at an airdrome near London.

Harriman's daughter, Kathleen, also was waiting for him.

With Our Boys In Indiantown Gap

Indiantown Gap, Pa., Sept. 15—(AP)—The 28th Division will be on the move again within two weeks.

Officers disclosed today that schedules call for truck columns to leave the reservation around Sept. 25 for Lilesville, N. C., where the Pennsylvanians will participate in gigantic war games for two months.

Lilesville is about 10 miles north of the South Carolina border and near Wadesboro, N. C. Division headquarters will be established there for the duration of the maneuvers.

An advance detachment of engineers has already gone to North Carolina to prepare sanitation and other facilities at the camp. Other details will leave from time to time in advance of the main body of troops.

The Iron Division's 17,000 troops returned to the reservation last Friday after several weeks maneuvers in Virginia and the results drew praise from General Edward Martin.

"We have all worked extremely hard and learned valuable lessons, and I know the 28th is a better fighting division for these efforts," General Martin declared.

He added:

"The orderly movement of so many troops over such a distance and lack of serious accidents demonstrated by the 28th in the Virginia exercises has set a record of which I am proud."

Approximately 60 per cent of the camp personnel is still on week-end leave which ends tonight at midnight. Remaining troops, officers said, will also be given three days vacation before the division starts rolling southward.

The headquarters units started command post exercises today and during the next two weeks regimental work will be stressed.

GYPSIES HELD FOR COURT ON FRAUD CHARGE

Charged with defrauding a Warren woman of $2,400 while operating a phrenologist establishment here in November, 1938, George Miller and Lena Rogers, gypsies, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans this morning on larceny charges.

Both waived hearings for court and in default of $3,500 bail each, they were committed to the county jail.

The gypsies are charged with having stolen $2,400 from Mrs. Elizabeth Spaulding, of this city.

Over the week-end, several other gypsies arrived in town in the interest of the two held here. It was intimated today that they were making an effort to raise funds necessary for the release of Miller and his sister.

At the hearing today, Attorney E. H. Beshlin represented the gypsies, while the commonwealth was represented by District Attorney J. H. Goldstein.

WORKERS IN "CAPTIVE" PITS ORDERED OUT

Pittsburgh, Sept. 15—(AP)—Demanding a union shop, district leaders of the CIO United Mine Workers ordered a strike today of approximately 37,000 soft coal miners at "captive" mines of seven steel corporations operating at capacity in the defense emergency.

The corporations included the nation's three largest steel producers—United States Steel, Bethlehem and Republic. The others were Weirton, Wheeling, Crucible and Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

The strike order went to 20,000 miners in western Pennsylvania, 12,000 in West Virginia, 4,000 in Kentucky, 1,000 in Illinois and an unspecified number in Tennessee.

POPE ASKS CATHOLICS TO PRAY FOR PEACE

Vatican City, Sept. 15—(AP) Pope Pius XII asked Catholics throughout the world today to pray during the month of October for a shortening of the war.

His appeal for special prayer was made to bishops through papal representatives in each country, the Vatican City newspaper, Il Osservatore Romano, announced.

START ISSUING BIRTH PAPERS UNDER NEW LAW

Persons born before the state began keeping records in 1906, but couldn't prove it, began receiving birth certificates today under an act of the 1941 legislature sponsored by Senator L. E. Chapman, of Warren, and signed two months ago by Governor James.

An opinion by the justice department for the bureau of vital statistics opened a "bottleneck" that has piled up thousands of applications for birth certificates, principally from workers in defense industries.

When defense industries started requiring proof of birth from their workers, those who were born before 1906 ran into many difficulties in obtaining a certificate and the 1941 legislature passed a law permitting the bureau to accept certain documentary evidence, such as baptismal and school records.

The legislation, instead of easing and speeding up the issuance of certificates, was considered confusing in language and an opinion from Attorney General Claude T. Reno was sought by Tom E. Williams, director of the bureau.

While awaiting the opinion no certificates were issued to persons born before 1906, or to those whose later births were not recorded in the bureau.

Robert J. Painter, assistant director, said that several thousand applications had clogged the bureau's files, but the first of these were being acted upon immediately and all should be cleared in the "next several weeks."

"We are writing each applicant, and when we receive the affidavits or documentary evidence required, along with the $3.50 fee, we will issue the certificates," said Painter.

The filing fee is $2.50 and the certificate copy is $1.00.

Sports Roundup

day.....Betty Hicks Newell, the new women's golf champion, says she'll listen to pro offers because "my husband and I need a stake to start out married life."...From tournament winner to bread winner, hugh?...At that, some of the folks who back big pro tournaments might do worse than get up one for the gals. With Betty, Patty Berg and Helen Hicks Hard they'd have plenty to start with, and a lot of the other girls who have to earn their own way might easily be persuaded to turn pro...Winston Guest, who has been touring South America as a good will ambassador, must have suffered a relapse when he got back on a polo pony....He didn't earn any good will in Texas by making the national open tourney a Long Island monopoly.

Today's Guest Star

If Winter Comes Dept.

Latest sign of the coming chilly season is that a new pro basketball league, to take in eight major cities, is being formed, with New York's original Celtics as the starter....If Canadian officials keep on turning down youngsters who want to come to the United States to play hockey, maybe Major Fred McLaughlin's idea of an "All-American" team in the National League won't look as sour as it did last year....His Chicago Blackhawks now have five U. S. born players and six others who have been or are being naturalized.....Seems the hockey moguls laid themselves open for a few blasts from expert blasters on the new list of referees....New faces may be okay, but if they keep on signing up ex-players instead of promoting guys who have been getting experience as linesmen, they may find the refs will have trouble enforcing decisions against managers who used to boss them around a few years back.

Quote, Unquote

Ray Daughters, the famous Seattle swimming coach: "What do I look for in a young candidate? If the youngster has initiative to find the way to the athletic club and upstairs to the pool, I look for swimming talent. But if he can't find his way without the aid of doting parents, they must have a lot of talent or I don't bother with them."

Cleaning The Cuff

Jimmy Johnston turned down $5,000 for Bob Pastor to fight Melio Bettina in Los Angeles..... He wants double or nothing.... Even before the Dodgers went out to St. Louis for that crooshial series, the home fans had made plans for a victory rally when they come back east.....It's scheduled for next Sunday in Philly....In J. Willard Ridings' annual poll, 98 of 137 southwestern newspapermen picked Texas to win the southwest conference football title.....Carl Snavely, Jr., is a fifth-string blocking back on his dad's Cornell team....Baseball scribes report there's a laugh a second when Casey Stengel and Hans Lobert get together...Their words make a hit even if their teams don't.

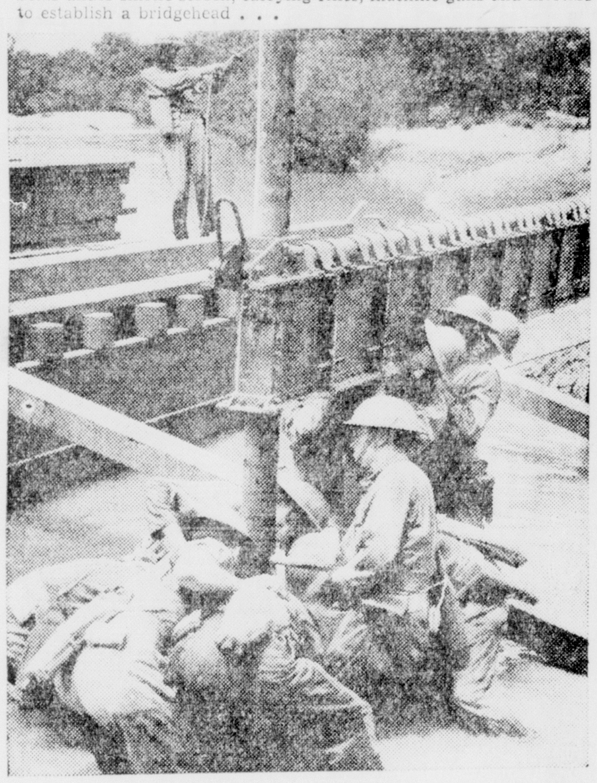
Last Laugh

Jimmy Wilson, the Cubs manager, defines a batting slump as when you look past the pitcher and see 22 outfielders and 10 infielders daring you to hit.

ATTACK ON TEXAS!

Fast, Tough Second Armored Division Swings Knockout Blow Across River

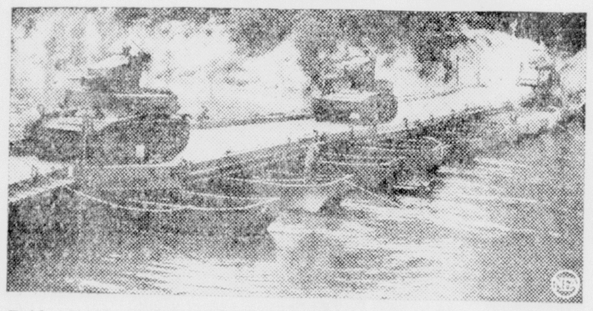
It's an attack on Texas by the Second Armored Division during the Louisiana war games. Advance infantry crosses Sabine river in boats under smoke screen, carrying rifles, machine guns and mortars to establish a bridgehead . . .



Now engineers struggle in water near the Texas bank to set up a trestle for a pontoon bridge . . .

Working from both sides, the engineers soon move last span of bridge

Boys are just as speedy at rescue work when water-logged clothes pull fellow soldier over his depth . . .



Bridge built, the full, terrific force of the division crosses to join the attack. Division has 200 of these 13-ton tanks.

OPEN WEEK-DAY CHURCH SCHOOL CLASSES SOON

Registrations for the week-day religious education classes, to be held in seven local churches through the cooperation of the Warren borough schools with a central committee from the various church denominations, are being received rapidly, it was reported today by Superintendent John G. Rossman.

Tomorrow is the last day for parents to return the blanks, signifying that their children of high school age will attend some religious education class during the balance of the school year. Those who do not register for one of the religious classes will be assigned to citizenship classes in the high school.

The week-day religious education classes will be conducted each Wednesday, starting at 10:40 a. m. The first classes will be held on Wednesday, September 24.

Although women have done remarkably well in major tournaments during the last year or so, there are men who do not think women play as good bridge as men.

Perhaps this accounts for the fact that in the men's pair championship this year, there was not only the largest entry in the history of the event, but practically every Life Master in the country participated in the contest, which was won by Joseph E. Low and Sam Rossant of New York.

Because of the tremendous amount of work involved in conducting a national tournament, I do not have an opportunity to participate in the events. Of course I always manage to assume my favorite role of kibitzer now and then.

I was watching Lee Hazen of New York, who won the world championship Masters Individual last April, when he and his partner got into a small slam contract on today's hand. As Hazen's left-hand opponent lost a trick every time he was on lead, I could not help but remark that if he could have been put in the lead three times, Hazen should have made seven.

Looking at all four hands, you can see the declarer should lose a trick in each suit. But East believed West might have a singleton or void in clubs. His thoughtless lead of the ten gave up the stopper.

Hazen (North) won and led trumps. East won the second round and now tried a low heart, giving up a second trick when Hazen played low from dummy and won the jack with the queen. The third trick was picked up by a squeeze in spades and hearts against East. Hazen readily guessed that East held the spade king because of his "exit trouble."

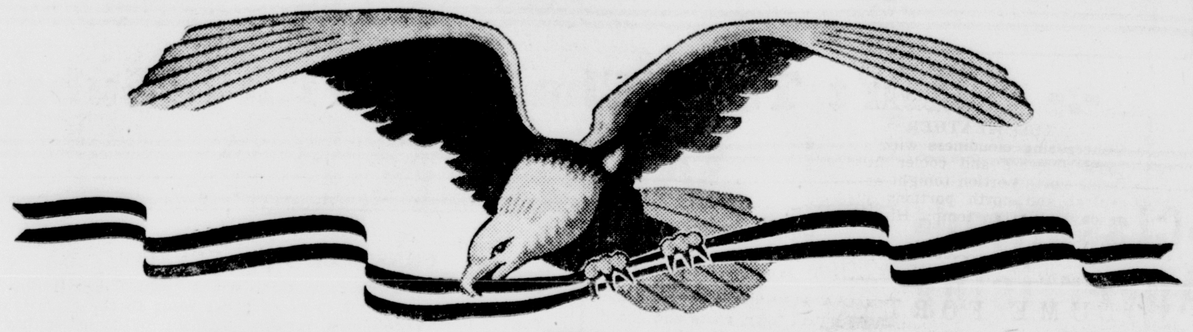
In 1930 Waldemar von Zedtwitz presented to the American Contract Bridge League a solid gold trophy to be competed for annually by the Master players of the country. This was the beginning of the Master Point plan, one of the greatest rating systems of any sport in the world today.

When the gold cup was first put into play, Von Zedtwitz said that anyone who won it three times would have permanent possession of it. Although we felt no one would be able to win the trophy three times, in the short span of five years Howard Schenken of New York had been the victor three out of five times.

Von Zedtwitz had the right to replace the trophy, but as we all wanted to see the same one remain in play, he made an agreement with Schenken that the gold cup would remain in play with the understanding that it could not be won by any other player as a permanent possession.

Now, after seven years, Schenken is again the winner of the world championship Masters Pair event with M. D. Maier of New York. I have often heard it said at tournaments that it was a pleasure even to lose to Schenken, who is one of the most popular of all tournament players. One of the world's greatest players, he certainly handled the hand shown today in nice style to win the coveted title for the fourth time.

Sitting South, Schenken won the opening lead with the ace of spades. Two heart leads exhausted the adverse trumps. Then the three top diamonds were cashed. The suit failed to break, so there was still the possible club loser to worry about. Instead of risking the club finesse, Schenken ruffed out the last diamond, then led the spade. West, forced in the lead, had to return a club or else give declarer a ruff and sluff.



Buy Defense Stamps and Bonds

★ Like all other good stores, we have carefully refrained from any form of urging our public to "Buy Now."

However, we gladly break that rule to say—"Buy Defense Stamps and Bonds Now."

The huge preparations which our government is making to provide us with adequate National Defense call for great sums of money with which to pay for some of these things.

Unless we all heed the call and rally round with cheerful eagerness to do our bit by buying Defense Stamps and Bonds, the needed funds will not be at the government's disposal.

In this week, when retail stores throughout the nation are featuring "Retailers for Defense," we urge you to join with us in this celebration and to start—if you have not already done so—a program of buying Stamps and Bonds.

A few cents, or a few dollars, according to your means, invested in Stamps and Bonds will help the Government and provide a nice form of security for your future. Also they pay a good rate of interest.

REDS ADMIT NAZIS TIGHTENING RING AROUND LENINGRAD

U. S. Navy to Protect Lend-Lease Cargoes Knox Declares

By the Associated Press

German tanks, artillery and troops were reported storming Leningrad's main outer defense bulwarks today, with Nazi high-velocity shells smashing into a ring of six-foot concrete bunkers in a climactic assault on the old czarist capital.

The Germans, acknowledging bitter Soviet resistance, said the bunker system was equal to anything they encountered in the blitzkrieg sweeps through France or Belgium but declared the attack was progressing successfully. They said 4,500,000 Russians were trapped in the Leningrad area.

Nazi military observers asserted that the eastern front, aflame from the Karelian isthmus to the Black Sea, was "ripening for the successes which the High Command announced were unfolding."

German troops were reported by the High Command to have cracked Leningrad's "defense front" at one point, while on the southern front, the Russians admitted that a Nazi pincers movement was tightening the trap around Kiev.

Simultaneously, observers at Ankara forecast a sea-borne German drive against the Russian Crimea, site of the big Soviet Black Sea naval base of Sebastopol. There were reports that the Germans had ordered all Rumanian and Bulgarian Black Sea ports closed to commercial shipping.

The Nazi order capped repeated rumors that both German and Italian troops were being massed in Bulgarian ports for an attempt to land forces behind Russia's Dnieper river defense line in the Ukraine.

Dispatches from Sofia said partial mobilization of the Bulgarian army had been ordered for today.

Advices reaching London said the Germans had already thrust into the Perekop area, on the thin neck of land connecting the Crimea with the U. S. S. R. mainland. Previously, the Germans had claimed the capture of Zhaporoze, on the main railway line connecting Sebastopol with northern sources of supply.

Meanwhile there were reports that a German sea raider was operating in the Pacific approaches to the Panama Canal.

While spectacular mass air battles raged over Leningrad, the British reported they were rushing RAF pilots into the 86-day-old struggle on the eastern front. London newspapers said the first British fliers to arrive in Russia, several squadrons strong, already had gone into action, presumably in defense of Leningrad.

The Daily Telegraph said it was reasonable to assume that the newly-arrived RAF unit was only "the advance guard of a large fighter contingent destined for the eastern front." Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced last week that hundreds of RAF fighter planes were being sent to the U. S. S. R.

With the battle of Leningrad flaming toward a climax, the Germans quoted Soviet prisoners as saying that defenders of the old Czarist capital were dynamiting huge blocks of buildings in the city to clear the line for artillery and machine-gun fire in a street-by-street defense.

In the skies, the Russians reported 100 planes engaged in the latest duel, with the Germans fleeing after losing 17 aircraft.

Adolf Hitler's High Command declared that the encirclement of Leningrad had been "further tightened in stubborn fighting for possession of modernly constructed fortifications."

Soviet dispatches conceded the loss of several settlements on the bank of the river "T" at the approaches to the city, but said Red Army troops had recaptured three of them.

"Great offensive operations in the east are progressing successfully," the German High Command said. "Repeated enemy counter-attacks supported by heavy tanks collapsed."

While acknowledging a grave new threat to Kiev, the Ukraine capital, the Russians declared that Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies were hurling the Germans back in a smashing counter-offensive on the central front.

Soviet troops were reported within 12 miles of burned and wrecked Smolensk, key city on the Napoleonic road to Moscow, with Russian artillery shelling German positions around it. Other Red forces were said to be fighting near Yartzevo, 27 miles northeast of Smolensk.

On the southern front, the Russians said Hitler's invasion armies north and south of Kiev were trying to meet behind the city. Only

NEUTRAL POSITION DISCUSSED

Speaker Rayburn Tells Press Conference That Revision of Act Was Subject Of Conference With President at White House During Day But That No Conclusions Had Been Reached

MESSAGE PLANNED ON LEASE-LEND FINANCES

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—Speaker Rayburn told his press conference that revision of the neutrality act was discussed by legislative leaders at a conference with President Roosevelt at the White House today but that no conclusions had been reached.

The speaker did not disclose the details of the discussion but said, in answer to a question, that there had been "a lot of talk about it."

At the same time, Rayburn said the president would send a message to congress Thursday on the subject of a new lend-lease appropriation which informed sources said would amount to about $6,000,000,000.

Since Ppresident Roosevelt's order to the navy to shoot Axis sea raiders on sight in American defensive waters, there has been considerable speculation as to whether outright repeal of the neutrality law, which forbids entry of American merchant ships into combat zones, might be proposed or whether the arming of merchant vessels would be undertaken.

A provision of the neutrality law forbids the arming of merchant ships engaged in commerce with any foreign nations after the president has proclaimed a state of war exists between any countries.

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—Amid reports that a German raider was operating in the Pacific approaches to the Panama Canal, the Senate naval committee will be asked to decide whether there should be an investigation of the north Atlantic shooting clash between the U. S. S. Greer and a U-boat.

Chairman Walsh (D-Mass), who summoned the committee to meet Wednesday, said he would ask it to question Secretary of Navy Knox and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, about the Greer incident—one of the recent series which led to Pre-

All Babies Under Six Years Are Eligible To Be Named In Contest

Two thousand dollars in cash and commissions and two large loving cups will be awarded to the community's favorite babies in the "Favorite Baby" election being sponsored by progressive merchants and business men of the community in co-operation with The Warren Times-Mirror.

Cash prizes to be awarded are designed to provide the educational foundation of success in life for babies of the community who are elected to first places by community residents.

Any baby and every baby in Warren and adjoining counties, under six years of age is eligible for nomination. A picture for publication in the Warren Times-Mirror is required so that people of the community may choose their favorite. Arrangements for their pictures, without cost, have been made by this newspaper.

This community's favorite baby will be given a cash award of $500 and a valuable cup.

The business concerns that have aligned themselves with The Warren Times-Mirror in this cause are able to do so because of the support experience has taught them to anticipate.

Each customer trading in the stores of co-operating merchants will receive a voting coupon on all cash purchases or payment on accounts in which 50c or more is involved; a coupon will be issued for each 50c involved at the time the transaction is made, which credits any baby selected to 500 votes. All votes are to be deposited at The Warren Times-Mirror election office, 238 Pa. Ave., West.

The list of the leading firms that will give vote coupons with each purchase of fifty cents or over appears in today's paper. Others will undoubtedly be added.

The election will last approximately nine weeks following publication in the Warren Times-Mirror next week of the first list of babies nominated.

Any baby in the trade territory within the age limit of six years may be nominated by any relative, friend or admirer. Mothers, fathers, grandparents, aunts, and uncles, brothers and sisters, all admirers of babies may nominate the baby of their choice.

Winners will be decided by the people of the community on a vote-count basis. Their votes for babies entered in the election may result from selection of a favorite after seeing photographs of the entrants in this newspaper.

REVEALS DECISION TO LEGION

Announcement Made By Cabinet Member in Address To Convention At Milwaukee Is First Official Disclosure How Government Is Preparing To Carry Out New Policy Enunciated By Roosevelt

THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE IS SCORED

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 15—(AP)—Secretary Knox told the American Legion's convention today that, beginning tomorrow, the United States Navy would protect all lease-lend cargoes traversing the sea "between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland."

The navy chief described the Atlantic fleet's orders in unequivocal language—"to capture or destroy" every Axis surface or subsurface raider encountered.

Although Knox avoided the particular word "convoy," his announcement recalled the interpretation given President Roosevelt's shooting-on-sight speech of Thursday night in London, particularly by the British press which broke out such jubilant headlines as: "U. S. to Guard Our Ships."

The Knox announcement constituted the first official disclosure of how the navy was preparing to carry out the new policy enunciated by Mr. Roosevelt—that henceforth Axis war vessels entering United States "defensive waters" would do so at their own peril and that American naval vessels would not wait for them to shoot first.

In a speech prepared for the Legion convention, Knox said:

"Beginning tomorrow, the American navy will provide protection as adequate as we can make it for ships of every flag carrying lend-aid supplies between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland."

Whether "protection as adequate as we can make it" meant that U. S. warships would begin escorting convoys of British and other cargo vessels tomorrow was a matter of conjecture, but the fact that an interim of four days was necessary between President Roosevelt's statement and the beginning of this protection indicated that some special arrangements requiring time to complete had been made.

Moreover, the fact that the protection will be extended into waters adjacent to Iceland was taken as an indication that the United States probbaly had agreed to assume sole responsibility for guarding supply ships up to that point with the British to take over from there on.

Knox's announcement came near the end of his address to the Legion gathering, and after he had declared that since United States occupation of Iceland on July 7 "Hitler and the Nazi were palpably

Entire Mission Appointed By President To Consult With Stalin Holding Brief Conferences In England

By the Associated Press

London, Sept. 15—With a wing of the RAF reported already in action against Germany on the eastern front, the entire U. S. mission to Moscow has arrived in Britain for stop-over talks before continuing on to the Russian capital for consultation with the British and Russians on how to beat Adolf Hitler.

The RAF units now in Russia were only the advance guard of greater forces to go, informed quarters indicated, and the British press carried reports that American-made planes already were in the service of the Red Air force.

Production Of Cars To Be Cut 48.4 Pct.

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—The office of production management announced today that December production of passenger automobiles would be cut 48.4 per cent below the output of last December to conserve essential materials for defense.

Manufacturers will be permitted to produce only 204,848 passenger cars in December, compared with 396,823 in December 1940, it was made known at a meeting of Leon Henderson, director of OPM's civilian supply division, with the automotive defense industry advisory committee.

Record Number Of Planes Here For Sunday Morning Breakfast Meeting

Ninety-Six Ships Carrying 186 Persons Land At Warren Airport To Attend Rendezvious Sponsored By Merchants' Committee

NO ACCIDENTS LISTED

The largest number of airplanes ever to gather on the field at one time visited the Warren Airport yesterday morning when 96 ships carrying 186 persons landed here to attend the breakfast rendezvous sponsored by the local merchants' committee in charge of the "Retailers-for-Defense" week, which opens today.

Since the morning was without the usual early fog, the guests were able to arrive early. The first plane arrived about 8:30 o'clock and from then until 11, the air was full of ships.

At the local airport the guests were greeted by members of the Chamber of Cammerce, members of the retail merchandising committee and members of the Warren Citizens' Committee.

Mrs. Marshall Mathis was in charge of the welcoming and registeration committee at the airport. She was ably assisted by Dorothy Hood, Shirley Thompson and Adelaide Russo.

FINAL ATTEMPT TO AVERT RAIL STRIKE STARTS

Chicago, Sept. 15—(AP)—A final effort to avert a national railroad strike was started in Chicago today.

A representative of the National Railway Mediation Board met with members of the president's emergency fact finding board in an executive session which they indicated might last for several hours.

They were to choose a time and place for the initial session of the five-man emergency board appointed by President Roosevelt Sept. 10 to investigate the issues of the colossal wage dispute between the nation's major railroads and 1,260,000 of their workers.

This emergency board, headed by Dean Lyman Morse of the University of Oregon law school, is required to report to the president within 30 days from the date of its creation. Not for 30 days after the report is made, the railway labor act provides, may the 19 unions involved put a strike into effect.

Five brotherhoods of the so-called operating crafts are demanding a 30 per cent increase in basic rates of pay. Fourteen non-

Argentina's Congressional "Dies Committee" Keeps Close Watch on Activities Of Emissary and Friend Of Hitler

UNDER SURVEILLANCE

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 15—(AP)—Argentina's congressional "Dies committee" kept a close watch today upon the activities of Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, emissary and friend of Adolf Hitler, while pressing its demand for the expulsion of German Ambassador Edmund Von Thermann.

The chamber of deputies is near a vote, perhaps today, on the committee's resolution accusing Von Thermann of "overstepping the bounds of a diplomat and abusing his privileges."

Into the midst of the furore throughout Argentina over the resolution and two sharp protests made by Von Thermann, Capt. Wiedemann stepped yesterday from a four-motored plane which brought him from Rio De Janeiro, Brazil.

The smiling captain, ousted from his consular post in San Francisco last July and sent back to Europe with 500 other Axis representatives, greeted a large crowd at the airport with a wave of his hand and drove off in Von Thermann's limousine.

Von Thermann, who said yesterday he had no intention of with-

TOO EARLY FOR RECESSION IN POLIO OUTBREAK

Harrisburg, Sept. 15—(AP)—Pennsylvania's current infantile paralysis outbreak — which has spread to 53 counties—will not show any marked recession until October, Dr. A. H. Stewart, acting secretary of health predicted today.

"At mid-September, it is apparent that the infantile paralysis epidemic is following the usual pattern with little likelihood of marked recession until the end of this month," he declared in a statement.

"When reports for the week just closing come to be analyzed, all indications are that the number of cases will be about at the level of the preceding week.

"Washington, Monroe, Warren, Forest, Indiana and Mifflin counties reported their first cases during the first two weeks of September. Adams, Franklin and Cumberland counties, except the eastern border of Cumberland have shown no spread of the disease for three or more weeks."

Nearly 400 cases of the disease have been reported and at least 26 deaths have been record

FINLAND TALKS OF EARLY PEACE WITH NEIGHBOR

REGAINS LOST AREAS

Helsinki, Finland, Sept. 15—(AP)—The possibility that Finland may be near the end of her war with Soviet Russia was heightened today by the declaration of a government spokesman that there are "good hopes of peace in the nearest future."

Any talk of a separate peace with Moscow was ruled out, however, by Vaino Tanner, minister of trade and communications and leader of the Dominant Social Democratic party, in an address to the nation yesterday.

He stressed that Finland was an ally of Germany "only by accident" and that this country would continue to fight only as long as her interests demanded.

"It is for us an entirely defensive war with the aid of which we desire to obtain secure frontiers and lasting peace," Tanner said. "Whatever is needed to secure this must be done, but there our task also ends."

Finland, he added, never wanted war but he declared that since "barbarous and expansionist Russia" is a neighbor "our long frontier is still insecure and it is probably essential that we should render areas beyond it safe in a military sense. Before that, there is no possibility of concluding peace with anybody."

(Tanner failed to give the basis for his hopes of early peace, but

SISTERS KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Pennsylvania weekend accidents claimed at least 10 lives, including two sisters and a companion killed in the collision of two automobiles near Carlisle.

The sisters were Miss Loma Daisy Loy, 48, and Miss Myrtle Loy, 32. Their companion was Ralph Clayton Henry, 52.

While her 14-year-old brother cried "look out," Betty Orr, 10, dashed in front of an automobile at Meadville and was fatally injured. Another youngster, George Henry Diller, 11, was killed near York when he dashed in front of a machine. Twelve-year-old Geo. Hamm was killed by a car at Uniontown while riding his bicycle.

Cornplanter Indian Grant Scene Of Colorful Ceremony on Sunday

The Cornplanter Indian Grant was the scene of another colorful event on Sunday when the Cornplanter descendants adopted Dr. C. E. Schaeffer, assistant state ethnologist, as a member of the Wolf Clan of the Senecas.

Dr. Schaeffer has had general charge of the archeological work in the upper Allegheny valley this summer and his frequent visits to the Grant in this connection had brought him into contact with these Senecas.

The ceremonial was planned as a surprise for Dr. Schaeffer. He was asked to go to the Grant about noon, ostensibly to see some of the work going on there. When he arrived he was met by the Cornplanter band with a group of costumed singers and dancers from the Cold Spring council house and was given the name "Diu-joh-ohn-dote" — "Standing Tree"—one of the chief's names belonging to the Wolf Clan.

A picnic lunch was served on the Windsor Pierce lawn after which visiting Indians and whites were conducted over the points of interest on the Grant, including the cemetery, the site of Cornplanter's house and mill and places where, according to local legend, the bodies of British and French soldiers are buried.

In the evening the party adjourned to the Pearl English farm at Sugar Run, where the archeologists have uncovered an extensive and highly interesting early burial site which is being excavated with the help of Indian labor. Here, at the suggestion of the Indians themselves, an ancient ritual was exemplified. Chauncey Johnny John, from Cold Spring, assisted by several of the Cold Spring Indians, threw water about the excavation site, recited the old Mohawk compact of the Five Nations with their Maker and prayed for the repose of the souls of the people, whoever they might be, whose burial place this had been.

Chief Windsor Pierce, of Cornplanter, explained the significance of the ceremony, saying that wherever cold meets hot, a vapor arises to heaven. The cold water strewn on the warm ground sent up an invisible steam which carried with it the earth-bound spirits and the prayers of the living.

A large crowd viewed the "dig" and the ceremonies. Many stayed until late in the evening about the camp fire, watching the Indian songs and dances and listening to their stories about the old days in these parts.

Ralph Dieter, 42, of 817 East Main street, Bradford, is in the Warren General Hospital with first and second degree burns about the face, ears, neck and both hands, received about noon Sunday in a gas explosion which occurred on his lease near Kinzua.

According to the meager information obtained, Dieter was working in a pump house on the lease at the time of the accident. What caused the gas to explode was not determined.

The man was first taken to the office of a Kinzua physician and later brought to the hospital by Louis Town, who was with Dieter at the time. Town was not hurt.

Dieter's condition is said ot be good. He expects to leave the hospital sometime tomorrow.

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—Members of congress got back on the job today after an extended legislative holiday, and leaders called for fast action on the unprecedented $3,500,000,000 revenue bill.

The House has had a month's vacation, nad almost every incoming train and plane carried members summoned back by the leadership to act on the tax measure.

That legislation, carrying the heaviest tax burden in history, was agreed upon last week by a joint conference committee adjusting differences between separate feasures passd by both chambers, however. House members of the conference group technically had to obtain official authority from their chamber to make a compromise agreement with the Senate.

Because of a controversitl Senate amendment lowering income tax exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single individuals, it was expected that the House would have a record vote on the bill.

Leaders said any vote probably would be delayed until Wednesday in order that all House members might have time to reach Washington.

Recounting the U-boat attack on the U. S. destroyer Greer, Knox said the Navy Department immediately made public all information on the incident, while the German government countered by saying the Greer fired the first shot.

The sceretary said that "the whole issue is far too broad to make the question of who fired first of great importance" but he said he wanted to refer to it because "it offered a chance for that curious organization known as 'The America First Committee' to tell the American public that, in its judgment, it was more likely the German U-boat commander was telling the truth than the American naval officer who commanded the Greer."

"That is an important fact for the American public to digest," Knox declared "that we have in our midst an organization of American citizens who, on a question of veracity, declared publicly that they prefer to accept the word of a piratical murderer of women and children on the high seas, engaged in a type of warfare denounced by every civilized nation in the world, rather than accept the word of an American commander of an American warship."

FIRST NAZARENE CHURCH PASTOR TO LEAVE SOON

At the Sunday evening service in the First Church of the Nazarene, its pastor, Rev. H. Blair Ward, tendered his resignation effective October 1.

Mr. Ward has accepted a call to the First church in Toronto, Canada, a field which offers splendid opportunities for Christian work, since it is the "mother" church of the movement in that section.

Rev. Ward will be sincerely missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances in Warren. He has been active in many circles since coming here nearly four years ago from Providence, R. I. In addition to his own parish work, he has served in many capacities in the Warren County Ministerial Association and has been one of its most active workers.

Water street, collided at the intersection of Canton street and Pennsylvania avenue. According to local police, the accident occurred when Deliman started to make a left turn into Canton street. Police said a charge of driving too fast under the conditions would be placed against Wolfe. Damage to Wolfe's car amounted to $100 and to Deliman's machine, $25.

Two persons were treated at the oice of a Sugar Grove physician about 10:15 o'clock Saturday night when a car driven by Herman M. Hebner, 44, of R. D. 1, Pittszeld, went off the highway, struck an abutment and overturned while proceeding south on Route 69, near Sugar Grove. Hebner suffered lacerations of the forehead and mouth, while his wife received a fractured elbow.

State motor police said Hebner was forced off the highway by a car traveling in the opposite direction. Driving onto the berm, Hebner struck the abutment with the right front wheel of his car. Damage to the machine was estimated at $200.

Victor Graziano, 20, of 1109 Spring street, was treated at the Warren General Hospital about 5:15 today for a cut on the chin, sustained when a car he was driving struck a tree near the corner of Water street and Pennsylvania avenue. He is also reported to have lost two teeth. He told hospital attaches he fell asleep while driving west in Pennsylvania avenue. Damage to the car was estimated at $275 by borough police, who investigated.

Four persons escaped injury last evening when a sedan driven by Wallace Heminger, 20, of Sugar Grove, rolled over three times on U. S. route 6, just west of Irvine. The car was completely demolished. According to state motor police, Heminger was driving along a straight stretch of highway when the machine started to zig-zag across the highway, finally rolling over.

Three cars figured in an accident on U. S. Route 6, near Youngsville, last Friday evening and although all were badly damaged, no person in any of the machines was injured. According to state motor police, George W. Mathers, 16, of Tidioute, traveling west, tried to pass three cars on a straight stretch in the face of oncoming traffic. R. L. Gerould, 112 Redwood street, Warren, who was traveling in the opposite direction, attempted to avoid the Mathers car by turning to the right. However, the Mathers machine was struck a glancing blow, causing it to overturn. Gerould brought his car to a stop, but John Gallagher, 203 Division street, who was following Gerould, was unable to strop and struck the Gerould car in the rear.

SECOND COUNTY POLIO CASE IS REPORTED TODAY

The Russell school, which was to have opened today after having been closed since the development of a case of infantile paralysis there, remained closed today when the second case of poliomyelitis was diagnosed in the same family yesterday. The school will remain closed all this week, it was stated.

Glenn Pangborn, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pangborn, of Russell, and brother of Miss Lois Pangborn, who was stricken while employed as a domestic here over a week ago, is the second victim. There are two other children in the family.

The attending physician said today that the condition of the boy is not serious at the present time and that no actual paralysis has developed. The case is believed to be a mild one, similar to that of his sister, whose conditon is reported to be favorable.

No other cases of the disease are reported in the county.

Neutral Position Discussed

sident Roosevelt's shoot-on-hight speech Thursday night.

"I think the naval committee should look into the matter," Walsh told reporters. "It is the type of incident which might be used to involve this country in war. Congress and the country are entitled to know the facts and I shall ask the committee to conduct an open hearing."

Meanwhile, the navy was believed to be checking reports that a Nazi raider was in the general vicinity of the Galapagos Islands off the coast of Ecuador—some 1,000 miles west f the Pacific entrance to the canal—and was preying on merchant shipping.

The location indicated, involving the possession of a hemisphere nation, apparently would fall within the "defensive waters" area which Mr. Roosevelt mentioned in his speech when he warned Axis war craft that they entered those stretches of the sea at their own peril.

The navy treated the raider reports in a very gingerely manner and would give no hint what was being done about them.

(From Page One)

Upon their arrival, the guests were given breakfast tickets and were transported to the Geracimos and Blue and White restaurants to eat. A bus was provided for this purpose by the West Ridge Transportation Company, while members of the Citizens' Committee also assisted in the transportation.

A special guest for the occasion was W. T. Piper, president of the Pipe Aircraft Corporation, Lock Haven. Mr. Piper, flying a Cub trainer, was on his way to St. Louis.

Considering the rough and shifting wind, the fact that the morning passed without even a minor mishap was notable. Both in the air and on the ground, pilots showed their fine training by the manner in which they handled their ships.

During the time that the planes were at the field, hundreds of spectators were attracted and the various types of planes were given a close inspection.

Planes were here from the following places: Meadville, Oil City, Jamestown, N. Y., Erie, Youngsville, St. Marys, Titusville, Hornell, N. Y., Corry, Little Valley, N. Y., Seneca, Pa., Falconer, N. Y., Buffalo, N. Y., Mt. Jewett, North Tonawanda, N. Y., Kenmore, N. Y., Olean, N. Y., Friendship, N. Y., Niagara Falls, N. Y., Clarion, State College, Lockport, N. Raoul Damonte Taborda, 32-year-old chairman of the committee investigating anti-Argentine activities, had sought a way to question Wiedemann but acknowledged that his committee had no right to detain the envoy if he did not attempt to remain in this country.

Capt. Wiedemann has a transit visa to cross Argentina to Chile. Members of the committee said he would be watched every minute of his stay here.

Von Thermann declared the charges made against him by the committee were "ridiculous and do not constitute a reason for my withdrawal."

Three Changes In Warren County Methodist Pastorates Announced At Final Session Of Conference

Three changes in pastorates of Warren county churches were made in appointments read at the closing session of the Erie Conference of the Methodist church at Meadville last evening. One of these changes is in Warren, while the others are in smaller communities of the county.

The Rev. H. L. Knappenberger, former Russell pastor, was appointed pastor of the Grace church here to succeed Dr. J. H. Clemens, who retired from the active ministry at the end of the conference year. Dr. Clemens will make his home in Warren.

At Lander, the Rev. W. A. Fuller was appointed to replace the Rev. D. D. Samuelson, a Warren young man, who was transferred to Findley Lake. The Rev. Jack Boyd was named supply pastor at Kinzua, succeeding the Rev. E. V. Price, who was transferred to Marienville.

Dr. Thomas E. Colley was returned as pastor of the First Methodist church here, while the Rev. M. I Harding comes back as pastor of Epworth church.

Other Warren county pastors returned include the following: Russell, Rev. R. S. Naylor; Sheffield, Rev. I. E. Rossell; Sugar Grove, Rev. W. O. Brainard; Youngsville, Rev. Dwight Jack.

A large number from Warren attended the closing services of the conference at Meadville yesterday. At the morning service Bishop Straughn spoke on "God, The Primary Fact." At the evening service, Dr. Ralph A. Diffendorfer, of the board of missions, spoke on "The Christian Mission In a World of War."

An invitation to meet annnually at Allegheny College was referred to the conference committee, action to be taken at its next meeting.

Following is the complete list of appointments for the Jamestown district of the Erie conference, of which Dr. J. A. Galbraith is superintendent:

ONE CASE JUMP IN RELIEF FOR WARREN COUNTY

While increased private and WPA employment combined to send Pennsylvania's relief rolls tumbling to a record low, the first week in September saw the number of public assistance cases in Warren county increased by one, according to information from the Department of Public Assistance in Harrisburg today.

In the state, the sharpest weekly decline since early July sent direct relief rolls tumbling to 87,992 cases containing 174,419 persons. Expenditures for the week in the state amounted to $443,797, a decline of $19,777.

In Warren county the one-case increase sent the total number of relief recipients to 73, representing 92 persons. Cost of relief in the county for the week was $224.31.

Following are the figures for some nearby counties:

Clarion—Cases, 206; decrease, 2; cost, $734.09.

Crawford—Cases, 289; decrease, 6; cost, $985.66.

Elk—Cases, 98; decrease, 7; cost $413.47.

Erie—Cases, 582 decrease, 10; cost, $2,254.48.

Forest—Cases, 26; increase, 1; cost, $88.47.

McKean—Cases, 232; increase, 5; cost, $843.02.

Venango—Cases, 383; decrease, 4; cost, $1,232.49.

Barnes

Barnes, Sept. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Marley and family, of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wahlgren and son, of Lakewood, N. Y., were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Maud Ford.

Mrs. C. L. Brown is ill at her home and her sister, Mrs. Lewis Elder, of Warren, has been with her several days this week. Mr. Brown, who is employed at Mayburg, has also been home for a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis, of Dayton, Ohio, are spending their vacation visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lyle.

Miss Betty Knapp, who is employed at Washington, D. C., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Knapp, last week.

Mrs. J. B. Lyle and daughter, Barbara Jean, spent the weekend visiting relatives in Akron, O.

The primary elections failed to attract many voters to the polls in this precinct as in other parts of the county. Only fifty-eight votes were cast, 44 Republican and 14 Democratic.

The Adult Bible class of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Wayne Whitton Wednesday afternoon for its regular monthly business and social meeting.

Jack Smith, who is stationed at Mitchel Field, Long Island, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Roberts Saturday night.

Mrs. D. R. Titus, Miss Nelle Titus, Mrs. Ruth Miller and daughter, Nancy, Mrs. Maud Ford and Miss Margaret Titus motored to Meadville, where they visited Mrs. Coquessa Herring. Mrs. Herring has failed so much that she is now confined to her bed and because of her advanced years, members of her family are gravely concerned about her condition.

George Irvine, Jr., was a dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barnes in Erie last Thursday evening.

Methodist Pastors United In Marriage At Sunday Session

The Rev. Sherman H. Epler, of Salamanca, N. Y., and Ona B. Chilson, of Kane, were married at Meadville Sunday by Bishop James H. Straughn, of Pittsburgh.

A hundred pastors and their wives and 200 friends who had been attending sessions of the Erie Methodist Conference were present at the ceremony.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Epler are well known in Warren. Rev. Epler has appeared on programs here on many occasions. Mrs. Epler was former pastor of the Kinzua Methodist church and during the past year was pastor at East Kane.

STAMPS ON THE SHELVES

Beginning today and continuing through Saturday, a million stores and business establishments throughout the country, including those in Warren, co-operating in "Retailers-for-Defense" week, will offer the public a product never handled before.

They are Defense Savings Stamps, and it is hoped that thousands of Americans who seldom go into banks will see these bargains on the shelves and buy them, thus forming a habit that will benefit them, their country, and their liberties all at once.

If you know a better bargain than that, go to it, but it looks like an awfully good one to us. Remember, "To Keep 'Em Flying, Keep on Buying" U. S. Defense Savings Stamps. A million retailers are making it easier for you.

When you buy anything, any time, at any store in Warren or anywhere else — Buy Defense Savings Stamps, too!

DO YOU REMEMBER SCHLAGETER, ADOLF?

Viggo Hansteen and Rolf Wickstroem have by their death at the hands of the Nazi overlords in Norway wiped out the blot of Quisling. The two Norse labor leaders, led before a Hitler firing squad on charges of having sabotaged aganist the conquerors of their country, more than overbalance in their martyrdom the man whose name has become a synonym for treachery and shame.

Hansteen and Wickstroem! There are two more names to remember. One man should understand their "crime," and that man is Adolf Hitler. Leo Schlageter was his hero when he wrote Mein Kampf. Schlageter was a German Hansteen or Wickstroem of 20 years ago. But the shoe was on the other foot then.

Leo Schlageter had been a German artillery officer in the World War, a fellow veteran of Hitler. In 1923, five years after that war was over, the French occupied the Rhineland when Germany failed to pay reparations. A railway line between Dusseldorf and Duisburg was blown up, and Schlageter was caught in the act.

Despite appeals to the French by the Reich government and even by the Vatican, Schlageter was executed on May 26, 1923. Immediately he became a hero of all the nationalist elements in Germany, and one of the "political saints" of the early days of the Nazi party. Many a "Heil" has Hitler himself given to his hero, Leo Schlageter.

Now it is almost 20 years later. The position is now entirely reversed. Now it is Hitler whose legions trample the peoples of a dozen conquered countries. Now it is German oppression that brave men take their lives in their hands to resist. Now it is Hitler, who admired the courage and loyalty of his comrade, who is giving the orders to shoot down other Schlageters of other lands.

Hitler thought all the Schlageters were in Germany; that courage and loyalty and devotion were German. Increasingly, day after day, week after week, month after month, he is going to run against the same qualities in other peoples. In Holland, France, Belgium, and Denmark, in Yugoslavia and Greece and Czechoslovakia and Poland there are other Hansteens and other Wickstroems.

Hitler may shoot them, but he must understand them, and as each dies, may Hitler start up in his bed and look into the eyes of his old comrade, Schlageter.

Warren airport officials with the assistance of the C. of C., and a group of civic-minded citizens did an excellent job in playing host to almost 200 visitors who came here in 95 planes to participate in the Breakfast Rendezvous Sunday morning.

It was nice to see about 75 per cent of the Warren county boys with Company I who were spending the weekend with friends and relatives.

Warren's football teams provided grid fans some excellent entertainment Saturday and Sunday.

The half-way mark in September!

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—James Montgomery Flagg treats the warm weather calmly. . . . His wiry, bristly grey hair is innocent of a hat. . . . He wears rumpled gaberdines with no tie, and his collar is on the outside of his coat.

Flagg is six-feet-two and owns the bushiest eyebrows in New York. The wrinkles at the corners of his eyes are laugh wrinkles. He likes Roosevelt and the radio but hates athletics. "The word baseball makes me shudder," he recently said to Vesta Kelling during an interview. "I like neither the game, the dust, the yelling, the pop bottles, the peanut shells, nor the shirt sleeves. I must be a snob."

One of these days some motion picture producer is going to have Oliver Gramling's book, "AP—The Story of News," crammed down his throat; then he will receive credit for being an astute showman and grabbing a "natural" while his rivals weren't looking. Had Noel Coward written it (which he couldn't have, even had he wanted to) it would already be hailed as another Cavalcade. It is exactly what its title says it is—the story of news. If you like newspapers, you ought to read it. Presently Oscar Serlin is going to produce it on Broadway. There's a plum in it for the man who takes it to Hollywood.

THE seals in Rockefeller Center should be viewed from all angles. Yesterday I happened to be in the offices of the American Spirits company, high in the RCA building. Peter Siskin said, "Poke your head out the window and look at the seals." . . . I did. . . . From that distance, they seemed to be something thought up by Salvador Dali. . . . They were flat as pancakes, utterly without depth. . . . They swam and frolicked like apparitions out of a Walt Disney film.

While there I was introduced to a famous old character of the New York bar—Judge Warren Foster, whom Herbert Asbury mentions so favorably in his book "The Gangs of New York." The Judge likes to talk of Mark Twain, whom he knew, and also of Ben Butler, who won questionable fame as "Beast" Butler, military dictator of New Orleans during the Civil War and who was charged with stealing all the silver spoons in that southern metropolis. "That wasn't true," the Judge declared. "Ben Butler was greatly maligned."

The Judge also had an interesting explanation of the word "stateroom" as we know it today. Accommodations aboard ship are universally known as "cabins." In New Orleans there was one captain who had two especially fine cabins on his ship. One of these he named Louisiana and the other Mississippi. It was his custom to give these to distinguished guests. . . . If you were important, you got one of the "State" rooms. . . . That's how the word stateroom came into common use.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—When the news of the death of Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt reached Washington the remark most often heard was that she was the most remarkable mother any President ever had.

Although never in the foreground except at a benefit for some charity, such as the Warm Springs Foundation, Mrs. Roosevelt senior was a legend in Washington. From an intimate of the family, here are three stories which illustrate traits which made her remarkable:

HER resistance to weather and her indomitable will were two characteristics which many believe she passed on to her son and which made it possible for him to rise above illness to now nearly nine strenuous years of almost perfect health in the White House.

On a bitterly cold morning in January 1931 Mr. Roosevelt was preparing to leave the Governor's mansion in Albany for New York City. The entourage was already in cars when Mrs. Roosevelt senior entered a front room.

"Where's Franklin?" she demanded. "I must talk to him."

A friend explained that he already was in his car. Mrs. Roosevelt hurried to the window, thumped the pane, signalled for the cars to wait and rushed out into the freezing weather without hat or coat. In a few moments Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt entered the room, saw her mother-in-law standing in the cold and hurried to get her coat. The friend offered to take it out. Mrs. Roosevelt explained "She would never put it on for you."

She hurried out with it, but the 76-year-old matriarch impatiently pushed it aside and finished out her talk with her son, the icy wind whipping through her gray hair. When she returned to the room her only comment was that she wouldn't stand for any coddling.

No matter that her son was President three times, he never grew up as far as she was concerned—and she never hesitated to administer a verbal spanking when she thought he needed it.

At a small family dinner, before the world situation brought a pall on White House gaiety, there was much banter going around the table. The President had been working late and had come to the table in a well-worn pair of slacks. His sons were kidding him about his disreputable pants.

"I suppose," said the President, "you would have had me come to dinner without them."

"Franklin," said the elder Mrs. Roosevelt sharply, "if there is any more such lewd talk, I will leave the table immediately."

AND finally, although President Roosevelt certainly had made himself the most famous politician of his generation, his mother never took politics seriously and didn't care a snap for diplomacy.

The late Huey Long had just come to Washington as senator. As is often the custom he was invited to a White House dinner. It was formal, and the table was long. Mrs. Roosevelt was sitting near one end of the table. The new senator was holding forth at the other and talking loudly.

Mrs. Roosevelt had become a little hard of hearing. She leaned across the table and said to her daughter-in-law "Eleanor, who is that man?" The younger Mrs. Roosevelt, fearing what might be coming by way of comment, made a shush sign and went on talking.

But the President's mother refused to be shushed. In a louder voice she repeated "Who is that man?" and added "I don't like him."

While the politicians were trying to catch their breath, Mrs. Roosevelt went calmly on with her dinner.

Yugoslavs Rejected Axis Pact, Made Peter King

THE ascendancy of 17-year-old King Peter II of Yugoslavia to the throne, March 27, 1941, infuriated Adolf Hitler, influenced him to launch his Balkan campaign with an attack on Yugoslavia.

The stage had been set for the type of Nazi infiltration that took place in Rumania and Bulgaria. Prince Regent Paul, reportedly goaded by his pro-Axis wife, Princess Olga, had signed a pact making Yugoslavia a part of the Rome-Berlin-Tokio alliance. After a night of rioting, young Peter overthrew the regency and took the throne, inciting Hitler to war.

The stamp above was issued by the government in 1933 honoring Peter, then a young prince. It was issued in connection with the 60th anniversary meeting of the National Sokols, a sports association.

Peter was born in 1923 and grew up in Belgrade. His mother was Princess Marie of Rumania, daughter and namesake of Queen Marie.

Peter was sent to England to study at the age of 11 but after only 13 days tragedy brought him home. His father, King Alexander, was assassinated as he disembarked at Marseille, France.

Peter fled to England after the German invasion this year.

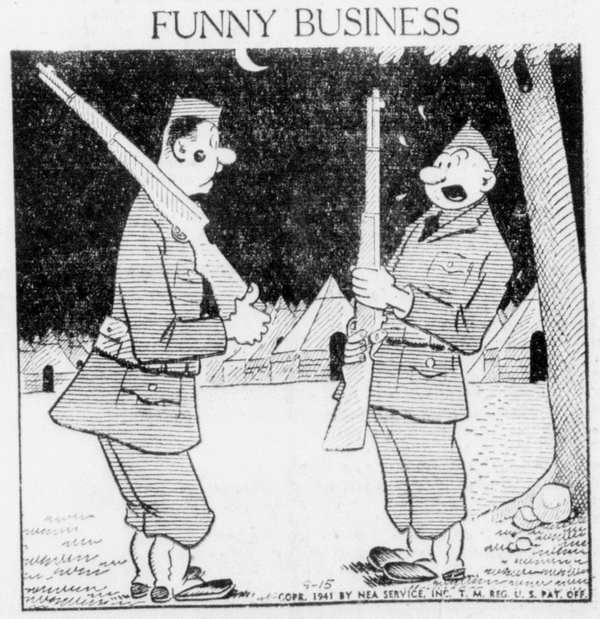
FUNNY BUSINESS



"I guess the captain doesn't like me—he said 'Present arms!' this afternoon and walked away!"

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM

By VIVIEN GREY

YESTERDAY: Pam Quellerton is a native of Key West, which makes her a "conch.' But to Pam the term is a compliment, for her family is as good as any that spend the winter in that gay city. And Jerry Winthrope may be a playboy, but now he is seriously in love with Pam, though Freda Barington, to whom he has been engaged for years, will not release him. She just has told him so.

Chapter Six

Insult

FRIEDA was on her feet and looking down at him.

"Lunch time," she said. "Coming?"

"Not just yet." Jerry didn't even watch her as she moved away.

Meanwhile, Pam had been busy all morning completing the largest bunch of violets she had ever made. They were lovely when she finally held out the finished bouquet to admire it. It would be perfect, she reflected, for Mrs. Winthrope's black chiffon dress. Pam had tried to do especially lovely work because they were to be a gift. Jerry's mother had been so sweet and gracious. It was still early afternoon when she stood at the desk of Casa Marina and asked for Mrs. Winthrope. The clerk telephoned and then turned to Pam.

"You may go right up," he said.

Pam followed a bellboy to the door of the Winthrope suite. Lenore opened the door.

"Oh, the little basket girl!" Lenore took the flowers. "How much are they?"

"They're a gift for Mrs. Winthrope," Pam said quietly.

"Just a minute." Lenore took the flowers and let Pam stand at the door. "For you, Mother!" She moved to a desk and picked up her purse, extracting a few silver coins, then went back to Pam.

"But I said it was a gift." Pam's words were clearly and quietly spoken.

The silver fell on the floor when Pam failed to put out her hand for it. A maid in the hall snickered and Mrs. Winthrope, coming to the door, looked at the coins and then at Lenore with something like reproof in her eyes. She had the flowers in her hand.

"Lenore! How could you!" Then to Pam: "Thank you, child. How lovely they are! How sweet of you! You've gone to a great deal of trouble for me. Won't you come in?"

"I'm so glad you're pleased." Pam's face lighted with pleasure. "And now I'll run along."

Mrs. Winthrope had seemed genuinely pleased. Pam had done something for Jerry's mother. That was enough for her.

"That Lenore's the high and mighty!" the maid said when the door of the Winthrope apartment was closed. "But aren't you going to pick up your money?"

"No, it isn't mine. It looks as if you can have it."

"Thank you!" The maid stooped swiftly to scoop up the coins and glanced after Pam as if she thought the girl had gone mad.

"Money on the floor." Pam heard her say, "and she dosn't even bother to pick it up."

But to Pam a gift was a gift. She wanted no return for it. . . .

In the suite at the hotel, Mrs. Winthrope, the violets still in her hand, turned to her daughter. Lenore was furious.

"Did you see what that little Conch girl did?" Lenore exclaimed. "Spurned my money! Made me ridiculous before that maid. Little beachcomber! Beach rat!"

Mrs. Winthrope was surveying herself in the mirror, holding the violets against her gown and finding the result pleasant to look at.

"Serves you right, Lenore," she replied. "I'm sorry to say it, dear, but that little girl didn't humiliate you at all. You did it yourself. You're altogether too high-handed. Use a little discrimination when you tip. You should have asked the girl in and treated her as a friend, not an errand girl."

"Mother! You'll talk differently when you find your son bringing you a Conch daughter-in-law!"

"That's What You Think!"

MRS. WINTHROPE turned sharply to the girl. "What do you mean, Lenore?" she demanded. "You know Jerry would never marry anyone but Freda. He's been in love with her for years. That was settled long ago. Jerry is only amusing himself."

"That's what you think!"

"Jerry's simply doing what every boy does. Flirting. It's harmless, I'm sure." She paused. "I only hope he doesn't hurt her, that she understands it's only a passing interest. She's such a sweet little thing. Pretty, too. I must speak to Jerry. Boys are so thoughtless sometimes."

"Passing interest? That's what you call it!"

"Jerry would never marry anyone but Freda. You know that, Lenore."

"Oh, I'm not saying he actually intends to marry this—this creature. But you can't tell. These little Southern girls aren't as dumb as you think. They know a good thing when they see it. She won't give Jerry up immediately, and his mother accepting gifts from her won't make it any easier for Jerry to pull out of the picture when the time comes. There may be conch shells in the Winthrope family yet!"

Adele Winthrope's eyes were doubtful as she looked at her daughter. "Well, what would you have me do? Return these flowers? Refuse to accept them?"

"I think you should. It would be the thing to do."

Adele hesitated only for an instant.

"I'm not going to. I don't see any point in hurting anyone when you don't have to. And they're beautiful. Quite unusual. I want to take them home with me."

Lenore shrugged. Adele Winthrope stared at her daughter thoughtfully.

"You have so much deviltry in you, Lenore, that sometimes I wonder how you ever happen to be your father's and my daughter. You're talking impossibilities. Jerry is a sensible boy."

"All right! Close your eyes. Refuse to see anything. But won't that be a sweet thing for Dad to face when he comes down? Conch in the Winthrope family! His ancestors will turn in their graves!" Lenore pulled on her beach coat and went out.

After she had gone, Adele Winthrope tried to dismiss the subject as too preposterous for consideration. Pam was a sweet little thing. She hoped nothing would happen that would make Pam unhappy. She must do something nice for her in return for the violets. And very soon. It had been so sweet of the child to do all that work for her.

But she surely needn't fear on the score of Jerry. He wouldn't do anything foolish. After all, he was a Winthrope. She paused a moment just there. Jerry wasn't all Winthrope. He was part Adele Blodgett. She lingered on the thought of the Blodgett girls in the little town of Shirley, Indiana.

Their father had been superintendent of the creosote plant. Their home had been a big comfortable one with plenty of food: all of the necessities, but not many frills. Adele had been the youngest of five girls in a family that had been motherless since her birth. Their father's maiden sister had tried to take the place of their mother, but had never been too successful at it.

A mist gathered in Adele's eyes. She had been fond of her father. As fond as he gave her opportunity to be. They had never taken time to understand each other very well. That was the old way. She was glad Jerry and Lenore regarded her as one of them and spoke to her as such. They might, with their modern young casualness, seem a trace disrespectful sometimes. But they understood each other and there was a deep and abiding love that bound them together.

It was after Tom Blodgett's death, which came after the other four girls had married and Matilda had passed on to her reward, that Adele went to New York and did the thing she had always wanted to do—get a job singing in a restaurant of prewar elegance. There she met handsome Bart Winthrope. All of the fine old Winthropes had been a little shocked when Bart brought his bride home.

But she had won them over. It was probably some last vestige of Matilda that had helped her do that.

Party

THAT night Edmund Antoine gave the supper which paid his bet to Jerry. It had to be late, after he had finished his work at Casa Marina. There were twelve couples at dinner, with a great many more invited in for dancing afterwards.

Antoine had spared nothing. He wanted to make the event something to be remembered, and she looked about the place, Pam, dancing with Jerry, felt that all of the flowers in Key West had been cut for the party and were scenting the air.

Outside Pena's the piazzas and garden were softly lighted with what looked like subdued orange lanterns, but which really were holiday lights after the old Indian custom—just brown paper bags with about three inches of sand in them to form a base and a short candle lighted and standing upright in the sand. The bags were tied at the top.

"The Indians do it in New Mexico," Jerry explained, "to light the way for the coming of Christ Child at Christmas. Isn't it beautiful?"

"Oh, it is! It's lovely! Lovely!" exclaimed Pam.

There was a fay quality about her, Jerry thought, looking down at her. All of her bright young beauty was pointed up by her happiness. Others, besides Jerry, had observed it, and he was having trouble with cut-ins.

"You're too popular," he said to her as one claimed her. "I'll have to do something about it!"

Pam smiled back at him. A girl standing next to Freda said:

"Look, all the rest of us have to work like coal heavers to get and hold a little attention. What's she got that we haven't?"

"Oh, they're just hitching their old wagons to a new star!" Freda said lightly. "It doesn't mean anything."

"That's what you think! It means the difference between a good time and a dull one. I'd like to scalp her!"

Youngsville News

ELECTION

There was a fair sized vote out Tuesday for primary election.

Local officers nominated on the Republican ticket were: Justice of the Peace, John Hutley; burgess, Warren Kay; tax collector, G. R. Ball; school director, Fred Beckenbach; auditor, R. M. Freeborough; councilmen, Leo Johnson, Gilbert Sanford, R. M. Spencer and Earl Young; judge of election, Wylls Johnson; inspector of election Kenneth Sample.

WOMEN'S GROUP NAMES OFFICERS AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 13—The Blue Circle met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Carr. At the business session officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Maye Hooven; vice president, Mrs. Mildred Jones; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Evelyn Carr.

Plans were made for finishing the afghan being made by the members. Mrs. Edna Wood was named as chairman of this project.

Mrs. Gwen Mariner assisted the hostess in serving a delicious luncheon.

TOWNSEND CLUB

Youngsville Townsend Kitchen Band and other members of the club attended the Western Penn State Convention, held recently at DuBois.

The trip was made by chartered bus. The local band was on the entertainment program. Speakers included the Mayor Wm. L. Hoover of DuBois and Representative Nonemaker.

The Founders Day program at Busti is also of local interest as Sugar Grove and Youngsville Townsend Clubs are joining with the Busti group.

BROKENSTRAW GRANGE

Brokenstraw Grange will celebrate Booster Night the evening of Sept. 30th with a good program. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hyde have charge of the lunch.

At the regular meeting, Sept. 23rd the Mountain Grange will present the Brokenstraw Grange with the traveling implement case.

That the Brokenstraw Grange is growing was shown by the initiation into 1st and 2nd degrees of four new members at the last meeting. Entertainment included a quiz on points of interest in Pennsylvania.

AIRPORT

One of the interesting things to do is to motor up to the Brokenstraw airport and see the mail plane deposit and receive mail. Of course there have been times when the plane did not pause because of lack of mail but the getting and receiving of mail does not make much difference in the speed of the plane.

Seven new solo pilots have recently acquired this ability in the flying school here. They are Russell Peck, Warren; Joe Greywitt of Cleveland; Dales Fobes, Albion; Joe LaBarr, Shippenville; Isaac Clubb and James Griffith, of Brookville.

A group from the Brokenstraw Field flew to Jamestown, Sunday to attend the rendezvous.

BRIEFS

The local Garden Club will meet Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, with Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Briggs at 7:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

Sgt. Melvin Dahl, of Westover Field, Mass., spent Tuesday afternoon as the guest of Mrs. Flora Wilcox. Melvin is a Pittsfield boy.

Plans are going forward for an evangelistic service in the Free Methodist church to open Sept. 3d and continue until Oct. 5th.

Messages will be brought by Evangelist Tessaro.

AT WARREN

A number of the members of the Lady Gray Rebekah Lodge attended the district meeting at Warren Friday afternoon and evening; also the dinner at the Y. W. C. A. at 6 o'clock.

Checking Up

WHERE TO GET BABY VOTES

From today look for the signs, printed in red and black, appearing on the windows and in stores and offices of leading community merchants and business men. With each 50c cash purchase or payment on account you will receive a coupon at these business establishments—each coupon entitles any baby you select to votes—thus these progressive firms cooperate in helping the people elect a King and Queen of Babyland by popular vote. Always ask for Baby Votes when you make a purchase—merchants want you to have them, but ask for at the time the purchase is made. The Baby Selection starts now and ends Saturday, November 22, 1941.

STAMPS ON THE SHELVES

Beginning today and continuing through Saturday, a million stores and business establishments throughout the country, including those in Warren, co-operating in "Retailers-for-Defense" week, will offer the public a product never handled before.

They are Defense Savings Stamps, and it is hoped that thousands of Americans who seldom go into banks will see these bargains on the shelves and buy them, thus forming a habit that will benefit them, their country, and their liberties all at once.

If you know a better bargain than that, go to it, but it looks like an awfully good one to us. Remember, "To Keep 'Em Flying, Keep on Buying" U. S. Defense Savings Stamps. A million retailers are making it easier for you.

When you buy anything, any time, at any store in Warren or anywhere else — Buy Defense Savings Stamps, too!

DO YOU REMEMBER SCHLAGETER, ADOLF?

Viggo Hansteen and Rolf Wickstroem have by their death at the hands of the Nazi overlords in Norway wiped out the blot of Quisling. The two Norse labor leaders, led before a Hitler firing squad on charges of having sabotaged aganist the conquerors of their country, more than overbalance in their martyrdom the man whose name has become a synonym for treachery and shame.

Hansteen and Wickstroem! There are two more names to remember. One man should understand their "crime," and that man is Adolf Hitler. Leo Schlageter was his hero when he wrote Mein Kampf. Schlageter was a German Hansteen or Wickstroem of 20 years ago. But the shoe was on the other foot then.

Leo Schlageter had been a German artillery officer in the World War, a fellow veteran of Hitler. In 1923, five years after that war was over, the French occupied the Rhineland when Germany failed to pay reparations. A railway line between Dusseldorf and Duisburg was blown up, and Schlageter was caught in the act.

Despite appeals to the French by the Reich government and even by the Vatican, Schlageter was executed on May 26, 1923. Immediately he became a hero of all the nationalist elements in Germany, and one of the "political saints" of the early days of the Nazi party. Many a "Heil" has Hitler himself given to his hero, Leo Schlageter.

Now it is almost 20 years later. The position is now entirely reversed. Now it is Hitler whose legions trample the peoples of a dozen conquered countries. Now it is German oppression that brave men take their lives in their hands to resist. Now it is Hitler, who admired the courage and loyalty of his comrade, who is giving the orders to shoot down other Schlageters of other lands.

Hitler thought all the Schlageters were in Germany; that courage and loyalty and devotion were German. Increasingly, day after day, week after week, month after month, he is going to run against the same qualities in other peoples. In Holland, France, Belgium, and Denmark, in Yugoslavia and Greece and Czechoslovakia and Poland there are other Hansteens and other Wickstroems.

Hitler may shoot them, but he must understand them, and as each dies, may Hitler start up in his bed and look into the eyes of his old comrade, Schlageter.

Warren airport officials with the assistance of the C. of C., and a group of civic-minded citizens did an excellent job in playing host to almost 200 visitors who came here in 95 planes to participate in the Breakfast Rendezvous Sunday morning.

It was nice to see about 75 per cent of the Warren county boys with Company I who were spending the weekend with friends and relatives.

Warren's football teams provided grid fans some excellent entertainment Saturday and Sunday.

The half-way mark in September!

The Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and then he shall reward every man according to his words.—Matthew 16:27.

God gives to every man the virtue, temper, understanding, taste, that lifts him into life, and lets him fall just in the niche he was ordained to fill.—Cowper.

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—James Montgomery Flagg treats the warm weather calmly. . . . His wiry, bristly grey hair is innocent of a hat. . . . He wears rumpled gaberdines with no tie, and his collar is on the outside of his coat.

Flagg is six-feet-two and owns the bushiest eyebrows in New York. The wrinkles at the corners of his eyes are laugh wrinkles. He likes Roosevelt and the radio but hates athletics. "The word baseball makes me shudder," he recently said to Vesta Kelling during an interview. "I like neither the game, the dust, the yelling, the pop bottles, the peanut shells, nor the shirt sleeves. I must be a snob."

One of these days some motion picture producer is going to have Oliver Gramling's book, "AP—The Story of News," crammed down his throat; then he will receive credit for being an astute showman and grabbing a "natural" while his rivals weren't looking. Had Noel Coward written it (which he couldn't have, even had he wanted to) it would already be hailed as another Cavalcade. It is exactly what its title says it is—the story of news. If you like newspapers, you ought to read it. Presently Oscar Serlin is going to produce it on Broadway. There's a plum in it for the man who takes it to Hollywood.

THE seals in Rockefeller Center should be viewed from all angles. Yesterday I happened to be in the offices of the American Spirits company, high in the RCA building. Peter Siskin said, "Poke your head out the window and look at the seals." . . . I did. . . . From that distance, they seemed to be something thought up by Salvador Dali. . . . They were flat as pancakes, utterly without depth. . . . They swam and frolicked like apparitions out of a Walt Disney film.

While there I was introduced to a famous old character of the New York bar—Judge Warren Foster, whom Herbert Asbury mentions so favorably in his book "The Gangs of New York." The Judge likes to talk of Mark Twain, whom he knew, and also of Ben Butler, who won questionable fame as "Beast" Butler, military dictator of New Orleans during the Civil War and who was charged with stealing all the silver spoons in that southern metropolis. "That wasn't true," the Judge declared. "Ben Butler was greatly maligned."

The Judge also had an interesting explanation of the word "stateroom" as we know it today. Accommodations aboard ship are universally known as "cabins." In New Orleans there was one captain who had two especially fine cabins on his ship. One of these he named Louisiana and the other Mississippi. It was his custom to give these to distinguished guests. . . . If you were important, you got one of the "State" rooms. . . . That's how the word stateroom came into common use.

Yugoslavs Rejected Axis Pact, Made Peter King

THE ascendancy of 17-year-old King Peter II of Yugoslavia to the throne, March 27, 1941, infuriated Adolf Hitler, influenced him to launch his Balkan campaign with an attack on Yugoslavia.

The stage had been set for the type of Nazi infiltration that took place in Rumania and Bulgaria. Prince Regent Paul, reportedly goaded by his pro-Axis wife, Princess Olga, had signed a pact making Yugoslavia a part of the Rome-Berlin-Tokio alliance. After a night of rioting, young Peter overthrew the regency and took the throne, inciting Hitler to war.

The stamp above was issued by the government in 1933 honoring Peter, then a young prince. It was issued in connection with the 60th anniversary meeting of the National Sokols, a sports association.

Peter was born in 1923 and grew up in Belgrade. His mother was Princess Marie of Rumania, daughter and namesake of Queen Marie.

Peter was sent to England to study at the age of 11 but after only 13 days tragedy brought him home. His father, King Alexander, was assassinated as he disembarked at Marseille, France.

Peter fled to England after the German invasion this year.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—When the news of the death of Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt reached Washington the remark most often heard was that she was the most remarkable mother any President ever had.

Although never in the foreground except at a benefit for some charity, such as the Warm Springs Foundation, Mrs. Roosevelt senior was a legend in Washington. From an intimate of the family, here are three stories which illustrate traits which made her remarkable:

HER resistance to weather and her indomitable will were two characteristics which many believe she passed on to her son and which made it possible for him to rise above illness to now nearly nine strenuous years of almost perfect health in the White House.

On a bitterly cold morning in January 1931 Mr. Roosevelt was preparing to leave the Governor's mansion in Albany for New York City. The entourage was already in cars when Mrs. Roosevelt senior entered a front room.

"Where's Franklin?" she demanded. "I must talk to him."

A friend explained that he already was in his car. Mrs. Roosevelt hurried to the window, thumped the pane, signalled for the cars to wait and rushed out into the freezing weather without hat or coat. In a few moments Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt entered the room, saw her mother-in-law standing in the cold and hurried to get her coat. The friend offered to take it out. Mrs. Roosevelt explained "She would never put it on for you."

She hurried out with it, but the 76-year-old matriarch impatiently pushed it aside and finished out her talk with her son, the icy wind whipping through her gray hair. When she returned to the room her only comment was that she wouldn't stand for any coddling.

No matter that her son was President three times, he never grew up as far as she was concerned—and she never hesitated to administer a verbal spanking when she thought he needed it.

At a small family dinner, before the world situation brought a pall on White House gaiety, there was much banter going around the table. The President had been working late and had come to the table in a well-worn pair of slacks. His sons were kidding him about his disreputable pants.

"I suppose," said the President, "you would have had me come to dinner without them."

"Franklin," said the elder Mrs. Roosevelt sharply, "if there is any more such lewd talk, I will leave the table immediately."

AND finally, although President Roosevelt certainly had made himself the most famous politician of his generation, his mother never took politics seriously and didn't care a snap for diplomacy.

The late Huey Long had just come to Washington as senator. As is often the custom he was invited to a White House dinner. It was formal, and the table was long. Mrs. Roosevelt was sitting near one end of the table. The new senator was holding forth at the other and talking loudly.

Mrs. Roosevelt had become a little hard of hearing. She leaned across the table and said to her daughter-in-law "Eleanor, who is that man?" The younger Mrs. Roosevelt, fearing what might be coming by way of comment, made a shush sign and went on talking.

But the President's mother refused to be shushed. In a louder voice she repeated "Who is that man?" and added "I don't like him."

While the politicians were trying to catch their breath, Mrs. Roosevelt went calmly on with her dinner.

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM

By VIVIEN GREY

YESTERDAY: Pam Quellerton is a native of Key West, which makes her a "conch.' But to Pam the term is a compliment, for her family is as good as any that spend the winter in that gay city. And Jerry Winthrope may be a playboy, but now he is seriously in love with Pam, though Freda Barington, to whom he has been engaged for years, will not release him. She just has told him so.

Chapter Six

Insult

FRIEDA was on her feet and looking down at him.

"Lunch time," she said. "Coming?"

"Not just yet." Jerry didn't even watch her as she moved away.

Meanwhile, Pam had been busy all morning completing the largest bunch of violets she had ever made. They were lovely when she finally held out the finished bouquet to admire it. It would be perfect, she reflected, for Mrs. Winthrope's black chiffon dress. Pam had tried to do especially lovely work because they were to be a gift. Jerry's mother had been so sweet and gracious. It was still early afternoon when she stood at the desk of Casa Marina and asked for Mrs. Winthrope. The clerk telephoned and then turned to Pam.

"You may go right up," he said.

Pam followed a bellboy to the door of the Winthrope suite. Lenore opened the door.

"Oh, the little basket girl!" Lenore took the flowers. "How much are they?"

"They're a gift for Mrs. Winthrope." Pam said quietly.

"Just a minute." Lenore took the flowers and let Pam stand at the door. "For you, Mother!" She moved to a desk and picked up her purse, extracting a few silver coins, then went back to Pam.

"But I said it was a gift." Pam's words were clearly and quietly spoken.

The silver fell on the floor when Pam failed to put out her hand for it. A maid in the hall snickered and Mrs. Winthrope, coming to the door, looked at the coins and then at Lenore with something like reproof in her eyes. She had the flowers in her hand.

"Lenore! How could you!" Then to Pam: "Thank you, child. How lovely they are! How sweet of you! You've gone to a great deal of trouble for me. Won't you come in?"

"I'm so glad you're pleased." Pam's face lighted with pleasure. "And now I'll run along."

Mrs. Winthrope had seemed genuinely pleased. Pam had done something for Jerry's mother. That was enough for her.

"That Lenore's the high and mighty!" the maid said when the door of the Winthrope apartment was closed. "But aren't you going to pick up your money?"

"No, it isn't mine. It looks as if you can have it."

"Thank you!" The maid stooped swiftly to scoop up the coins and glanced after Pam as if she thought the girl had gone mad.

"Money on the floor," Pam heard her say, "and she dosn't even bother to pick it up."

But to Pam a gift was a gift. She wanted no return for it. . . .

In the suite at the hotel, Mrs. Winthrope, the violets still in her hand, turned to her daughter. Lenore was furious.

"Did you see what that little Conch girl did?" Lenore exclaimed. "Spurned my money! Made me ridiculous before that maid. Little beachcomber! Beach rat!"

Mrs. Winthrope was surveying herself in the mirror, holding the violets against her gown and finding the result pleasant to look at.

"Serves you right, Lenore," she replied. "I'm sorry to say it, dear, but that little girl didn't humiliate you at all. You did it yourself. You're altogether too high-handed. Use a little discrimination when you tip. You should have asked the girl in and treated her as a friend, not an errand girl."

"Mother! You'll talk differently when you find your son bringing you a Conch daughter-in-law!"

"That's What You Think!"

MRS. WINTHROPE turned sharply to the girl. "What do you mean, Lenore?" she demanded. "You know Jerry would never marry anyone but Freda. He's been in love with her for years. That was settled long ago. Jerry is only amusing himself."

"That's what you think!"

"Jerry's simply doing what every boy does. Flirting. It's harmless, I'm sure." She paused. "I only hope he doesn't hurt her, that she understands it's only a passing interest. She's such a sweet little thing. Pretty, too. I must speak to Jerry. Boys are so thoughtless sometimes."

"Passing interest? That's what you call it!"

"Jerry would never marry anyone but Freda. You know that, Lenore."

"Oh, I'm not saying he actually intends to marry this—this creature. But you can't tell. These little Southern girls aren't as dumb as you think. They know a good thing when they see it. She won't give Jerry up immediately, and his mother accepting gifts from her won't make it any easier for Jerry to pull out of the picture when the time comes. There may be conch shells in the Winthrope family yet!"

Adele Winthrope's eyes were doubtful as she looked at her daughter. "Well, what would you have me do? Return these flowers? Refuse to accept them?"

"I think you should. It would be the thing to do."

Adele hesitated only for an instant.

"I'm not going to. I don't see any point in hurting anyone when you don't have to. And they're beautiful. Quite unusual. I want to take them home with me."

Lenore shrugged. Adele Winthrope stared at her daughter thoughtfully.

"You have so much deviltry in you, Lenore, that sometimes I wonder how you ever happen to be your father's and my daughter. You're talking impossibilities. Jerry is a sensible boy."

"All right! Close your eyes. Refuse to see anything. But won't that be a sweet thing for Dad to face when he comes down? Conch in the Winthrope family! His ancestors will turn in their graves!" Lenore pulled on her beach coat and went out.

After she had gone, Adele Winthrope tried to dismiss the subject as too preposterous for consideration. Pam was a sweet little thing. She hoped nothing would happen that would make Pam unhappy. She must do something nice for her in return for the violets. And very soon. It had been so sweet of the child to do all that work for her.

But she surely needn't fear on the score of Jerry. He wouldn't do anything foolish. After all, he was a Winthrope. She paused a moment just there. Jerry wasn't all Winthrope. He was part Adele Blodgett. She lingered on the thought of the Blodgett girls in the little town of Shirley, Indiana.

Their father had been superintendent of the creosote plant. Their home had been a big comfortable one with plenty of food: all of the necessities, but not many frills. Adele had been the youngest of five girls in a family that had been motherless since her birth. Their father's maiden sister had tried to take the place of their mother, but had never been too successful at it.

A mist gathered in Adele's eyes. She had been fond of her father. As fond as he gave her opportunity to be. They had never taken time to understand each other very well. That was the old way. She was glad Jerry and Lenore regarded her as one of them and spoke to her as such. They might, with their modern young casualness, seem a trace disrespectful sometimes. But they understood each other and there was a deep and abiding love that bound them together.

It was after Tom Blodgett's death, which came after the other four girls had married and Matilda had passed on to her reward, that Adele went to New York and did the thing she had always wanted to do—get a job singing in a restaurant of prewar elegance. There she met handsome Bart Winthrope. All of the fine old Winthropes had been a little shocked when Bart brought his bride home.

But she had won them over. It was probably some last vestige of Matilda that had helped her do that.

Party

THAT night Edmund Antoine gave the supper which paid his bet to Jerry. It had to be late, after he had finished his work at Casa Marina. There were twelve couples at dinner, with a great many more invited in for dancing afterwards.

Antoine had spared nothing. He wanted to make the event something to be remembered, and she looked about the place, Pam, dancing with Jerry, felt that all of the flowers in Key West had been cut for the party and were scenting the air.

Outside Pena's the piazzas and garden were softly lighted with what looked like subdued orange lanterns, but which really were holiday lights after the old Indian custom—just brown paper bags with about three inches of sand in them to form a base and a short candle lighted and standing upright in the sand. The bags were tied at the top.

"The Indians do it in New Mexico," Jerry explained, "to light the way for the coming of Christ Child at Christmas. Isn't it beautiful?"

"Oh, it is! It's lovely! Lovely!" exclaimed Pam.

There was a fay quality about her, Jerry thought, looking down at her. All of her bright young beauty was pointed up by her happiness. Others, besides Jerry, had observed it, and he was having trouble with cut-ins.

"You're too popular," he said to her as one claimed her. "I'll have to do something about it!"

Pam smiled back at him. A girl standing next to Freda said:

"Look, all the rest of us have to work like coal heavers to get and hold a little attention. What's she got that we haven't?"

"Oh, they're just hitching their old wagons to a new star!" Freda said lightly. "It doesn't mean anything."

"That's what you think! It means the difference between a good time and a dull one. I'd like to scalp her!"

ELECTION

There was a fair sized vote out Tuesday for primary election.

Local officers nominated on the Republican ticket were: Justice of the Peace, John Hutley; burgess, Warren Kay; tax collector, G. R. Ball; school director, Fred Beckenbach; auditor, R. M. Freeborough; councilmen, Leo Johnson, Gilbert Sanford, R. M. Spencer and Earl Young; judge of election, Wylls Johnson; inspector of election Kenneth Sample.

WOMEN'S GROUP NAMES OFFICERS AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 13—The Blue Circle met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Carr. At the business session officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Maye Hooven; vice president, Mrs. Mildred Jones; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Evelyn Carr.

Plans were made for finishing the afghan being made by the members. Mrs. Edna Wood was named as chairman of this project.

Mrs. Gwen Mariner assisted the hostess in serving a delicious luncheon.

TOWNSEND CLUB

Youngsville Townsend Kitchen Band and other members of the club attended the Western Penn State Convention, held recently at DuBois.

The trip was made by chartered bus. The local band was on the entertainment program. Speakers included the Mayor Wm. L. Hoover of DuBois and Representative Nonemaker.

The Founders Day program at Busti is also of local interest as Sugar Grove and Youngsville Townsend Clubs are joining with the Busti group.

BROKENSTRAW GRANGE

Brokenstraw Grange will celebrate Booster Night the evening of Sept. 30th with a good program. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hyde have charge of the lunch.

At the regular meeting, Sept. 23rd the Mountain Grange will present the Brokenstraw Grange with the traveling implement case.

That the Brokenstraw Grange is growing was shown by the initiation into 1st and 2nd degrees of four new members at the last meeting. Entertainment included a quiz on points of interest in Pennsylvania.

AIRPORT

One of the interesting things to do is to motor up to the Brokenstraw airport and see the mail plane deposit and receive mail. Of course there have been times when the plane did not pause because of lack of mail but the getting and receiving of mail does not make much difference in the speed of the plane.

Seven new solo pilots have recently acquired this ability in the flying school here. They are Russell Peck, Warren; Joe Greywitt of Cleveland; Dales Fobes, Albion; Joe LaBarr, Shippenville; Isaac Clubb and James Griffith, of Brookville.

A group from the Brokenstraw Field flew to Jamestown, Sunday to attend the rendezvous.

BRIEFS

The local Garden Club will meet Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, with Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Briggs at 7:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

Sgt. Melvin Dahl, of Westover Field, Mass., spent Tuesday afternoon as the guest of Mrs. Flora Wilcox. Melvin is a Pittsfield boy.

Plans are going forward for an evangelistic service in the Free Methodist church to open Sept. 3d and continue until Oct. 5th.

Messages will be brought by Evangelist Tessaro.

AT WARREN

A number of the members of the Lady Gray Rebekah Lodge attended the district meeting at Warren Friday afternoon and evening; also the dinner at the Y. W. C. A. at 6 o'clock.

Checking Up

CARS DAMAGED IN AUTO CRASH AT SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Sept. 15—A car, owned and operated by Banks Heeter, of Saybrook, and another, operated by Robert Nichols, of Ludlow, collided at the intersection of routes 6 and 666 opposite the Sheffield Service Station here about 10:30 Saturday night.

Bus Edwards, of Sheffield, who received light cuts on the head and forehead, was the only person injured. He was an occupant of Heeter's car, in which Roland Heeter, of Sheffield, was a passenger also. Nichols was accompanied by Rachel Nichols, of Ludlow, and Wilma Robbins, of Warren.

Heeter, who had just left the business section of town, was enroute west to Saybrook and Nichols was enroute east to Ludlow when the mishap occurred. Damage to the cars, confined largely to the left front areas, was estimated at $100.

The accident was investigated by Sanford Secor, local police chief.

Defense Stamps As Way To Buy Bonds

United States Defense Savings Stamps provide an easy convenient method for Americans to save enough money to buy a United States Defense Savings Bond. The Stamps can be bought for a dime, a quarter, a half-dollar, a dollar, or 5 dollars. Albums are given with the purchase of your first Stamp. When your album is filled, you can exchange it readily for a Defense Bond.

A Stamp album containing 75 of the 25-cent Stamps has a total value of $18.75 and buys a Bond worth $25 in 10 years. An album filled with 75 of the 50-cent Defense Stamps represents $37.50 and buys a Bond worth $50 in 10 years. Albums containing 75 of the $1 Stamps or 15 of the $5 Stamps represent $75 and buy a Bond worth $100 in 10 years.

Regular purchase of Defense Savings Stamps is a simple and systematic way to save money. When you have exchanged your completed Stamp albums for Defense Savings Bonds, you will have put money aside where it will be safe, where it will grow, where you can get it when you need it, and where it will help National Defense.

HOW IT WAS NAMED

The great Portuguese navigator, Vasco da Gama, was born Christmas Day of 1460, and died Christmas eve of 1524. Natal, Africa, was discovered by him on Christmas Day of 1497, and he called it "Terra Natalis," or "Land of the Nativity."

BARKING DOGS

When a dog barks, he holds his head high, leaving his throat exposed. When he growls, he lowers his head, for a growl means impending attack, and the vulnerable neck is guarded by the sinking of the head.

Three Evangelical Pastors Returned To County Charges

Three Warern county Evangelical pastors were returned to their charges for another year at the closing session of the Pittsburgh Conference at Johnstown yesterday.

They are the Rev. J. C. Wygant, of Warren First church, the Rev. S. R. Schieb, of Warren Salem church, and the Rev. A. G. Meade, of Clarendon.

The conference has accepted the invitation of the Bedford street church in Johnstown to make it the 1942 conference site.

SPEEDY STARS

Our galaxy of stars is moving faster than 200 miles a second, approximately north at 45 degrees in the general direction of the star Vega, astronomers have estimated.

Annual production of brown sugar is worth $20,000,000 according to the Bureau of the Census, with 473,000,000 pounds of brown sugar refined.

PRICE OF MILK TO BE BOOSTED CENT PER QUART

Retail price of milk in Warren will be increased one cent per quart, effective tomorrow, as a result of an order received from the Pennsylvania State Milk Control Commission, it was announced here today.

The price increase is effective in all parts of Pennsylvania designated as the state-wide area.

Other areas have had price increases previously, it was stated.

It was pointed out that the one cent per quart increase will benefit the milk producers to the extent of approximately 25 cents per hundred pounds in this locality.

New retail milk prices here will be 12 cents per quart and seven cents per pint for the regular grades. Vitamin D and chocolate milk are one cent more per quart.

OBITUARY

GEORGE HILLMAN

George Hillman of York Hill, near Youngsville, died Saturday night at 8 at the Warren State Hospital, from pneumonia. He had been a patient in that hospital about five weeks. He was 80 years old, having been born on Dalrymple Hill, near Sugar Grove, the youngest son of George and Sarah Hillman. He had resided in Warren County all his life. The earlier years of his life he worked as sawer in lumber mills in the county. His only survivors are several nieces and a nephew and great-nieces and nephews. The remains were taken to the Schoonover Funeral Home in Sugar Grove, where funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 11, D.S.T. Interment will be made in the Stilson Hill Cemetery.

MRS. FLORENCE WOLF

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Florence Haag Wolf, a former Warren resident and a graduate of the Warren General Hospital nurses' training school, were held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Richmond Avenue Church of Christ in Buffalo, with her pastor, Rev. Treewallow, officiating. Friends and relatives were in attendance from Buffalo, Lakewood, Erie, Pittsburgh, Youngsville and Jamestown.

Interment was in the family plot in Oakland cemetery here at 5:30 o'clock with the Rev. Treewallow in charge of services at the grave.

JAMES WALLACE

James Wallace, Pioneer Kane resident, died early Saturday at the home of his niece, Mrs. Henry Appel, 9 Schanz street, Warren, from complications that have kept him in ill health for the past several months.

Mr. Wallace was born in Kane, May 15, 1870, when that community was in its infancy. He attended the parochial schools there and after completing his education, entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and remained with them for 45 years until his retirement six years ago. For several years he was assistant yardmaster at Kane and previous to that time he was yard conductor.

In 1895 Mr. Wallace was married to Miss Julia Dwyer, of anotheer pioneer family, whose death occurred in February, 1940. Surviving are three sons, Russell, Thomas and Mark, and two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Eld and Mrs. Charles Thomas, all of Kane. He also leaves five grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. A. A. Daly and Mrs. Mary McNamara, both of Warren.

Mr. Wallace was a charter member of the Kane Moose Lodge, a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen since its early days, and a lifelong member of St. Callistus church at Kane.

Removal was made to Kane, where services in his memory will be conducted from St. Callistus church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

HENRY W. HIGHHOUSE

Funeral services of Henry W. Highhouse, held at three o'clock Sunday afternoon at the family home in Pleasant township, were very largely attended. Rev. Edward K. Rogers, pastor of the First Lutheran church, officiated and interment was made in Oakland cemetery. Those who acted as bearers were Henry Peterson, Harold Honhart, Maynard Briggs, Harold Briggs, James Highhouse, Louis Highhouse.

Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John Highhouse, Howard Highhouse, Mary Alice Highhouse, Mr. and Mrs. David Parker, Erie; Mrs. Amelia Herrick, Ernest Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Swanson, Maynard Swanson and Dorothy Swanson, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Alland, Mrs. Dalton, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Honhart, Mr. and Mrs. George Honhart, Mr. and Mrs. Willett Shearman, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Honhart, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Briggs, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hertzel, North East; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, Bradford.

MRS. JOHN NELSON

Funeral services in memory of Florence Nelson, wife of John Nelson, of the Jackson Run road, were held at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Peterson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. J. H. Cruickshank, pastor of the North Warren Presbyterian church. Interment was made in Oakland cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: Raymond Fisk, Merle Bosworth, A. T. Bergeson, Martin Anderson, Willard Tremblay and Herbert Waite.

Attending the rites from out of town were Mrs. George Evan, Oil City; Joseph McCool, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCool, John McCool, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCool and family, Sheffield; Mr. and Mrs. Clark Harriger, Bolivar, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Ebby Nelson, Erie; Mrs. F. h. Harvey, Cleveland, O.

IRA F. SAMUELSON

Ira Frank Samuelson, local building contractor for many years, passed away this morning at eight o'clock at his home, 312 Jackson avenue. He was aged 74 years.

He is survived by his wife, Christine Sizer Samuelson; one daughter, Bernice Samuelson, at home; two brothers, Ivan L. and Norman L. Samuelson, of Akron, Ohio. One son preceded him in death nine years ago.

He was a member of the First Lutheran church. He also was a member of Warren Lodge, No. 339, I. O. O. F., and Kossuth Encampment, No. 98.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the home, 312 Jackson avenue, with the Rev. Edward Rogers officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

BIG CAKE

Every year a one-ton birthday cake is cut by a Los Angeles department store. The making of this mammoth cake requires 260 pounds of butter, 372 pounds of sugar, 382 pounds of flour, 3600 eggs, 3 quarts of vanilla and 400 pounds of icing.

INFLATED LIZARDS

Chuckwalla lizards of the southeastern deserts of the United States inflate themselves in rocky crevices. This makes it impossible to pull them out, so Indians capture them by puncturing their bodies with wires.

ABOUT GYPSIES

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Around Metro these days there's a noticeable palpitation, an excitement. Their new "discovery," Miss Shirley Temple, has started her first picture, "Kathleen."

"What do you think of our new little star?" asked one of the Metroites after I'd been over to inspect. "We've got great hopes for her."

Well, that's Metro for you. Miss Temple has arrived. She is working for Leo the Lion. Leo has great hopes for a little fellow who led the box-office parade for four consecutive years, earned millions for 20th Century-Fox and tucked a couple away for herself and Uncle Sam.

Miss Temple, of course, is making a comeback. About 15 months ago, she retired to the calm of home and private school life, attending an exclusive school for girls where, next semester, she will enter the ninth grade.

There was a general impression abroad that the young lady was "washed up" in pictures, due to the fact that in a stellar rating she had slipped from first to fifth. The Temples quietly did their own slipping out of the movie scene. The offers came, and Metro's was the first accepted. She will make two movies a year, one in vacation, one during school, at about $65,000 per.

A FIRST look at Shirley after 15 months is startling. She's on the verge of what is usually called "radiant young womanhood." Not exactly streamlined, but most of the childish plumpness is gone. Her once curly golden hair is now brown. I remember, when it began to turn several years ago as Mrs. Temple said it would, it was practically as sensational an item as, in its day, the bobbing of Mary Pickford's curls.

"I think," said Shirley seriously, "that there are more brunettes than blondes now, anyway."

Mention of the "awkward age" in connection with Miss Temple is rather ridiculous. Shirley is in it, now, of course, but she can't seem to be awkward about it. As we were talking, a delegation of visitors, including two priests, arrived. Miss Temple excused herself to greet them, and for the next five minutes, alone and unprompted, she held pleasant court, as poised as a duchess, as unaffected as a baby.

IT WAS like old times when Shirley went back into her scene: Mrs. Temple sitting on a stool watching, and Shirley's stand-in and friend of old, Mary Lou Islieb, back at work. "I don't need to watch her any more," said Mrs. Temple, "but I'm just interested."

Through force of habit, perhaps, Mrs. Temple would make a suggestion here or there, aside to Shirley. But that was all.

The Temples were delighted with "Kathleen," with Director Harold Bucquet and with the cast—Laraine Day, Herbert Marshall among others. Said Mrs. Temple: "Shirley won't have to carry the whole burden this way—and she shouldn't have to."

Little Miss Temple, Metro's discovery, went trouping through another scene. I too think Metro "has something there."

Pattern 4885

By Anne Adams

First-in-fashion for little youngsters is Pattern 4885 in both of its charming versions. Anne Adams designed this frock with a clever yoke accented either by simple embroidery or made of a contrasting fabric. In the contrast version the short sleeves, front and back yokes and the center-front panel are made of a different fabric, perhaps plain contrasted with check. The other version is all of one fabric—a motif for the flower embroidery and directions are included with the helpful Sew Chart. There is an optional sash belt beginning at the front panel and tying in the back. Both frocks use button trim in front but open at the back.

Pattern 4885 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6, dress all one fabric, takes 2 yards 35 inch fabric; other dress, 1⅝ yards 35 inch fabric and ⅞ yard contrast.

Pattern 4887 is available in sizes semall (32-34), medium (36-38), and large (40-42). Small size takes 3¼ yards 35 inch fabric.

Mid-afternoon Church Ceremony Unites Miss Mary Martha Taylor and Kenneth E. Carlson

White gladioli, candelabra and palms were used in pretty decoration of the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon, when Miss Mary Martha Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Taylor, 600 Henry street, became the bride of Kenneth E. Carlson, of Cleveland, O., son of Albert Carlson, of Sheffield. Dr. Harold C. Warren read the ceremony.

As guests were assembling, Marcus Naylor played the following selections for an organ recital: "Fanfare in D" by Lemmens, adagio from First Sonata by Mendelssohn, allegro vivace from the "Water Music Suite" by Handel, "Ave Maria" by Schubert; "Gavotte" by Wesley, chorale prelude "Dearest Jesus, We Are Here" by Bach and "I Love You Truly" by Bond. In addition, he played the Wagner and Mendelssohn wedding marches and, softly during the ceremony, "O Perfect Love," Scott-Gatty. Miss Bessie Strickland, soprano, sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg and "Still As the Night" by Bohm.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and had as her attendants her sisters, the Misses Bernice and Gladys Taylor, and Miss Elaine Koebley. Others in the bridal party were Roy A. Carlson, of Harrisburg, as best man; Ardelle T. Saylor, of Warren, and Robert L. Jones, of Sheffield, as ushers.

The bridal gown of white satin was fashioned with sweetheart neckline, leg o' mutton sleeves, and lace panels in skirt and train. A lace tiara held her fingertip veil and a lavender orchid centered her shower bouquet of white roses. Attendants' gowns were of taffeta, with short sleeves and peplums, the maid of honor wearing blue and the others pink. All carried bouquets of pink roses and had matching fresh flowers in their hair.

A reception followed at the Philomel Club, when Mrs. Taylor received about 70 guests in a green crepe jacket dress with which she wore a corsage of red roses.

Appointments were carried out in white, with a three-tier wedding cake, decorated with miniature bridal couple, and white gladioli.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Phillips and family, Olean, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carlson, Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Justin Sheddy, Fredonia, N. Y.; Mrs. Lina Phillips, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Offerle, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkins, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shoop, Corry.

For a wedding trip to Harrisburg and eastern Pennsylvania, Mrs. Carlson chose a black wool frock with jacket, black accessories and the orchid from her bride's bouquet. After September 22, the couple will be at home at 1242 Rozelle avenue, Cleveland.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school in 1936 and has been employed by the New Process Company. Mr. Carlson, alumnus of Sheffield High School in the same year, is employed with the war department, Cleveland ordnance district, Cleveland.

Following an announcement party given by her mother, the bride-elect was entertained with a dinner at Gretchen's Kitchen in Jamestown by Angeline Cosentino, Mrs. Elsie Stewart and Mrs. Margaret Briggs; a dinner at the Y. W. C. A. by the New Process credit department; miscellaneous shower by Martha Schwartz and Elaine Koebley; kitchen shower by Bernice and Gladys Taylor; miscellaneous shower by Janet Ross and Mary Betty Trusler; miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Helen V. Peterson and Mrs. Glayds Carlson. Mrs. Taylor gave the rehearsal party at the family home Friday evening. A stag party was arranged for the bridegroom by Sheffield and Warren friends.

Smith and Althaus Marriage On Friday

Miss Ila Althaus and Raymond Smith, both of Warren, were united in marriage in St. Joseph's rectory at eleven o'clock Friday morning, according to announcement made today. Father Edward Jacobs performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length frock of blue with matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of red roses and blue delphinium. She was attended by her sister, Miss Wanda Hoskins, who wore black, black accessories and a shoulder corsage of yellow roses and baby's breath.

Mr. Smith was attended by Edwin Smith, also of Warren.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served in Jamestown, N. Y. After a short wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canadian points, the couple will reside at 206 East street.

A number of shower parties have been given for the bride-elect. The latest was given by Mrs. Hazel Homan, who entertained a few friends at her home on Jackson street extension last Wednesday afternoon. The honored guest received some lovely gifts for her new home from Mrs. Joseph Maley, Mrs. Freda Mathis, Mrs. Mendal Hunter and the hostess, Mrs. Homan.

Community Council Opens Season Sale For Drama Tickets

Mrs. Fred Schuler, who is general chairman for this year's Clare Tree Major play presentations by the Community Council P. T. A., announces that the season ticket sale gets under way today.

Chairmen who have been appointed for the various schools in the borough are as follows:

Jefferson, Mrs. John Harrington; McClintock, Mrs. James Scalise; Lacy, Mrs. Arthur McDonald; Seneca, Mrs. Hjalmar Forsgren; Home Street; Mrs. R. W. Carlson; East Street, Mrs. William Bennett, Jr.; South Street, Mrs. Quay McCune.

The plays are always given at four o'clock in the afternoon in the high school auditorium, a plan that allows the younger children to enjoy these dramatic productions without being out in late evening.

An advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue gives further information concerning the season ticket sale plan.

Announcement Made By Concert Unit Of Tentative Artists

The annual membership canvass of the Warren Concert Association got under way over the weekend and will continue through Saturday of this week, with nearly 40 workers participating in the enrollment.

Although no definite announcement can be made until the campaign for members is concluded, Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, president of the association, announced today that the committee has in prospect a very good array of talent for presentation this season. If the present membership is maintained in this week's campaign, the officials will present for three attractions the following:

Frederick Jagel, leading tenor for Italian roles in the Metropolitan Opera since 1927 and just home from a most successful summer concert tour in South America.

The Curtis String Quartet, famed for its annual summer festivals of chamber music in Captain Eell's Boat Barn at Rockport, Me., and in Acadia National Park, while its winter four-and-five-concert series in Philadelphia, Newark, Wilmington and Baltimore are entirely sold out weeks in advance.

Sidney Foster, young American pianist and first winner of the Leventritt Foundation Award, who was heard in a brilliant concerto with the New York Philharmonic this spring.

Family Reunions

STEEN AND BATTIN

The Steen and Battin reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steen at Petroleum Center on Sunday, September 21. There will be a basket picnic and chicken is to feature the menu. All relatives of the above families are urged to be present to make this first reunion a success.

MATHIS FAMILY

Members of the Mathis families gathered Sunday at Lloyd Jones' camp, Bubbling Springs at Cherry Grove, for their first reunion. There were about 90 present, including the following from away:

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Host and sons, Jim, John and Jay, of Salamanca, N. Y.; Clara Mathis Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold, Florence Mathis Hammond and daughter, Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hermann, Rochester, N. Y.

It was decided to make the gathering an annual affair and the following officers were elected: President, Dewey Baldensperger; vice president, Lloyd Jones; secretary-treasurer, B. H. Mathis; historian, Ella Jones.

Entertainment included games for the younger folks and ball games for the elders and a picnic dinner was greatly enjoyed by the entire gathering.

Quick Facts About U. S. Savings Bonds

A United States Defense Savings Bond is proof that you have loaned money to the government for national defense. The full faith and credit of the United States government are pledged for payment of principal and interest on each bond.

The Treasury has divided Defense Bonds into three groups, series E, F and G. These Bonds may be obtained for cash, or in exchange for Defense Savings Stamps.

For example, a Stamp album containing 75 of the 25-cent Defense Stamps represents $18.75 and buys an E Bond worth $25 in 10 years. An album filled with 75 of the 50-cent Defense Stamps represents $37.50 and buys an E Bond worth $50 in 10 years. Albums containing 75 of the $1 Defense Stamps of 15 of the $5 Defense Stamps represent $75 and buy an E bond worth $100 in 10 years.

Series F and Series G of the Defense Savings Bonds are for persons or corporations accustomed to investing larger earnings and are available in denominations from $100 to $10,000.

Demand for a recent Department of Commerce report on use of the United States flag in commerce necessitated a second edition.

Sugar Grove

Sugar Grove, Sept. 10—The W. C. T. U. met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Claude Davis, with Mrs. Mabel Dallas presiding. The group voted to sell glass knives and discussed plans for a convention with a state speaker in the near future. The hostess served refreshments.

Among the students who are entering college within a few days are Miss Felice Hagberg, Harold Landin and Laurence Olson, at Houghton College; Miss Helen Abbott, at Jamestown Business College; Charles Swanson and Curtis Norbeck, at State College.

Miss Jane Abbott has resigned her position at Blackford County Hospital at Hartford City, Ind., and accepted a position as technician at Butler Memorial Hospital at Butler.

Stuart Cumming and friend, Lloyd Merrill, of Greenfield, Mass., returned to their home Friday, after being guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cuming. They were accompanied by Mr. Cumming's sister, Mrs. George Wholeben, of Warren, who will be the guest of her brother and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Byrd, of Hartford City, Ind., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Abbott. The two couples spent Friday at Niagara Falls.

Laurence Dalrymple spent the weekend at Canton, O. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Dalrymple, who had spent the week with relatives in Canton and at the Ohio state fair at Columbus.

Mrs. Charles Swanson and son and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kooman, of Jamestown, spent Sunday at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Abbott accompanied their daughter, Jane, to Butler Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Edlund, at Russellton, Pa.

Miss Marie Norbeck, who has been suffering from a foot infection, was able to return to her duty as a member of the new class at W. C. A. training school Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sherrard and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sherrard and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Keiffer and family, of Tionesta.

Many Sugar Grove families are inconvenienced by a shortage of water, as many wells are dry. One of the old wells on the condensery property has been opened and a pump placed on it, as many in that vicinity are without water.

Mrs. Cora Broughton and daughter, Flossie, have returned to Lakewood, N. J., after spending the summer here. Miss Broughton will resume her work on the faculty of Lakewood High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hendershott, of Rockland, Pa., were week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thompson.

PHOBIAS

FEAR is the greatest enemy of mankind. It is a poison that affects the entire physical being. One of the most useful and constructive functions of medical science is to combat FEAR, as far as possible.

In training children, modern methods stress that everything put into a child's mind to instill FEAR is harmful to mental and physical development. Parents should cultivate confidence and fearlessness in every sense.

However, the fears of "phobias" of grown-ups are just as harmful and nerve-wracking as those of childhood. The man who lives with the fear of failure, losing his job, money reverses, disease, of being discovered in some situation—sooner or later will pay physical toll.

A famous specialist on nerve diseases once said that "a contented man does not drink—he does not need to escape his fears." Whether or not that is true, the average physician can testify that fear is one of the most potent factors he has to combat in high blood-pressure, nervousness, and many other physical ailments. Your physician can help you to overcome many of your "phobias" or FEARS, if you will give him the opportunity. Keep up your mental health as well as your physical well-being.

RED JACKETS COP OPENER, TROUNCE HOMEWOOD, 20 TO 0

BROWN AND BIZZARO STAND OUT FOR CHAMPS AS THEY HANG UP FIRST CONQUEST OF CAMPAIGN

The Red Jackets opened their season yesterday with an impressive 20-0 victory over the Homewood Community Club, one of the happiest teams ever to come out of the Pittsburgh district of sandlot grid outfits, and though the locals have lots of room for improvement, show that the team is going to be a powerhouse if it develops as it should.

Playing without the services of "Brud" Murphy, Jamestown, and "Ken" Whisner, who were Red Jacket contributions to this rising eastern pro football power known as the New York Yankees, the Reese-Paris aggregation pulled some nifty plays that gave the fans an entertaining fracas which wasn't marred greatly by various errors, mainly fumbles committed by both outfits.

The game was hardly under way before the Red Jackets had drawn blood, and they hinted that it was going to be a quick rout of the lighter opponents. Harry Ganza, 245-pound fullback from Erie, returned the opening kickoff from the 20 to 36 yard line in Jacket territory, then romped through the Homewood team to the visitors' 37 on the first play. Bradford's Joe Bizzaro gained a yard, Ganza added three and Warnie Check teamed his southpaw passing arm with Bizzaro's fine running for a 37 yard aerial and run for a touchdown. Harry Rosequist kicked the point.

Highly inspired by the quick score, both the Jackets and fans seemed to be looking for easy going, but from there on till the third period, the Community Clubbers braced themselves and threw back attack upon attack in staging a beautiful defense.

Not until the fading minutes of the third quarter did the western Pennsylvania semi-pro champs get into another scoring position and when Bizzaro swept right end for seven yards and a score, with Rosey" again booting the point.

The play was set up by a seventy-yard drive, starting with Jamestown's Louis DeSantis returning a punt from the Warren 9 to 44 yard stripe. Harold Brown fumbled the center on the next play, recovered and passed to Blossey, after nearly being trapped, for sixteen yards and a first down on the Homewood forty. Martines added another first down with a 27 yard run around right end placing the ball in the Homewood 13.

Bizzaro tried the line twice for three yards, tossed a pass which was knocked down by Sonny Shimmer, and then crossed the line. Midway in the final canto Thompson intercepted a Warren pass on the Homewood thirty, returned to the 35 where he was hit hard and fumbled, Graham recovered on the Homewood 37 yard line for Warren.

A pass from Check to Johnny Barnes, fleet end from Corry, gave the locals a first down on the fourteen, and another toss from Check to Clair Ward, North Warren Jacket prospect, added another first down on the four yard line, after Warren had drawn a 15 yard penalty for holding. The pass to Ward was good for 24 yards.

"Bullet Bill" Graham hit the center of the line to place the ball in the one yard stripe, and scored on the following play through left guard. Warnie Check tried to spot the point but failed.

The Jackets came back strong after the kickoff and were threatening to score again, having the ball on the visitors' three yard line when the game ended.

Next week the Pace Athletic club from the Pittsburgh district, featuring the popular "Whitey" Bowle, is slated to be the Red Jackets' opponent, and a week from Wednesday night the locals will play their first of four games under the arcs in Corry.

Soose and Garcia In Bout Tonight

BY ROBERT MYERS

Los Angeles, Sept. 15—(AP)—Middleweight Champion Billy Soose planks his prestige, if not his title, on the line tonight in a 12-round outdoor fight to a decision with bronze-skinned Ceferino Garcia, veteran Filipino with the famed so-called bolo-punch.

Good looking Billy, fromer Penn State College boxer and owner of one of the most gifted lefthands in the fight business, goes into the ring a slight betting favorite to outpoint Garcia, who held Soose's New York-Pennsylvania recognized world title in 1939-40.

PHILLIES MAY BE PURCHASED BY NEW GROUP

BY SID FEDER

New York, Sept. 15—(AP)—Although no one involved will make a peep about it yet, it was learned today that a group of men headed by John B. Kelly, former world champion oarsman, is interested in buying the Philadelphia Phillies.

The story is that Kelly, a Philadelphia Democratic leader and now national chairman for civilian physical training, and Jim Peterson, who pitched for Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics about a decade ago, are the guiding lights in the attempt to purchase the National League's chronic cellar dwellers.

Eagles and Lions Drop Grid Games

BY TOM SILER

Chicago, Sept. 15—(AP)—Earle (Greasy) Neale and Big Bill Edwards, two highly successful college coaches, still were a bit dazed today by their rude reception in the National Football League.

Each made his competitive bow over the weekend with almost identical results—crushing defeat by two of the most improved and powerful elevens in the 10-team circuit.

Neale, former backfield coach at Yale, saw the stream-lined New York Giants smear the first edition of his Philadelphia Eagles 24 to 0, before 38,747 at Philadelphia Saturday night. Curly Lambeau's Green Bay Packers were no more hospitable to Edwards, rolling over his Detroit Lions, 23 to 0, yesterday afternoon.

Hogan Ties DiMag With 56 Straight

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 15—(AP)—You'll probably be hearing a lot from now on about Lloyd Mangrum, the golfer from Monterey Park, Calif.

The 137-pound slugger came to Atlantic City the other day with the prediction that he'd walk off with top money in the first $5,000 Greater Atlantic City Open Tournament. He hit 1,000 in the prediction league, taking the lead with a seven-under-par 65 on the first round and never going above par as he wound up with 69-69-72 for a total of 275.

Ben Hogan, the year's leading money-winner, and Vic Ghezzi tied for second with 281's. Jack Grout of Pittstown, Pa., and Lawson Little of San Francisco were another stroke back while Denny Shute, Horton Smith and Tony Penna had 283's.

Dodgers Win, Lose Half Game As Cards Sweep Doubleheader

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It will be some time before baseball produces two gamer, more stout-hearted teams than the pair now locked in battle for the National League championship. The fact is emphasized anew daily as the Dodgers and the Cards go into the final furious fortnight.

If either of them intended to crack, yesterday offered a beautiful opportunity. Both contenders ran into superb pitching and both trailed at one time or another, but when the dust settled last night they both had won their games and still were breathing defiance.

The St. Louis gang perhaps displayed the sterner fighting qualities in overcoming the Giants twice by scores of 1 to 0 and 6 to 5, the second tussle going 10 innings. Carl Hubbell, still a master craftsman, held them to three hits in the opener, but they put one run across with a Giant misplay to score and give the veteran Lon Warneke a richly deserved triumph.

They went into the ninth frame of the second game trailing by two runs, but they knocked Cliff Melton from the hill to tie it up and then won out in the 10th on an error by Dick Bartell with the sacks filled.

The double win enabled the Cards to reduce Brooklyn's lead to a game and a half, despite the Dodgers' hard-earned 7 to 5 victory over Cincinnati. The margin is certain to be changed one way or the other today, as the Cards take a rest while the Dodgers have another shot at the Reds.

The defeat nearly cost Cincinnati third place in the National. Pittsburgh won its first game with the Phils 2 to 1 and appeared to have the nightcap sewed up until the Phils suddenly blasted loose for five runs in the ninth inning to win 6 to 3.

The Chicago Cubs split a pair with the Boston Braves. The Braves blasted 15 hits to take the first 6 to 3, but absorbed a 10-3 licking in the second.

Young Sid Hudson turned in the day's feature piece in the American League, yielding only four hits in pitching Washington to a 2-0 shutout over Detroit.

The Cleveland Indians hopped on Marv Breuer for five runs in the eighth inning to win the second game from the Yanks, 5 to 2, after losing the first 6 to 3 on George Selkirk's homer with two aboard.

The Boston Red Sox virtually clinched second place by taking a pair from Chicago, 9-2 and 5-2, and their great first-baseman, Jimmy Foxx, carved himself a hunk of baseball record by running his runs-batted-in total to 102. It marks the 13th year he has passed 100, tying the record held by the late Lou Gehrig.

St. Louis shoved the Philadelphia Athletics into the cellar by sweeping a doubleheader 7-2 and 5-1.

LEW JENKINS HURT

Little Ferry, N. J., Sept. 15—(AP)—Lew Jenkins, lightweight boxing champion, was injured today when his motorcycle slid off the roadway at a traffic circle.

Jenkins, training at Pompton Lakes for a non-title fight October 6 in New York with Welterweight Titleholder Freddie Cochrane, was treated at Hackensack hospital for contusions and abrasions. His condition was described as not serious by hospital attaches.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press

Billy Herman, Dodgers—His ninth-inning homer provided the winning run over Cincinnati.

Lon Warneke and Coaker Triplett, Cardinals—Warneke pitched 1-0 shutout victory over Giants to keep Cards in race, Triplett made four hits in second game and scored winning run.

Bobby Bragan, Phillies—His single with bases loaded in ninth beat Pittsburgh, 6 to 3, to earn even break in doubleheader.

Jimmy Foxx, Red Sox—Ran his runs-batted in total to 102, marking 13th consecutive year he has knocked in more than 100 runs and tying record held by late Lou Gehrig.

SHEFFIELD HIGH IS EASY WINNER AT WATERFORD

Sheffield, Sept. 15—Piling up points in every period of the game, the Sheffield H. S. Wolverines opened their 1941 grid campaign here Saturday afternoon with a 61 to 0 conquest of plucky but outweighed and outmanned Waterford Hi, Erie County Class B. Conference eleven.

The locals directed this season by a new coach, Joe Massa, former Kinzua H. S. mentor, started their big scoring spree almost immediately after the opening kickoff, Captain Don Lyle racing 44 yards on the third play from scrimmage for the first touchdown.

Ere the game was over, Lyle notched 2 additional six-pointers and an extra point, but the locals' big scoring gun was Lowell "Blitzkrieg" Blake, six-foot, 180-pound fullback who tallied 5 touchdowns and a pair of extra points for a total of 32 for his afternoon's work.

"Big 15" Will Have No Champ This Year

Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 15—(AP)—There won't be a championship at stake in the East Central Pennsylvania Interscholastic Football Conference this year.

Representatives of the "Big 15" have voted against naming a champion because at least nine of the members schools have been forced to curtail training periods and schedules by the outbreak of infantile paralysis.

The conference also decided that no member school affected by a quarantine could open its season until 15 school days after the ban has been lifted.

The conference includes Steelton, Lebanon, York, Lancaster, Bethlehem, Allentown, Shamokin, Sunbury, Williamsport, Hazleton, Reading, Pottsville and William Penn and John Harris high schools of Harrisburg.

BLUE AND WHITE IMPRESSIVE ON GROUND; YELLOW JACKETS SCORE TWICE ON LONG JAUNTS

Three teams were impressive in Saturday's high school tussle on Russell Field, the Girard Yellow Jackets and the Warren High varsity and third team, as the locals pounded out a 26-13 verdict over Joe Leson's warriors before a crowd of 1300 school grid fans.

Concentrating on a ground attack which netted 256 yards, the Blue and White crossed the visitors' goal line once in every period to cop the decision easily, and leave plenty of time in the ball game for experimenting with some of the younger candidates.

The Leidigmen hit their stride early in the first quarter, started a drive on the Girard forty-five, and completed it with a line plunge by Albert Salerno from the two yard line for the first touchdown with only a third of the period gone. A pass from Don Sharp to Adams added the extra point.

The two teams battled back and forth, with the Dragons carrying the play and being on the offensive most of the time until the second quarter, when they again found the range and added another score.

Davern, Girard left halfback, fumbled on his own 27 yard line on the first play after Don Sharp had punted into the end zone early in the canto, and Warren recovered the ball. Bob Sedon tossed a pass to Sharp for a first down on the Girard 12, Sharp gained four on a line play, and then Sedon's heave to Frank Peterson was complete for the tally. A bad center was picked up by Sedon, but he failed to make the point.

After the half, during which time the local high school band made its first appearance on the field and gave an outstanding performance which was applauded by the crowd, both teams settled down to scoring.

Midway in the third stanza the Yellow Jackets, waiting for an opening all afternoon, caught the Dragons napping and Davern skirted right end, cut back diagonally across the field and raced thirty-seven yards for the first Girard touchdown. Hopkins couldn't reach Stearns' pass for the point, but the underdogs had crossed Warren's goal.

With reserves in and out, the locals kept pounding away at a tiring Yellow Jacket line and late in the third quarter scored themselves on another short plunge by Salerno which capped a drive started from Warren's sixteen where Don Sharp caught a punt and returned it to the 41 yard line in Dragon territory. Staying on the ground, the Blue and White juggernaut wasn't molested until it had gained its objective.

Coach Leidig sent the second team in by droves in the fourth quarter and with a few varsity men still playing against Leson's crew, Warren added their final six-pointer. A blocked punt recovered by Fred Irwin, reserve end for the Dragons, gave them possession of the ball on the Girard 28. Four line plays, interrupted by a five yard penalty against Warren for the backfield being in motion, took the ball to the one yard line, and Marasco hit the center to score. Bob Sedon this time hit off right guard for the point.

Immediately following the play the third team we t into the lineup. George "Bugs" Wells kicked off to Girard and Stearns took the ball, handed it to Davern on a reverse, and the entire Warren reserve outfit was caught off guard as the latter player raced along the south sidelines 60 yards to a touchdown. Stearns plunged for the point and the scoring was over.

But following the kickoff the third team had a chance to show their wares—and show them they did. With Gusty Arrigo pacing the way, they ripped off two first downs and thirty-seven yards in seven plays, a fumble losing four yards and being held on the first play to no gain. Arrigo banged his way through the line in four tries, used his speed and shiftiness to advantage in gaining thirty-two yards alone.

They finally lost the ball to Girard, but the Jackets couldn't move against them and were being held at a standstill as the game ended.

Industrial Loop Starts Tonight

The bowling season will be officially ushered in tonight on the Arcade Alleys when the Industrial League's eight entries pound away at each other for victories in their respective initial starts.

At 7 p. m. Bab's Barbers engage Millie's Inn on slides 1-2, and the National Forge Forge Shop entertain the N. F. O. Heat Treat on 3-4. At 9 p. m. the Butter Krust keglers battle Sherwood Refinery, 1-2, and the Times-Mirror goes against Wm. Crossett, Inc., team on 3 and 4.

Tomorrow evening there will be a special match held between Struthers-Wells teams and an important City League meeting at the Arcade at eight o'clock.

Wednesday the Struthers-Wells circuit starts its season and Thursday night the Commercial Leaguers kick the lid off their campaign.

In a special match rolled over the weekend, the National Forge defeated Valone's Cleaners 2275 to 2184.

Governor's Cup Won By Bradford's Bees

Bradford, Sept. 14—(AP)—The second-place Bradford Bees of the Pony League won the Governor's Cup today by whipping fourth-place Hamilton, Ont., 19-4, to take the best-of-seven playoff series, four games to one. Bradford, farm club of the Boston Braves, previously had defeated Hamilton 5-3, 3-0 and 8-7. Hamilton's 3-2 victory was a seventeen-inning game. Bradford won Saturday night, 8 to 7, in ten innings. Schoette and Cardoni pitched for the winners and Wargo and Mochuk for the losers.

The playoff cup is given by the governors of New York, Pennsylvania and the governor-general of Canada.

The pennant-winning Jamestown Falcons were eliminated by Hamilton, three games to two, in the semi-final playoffs, and Bradford also beat third-place Batavia, three games to two.

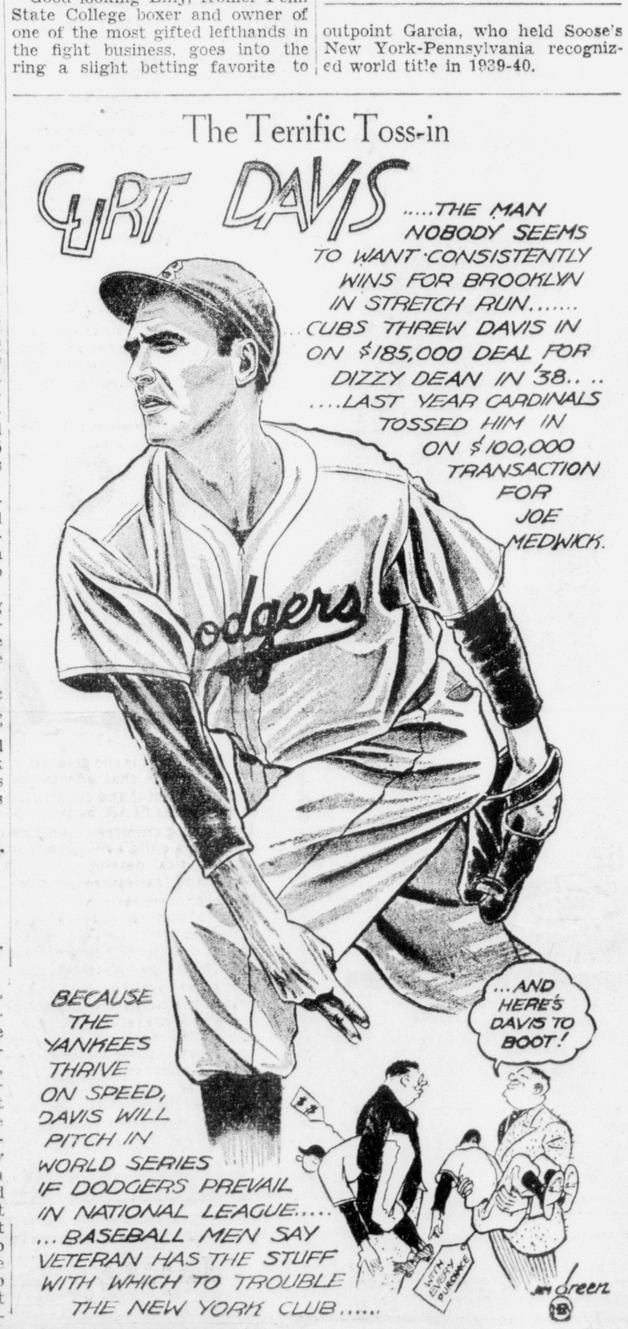
Rec. Center Softball Team To Be Honored

The Recreation Center, runners-up to the K. of C. for this summer's City League softball championship, will be honored Thursday evening at the club rooms with a banquet.

More complete plans will be announced later, but every team member and several specially invited guests of honor are expected to make the banquet an enjoyable affair.

The banquet will be the club's token of appreciation for the efforts of the players in their diamond hunt for softball fortunes during the recent campaign.

They were first half champions, but lost out to the Caseys in a three-game playoff series after walloping the champions in the first game.



SHIFTY GUSTY ARRIGO MAY BE "FIND" OF SEASON ON DRAGON SQUAD; JACKET TEAM UNSTEADY BUT SHOULD PROGRESS

What may have been the "find" of the season for the local scholastic football squad, was the discovery made Saturday when diminutive Gus y Arrigo was given a chance to show his wares against Girard and did so—but good. The speedy, shifty runner tore off thirty-two yards in four chances with the ball, averaging eight yards a try and doing better than that because he was held to no gain on the first play. His longest run was a seventeen yard dash against the amazed Yellow Jackets and the youngster showed in that run, as in his others, that he's a natural runner and may be transformed into one of the finest backs ever to play under Leidig. Only a sophomore in high school, the youth will have two more seasons and possibly will see more action this campaign. He made that outstanding yardage with the third team line, made up of large boned boys but with little meat over them yet, and sadly outweighed by the Jackets. Yet they opened good sized holes that anyone could run through, but after once through the line, the runner had to make for himself. Had Arrigo had the varsity blocking for him, this corner will wager he'd have done even better, and we hope he gets a chance to show his goods with the varsity line making the way before the season is all over.

Though a case of fumbleitis and the New York grid Yankees' taking two good candidates for the Red Jackets didn't do "Doc" Reese's squad any good, the local outfit showed fans that it can develop into a real powerhouse this season in a couple of weeks, once they get used to playing together and learn the plays better. Whisner and Brud Murphy, a Jamestown gridder, are the two who received Yankee contracts, and if the club gets going the Yanks will probably be back to pick off a couple of more of Reese and Paris' charges. The Jackets must be a farm club of the Yanks though they haven't come to any working agreement. But back to the club we do have presently Brown, Bizzaro, Check and Ganza make up a good backfield combination and there is little to worry about on the line. The club was impressive in Sunday's game and could have added one or two more touchdowns if the strongest eleven had been left on the field throughout the contest, but the tracas, as we said in Saturday's paper, was an experiment, and a valuable one to the two Jacket coaches. Every man had his opportunity to do what he could, and from where we sat they all did a pretty fair job. So, when they get going, everything should be fine, and this year's Jacket team, we don't believe, will have to take a back seat because of any former aggregation's fortunes.

Grid-ironing . . . Joe Massa visited our sanctum last evening to tell us that the reason for that score of 61-0 rolled up by his Sheffield Wolverines over Waterford was due to the latter club having only thirteen players . . . and while in here, took time to worry about Johnsonburg High which is one of the high spots, and tough games carded for the Orange and Black this year . . . Joe also told us that he could put out a really fine club if some of the boys going to Sheffield High lived closer . . . Many are from rural districts . . . After seeing the police expel a couple of tear-eyed youngsters at Saturday's high school football encounter, we offer the suggestion that all grade school children be admitted free to the games and a special section be set aside for them . . . This would take in all pupils in local schools until they entered Beaty school . . . After all a kindness to a small child can't be measured in dollars and cents, and the athletic association of W. H. S. doesn't need money so badly that these tots should be forced to pay a quarter each week . . . And who knows when one day several of them may be future scholastic stars on the gridiron? . . . Until tomorrow, chew that over for awhile. . . .

Axis Drive Against Russian Crimea Said To Be Contemplated

last Friday, the Russians admitted they had withdrawn from Chernigov, 80 miles north of Kiev between the Dnieper and Desna rivers.

The Soviet communique said the rail junction of Kremenchug, 175 miles below Kiev, had been evacuated after days of fierce fighting and thus the Russians admitted for the first time a German crossing of their natural bastion in the Ukraine, the Dnieper river.

However, the Germans some time ago claimed they had crossed the lower Dnieper and captured Zaporozhe, 140 miles southeast of Kremenchug.

In Helsinki, Vaino Tanner, minister of trade and communications and leader of the dominant Social Democratic party in Finland, declared there are "good hopes of peace in the nearest future."

He stressed that Finland was an ally of Germany "only by accident" and that Finland would fight only as long as her interests demanded.

The British had virtually no aerial activity on their home front. Only one plane was reported officially to have dropped bombs on a northeast coast town, during the night, causing slight damage and some casualties.

But the weekend found British bombers ranging from Norway to the Mediterranean.

Seeds of revolt against the German conquest continued to sprout over the weekend.

In Croatia, the explosion of four time-bombs in Zagreb's central telephone exchange and blasts from machine-gun snipers elsewhere in the capital wounded two-score persons, including a German army major.

A German lieutenant, four Nazi soldiers and a German telephone operator also were injured.

In German-occupied Norway, between 250 and 300 labor union leaders were reported to have been arrested in the Oslo region following labor troubles which led to the German decree of a civil state of siege last week.

Advices reaching Stockholm said a mass strike in the Oslo district by 40,000 workers precipitated the decree.

On the North African war front, long quiet, action flamed anew. An official statement said Italian and German troops captured a British outpost near Sidi Belgasem, east of siege-bound Tobruk in a fierce fight in which the British lost an unspecified number of dead and prisoners.

FOSTER CHILDREN

More than 20,000 children in England are being brought up by 15,000 foster mothers, under supervision of health inspectors.

Out of every hundred farmers in the United States, 51 operate owned farms; 39 are tenants, and 10 are part owners or managers according to the Census.

AT HORSE SHOW

A large crowd attended the horse show which featured the closing day of the Sugar Grove Community Fair on Saturday. About thirty horses were exhibited, including entries from Jamestown and South Dayton, N. Y., Meadville, Ludlow and Warren. A complete prize list will be printed later. The horse show was preceded by a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Grace Siggins.

HURT IN FALL

Mrs. Annis George, of Tidioute, was treated at the Warren General Hospital about 11:30 o'clock Saturday night for lacerations to her forehead and left eye, sustained when she fell off a flight of steps at her home. She was discharged from the hospital following treatment.

To make sure that anglers seeking really big fish get an honest-to-goodness bang out of the sport, two ingenious inventors have patented a fish hook which first snares the quarry and then fires a bullet at him.

Americans On Way To Russia Stop In London

can mission reached London yesterday with the Russian ambassador to Washington, Constantin Oumansky, after a Trans-Atlantic plane flight, and the American embassy announced today that W. Averell Harriman, head of the mission, and the remainder of the delegation had arrived "somewhere in the United Kingdom."

Harriman was expected to reach London tonight.

The delegation has been commissioned, with its British counterpart, to study with the Russians all means of speeding supplies and weapons of war to the Russian front.

Harriman and other members on the mission arrived in London by air from "somewhere in the United Kingdom," where they had landed earlier in the day in the bomber which carried them across the Atlantic.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden greeted Harriman at an airdrome near London.

With Our Boys In Indiantown Gap

Indiantown Gap, Pa., Sept. 15—(AP)—The 28th Division will be on the move again within two weeks.

Officers disclosed today that schedules call for truck columns to leave the reservation around Sept. 25 for Lilesville, N. C., where the Pennsylvanians will participate in gigantic war games for two months.

Lilesville is about 10 miles north of the South Carolina border and near Wadesboro, N. C. Division headquarters will be established there for the duration of the maneuvers.

An advance detachment of engineers has already gone to North Carolina to prepare sanitation and other facilities at the camp. Other details will leave from time to time in advance of the main body of troops.

The Iron Division's 17,000 troops returned to the reservation last Friday after several weeks maneuvers in Virginia and the results drew praise from General Edward Martin.

"We have all worked extremely hard and learned valuable lessons, and I know the 28th is a better fighting division for these efforts," General Martin declared.

He added:

"The orderly movement of so many troops over such a distance and lack of serious accidents demonstrated by the 28th in the Virginia exercises has set a record of which I am proud."

Approximately 60 per cent of the camp personnel is still on week-end leave which ends tonight at midnight. Remaining troops, officers said, will also be given three days vacation before the division starts rolling southward.

The headquarters units started command post exercises today and during the next two weeks regimental work will be stressed.

GYPSIES HELD FOR COURT ON FRAUD CHARGE

Charged with defrauding a Warren woman of $2,400 while operating a phrenologist establishment here in November, 1938, George Miller and Lena Rogers, gypsies, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans this morning on larceny charges.

Both waived hearings for court and in default of $3,500 bail each, they were committed to the county jail.

The gypsies are charged with having stolen $2,400 from Mrs. Elizabeth Spaulding, of this city.

Over the week-end, several other gypsies arrived in town in the interest of the two held here. It was intimated today that they were making an effort to raise funds necessary for the release of Miller and his sister.

At the hearing today, Attorney E. H. Beshlin represented the gypsies, while the commonwealth was represented by District Attorney J. H. Goldstein.

WORKERS IN "CAPTIVE" PITS ORDERED OUT

Pittsburgh, Sept. 15—(AP)—Demanding a union shop, district leaders of the CIO United Mine Workers ordered a strike today of approximately 37,000 soft coal miners at "captive" mines of seven steel corporations operating at capacity in the defense emergency.

The corporations included the nation's three largest steel producers—United States Steel, Bethlehem and Republic. The others were Weirton, Wheeling, Crucible and Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

The strike order went to 20,000 miners in western Pennsylvania, 12,000 in West Virginia, 4,000 in Kentucky, 1,000 in Illinois and an unspecified number in Tennessee.

POPE ASKS CATHOLICS TO PRAY FOR PEACE

Vatican City, Sept. 15—(AP) Pope Pius XII asked Catholics throughout the world today to pray during the month of October for a shortening of the war.

His appeal for special prayer was made to bishops through papal representatives in each country, the Vatican City newspaper, Il Osservatore Romano, announced.

START ISSUING BIRTH PAPERS UNDER NEW LAW

Persons born before the state began keeping records in 1906, but couldn't prove it, began receiving birth certificates today under an act of the 1941 legislature sponsored by Senator L. E. Chapman, of Warren, and signed two months ago by Governor James.

An opinion by the justice department for the bureau of vital statistics opened a "bottleneck" that has piled up thousands of applications for birth certificates, principally from workers in defense industries.

When defense industries started requiring proof of birth from their workers, those who were born before 1906 ran into many difficulties in obtaining a certificate and the 1941 legislature passed a law permitting the bureau to accept certain documentary evidence, such as baptismal and school records.

The legislation, instead of easing and speeding up the issuance of certificates, was considered confusing in language and an opinion from Attorney General Claude T. Reno was sought by Tom E. Williams, director of the bureau.

While awaiting the opinion no certificates were issued to persons born before 1906, or to those whose later births were not recorded in the bureau.

Robert J. Painter, assistant director, said that several thousand applications had clogged the bureau's files, but the first of these were being acted upon immediately and all should be cleared in the "next several weeks."

"We are writing each applicant, and when we receive the affidavits or documentary evidence required, along with the $3.50 fee, we will issue the certificates," said Painter.

The filing fee is $2.50 and the certificate copy is $1.00.

day.....Betty Hicks Newell, the new women's golf champion, says she'll listen to pro offers because "my husband and I need a stake to start out married life."...From tournament winner to bread winner, hugh?....At that, some of the folks who back big pro tournaments might do worse than get up one for the gals. With Betty, Patty Berg and Helen Hicks Haro they'd have plenty to start with, and a lot of the other girls who have to earn their own way might easily be persuaded to turn pro... Winston Guest, who has been touring South America as a good will ambassador, must have suffered a relapse when he got back on a polo pony....He didn't earn any good will in Texas by making the national open tourney a Long Island monopoly.

Today's Guest Star

If Winter Comes Dept.

Latest sign of the coming chilly season is that a new pro basketball league, to take in eight major cities, is being formed, with New York's original Celtics as the starter....If Canadian officials keep on turning down youngsters who want to come to the United States to play hockey, maybe Major Fred McLaughlin's idea of an "All-American" team in the National League won't look as sour as it did last year....His Chicago Blackhawks now have five U. S. born players and six others who have been or are being naturalized.....Seems the hockey moguls laid themselves open for a few blasts from expert blasters on the new list of referees....New faces may be okay, but if they keep on signing up ex-players instead of promoting guys who have been getting experience as linesmen, they may find the refs will have trouble enforcing decisions against managers who used to boss them around a few years back.

Quote, Unquote

Ray Daughters, the famous Seattle swimming coach: "What do I look for in a young candidate? If the youngster has initiative to find the way to the athletic club and upstairs to the pool, I look for swimming talent. But if he can't find his way without the aid of doting parents, they must have a lot of talent or I don't bother with them."

Cleaning The Cuff

Jimmy Johnston turned down $5,000 for Bob Pastor to fight Melio Bettina in Los Angeles..... He wants double or nothing.... Even before the Dodgers went out to St. Louis for that crooshial series, the home fans had made plans for a victory rally when they come back east.....It's scheduled for next Sunday in Philly....In J. Willard Ridings' annual poll, 98 of 137 southwestern newspapermen picked Texas to win the southwest conference football title.....Carl Snavely, Jr., is a fifth-string blocking back on his dad's Cornell team....Baseball scribes report there's a laugh a second when Casey Stengel and Hans Lobert get together...Their words make a hit even if their teams don't.

Last Laugh

Jimmy Wilson, the Cubs manager, defines a batting slump as when you look past the pitcher and see 22 outfielders and 10 infielders daring you to hit.

OPEN WEEK-DAY CHURCH SCHOOL CLASSES SOON

Registrations for the week-day religious education classes, to be held in seven local churches through the cooperation of the Warren borough schools with a central committee from the various church denominations, are being received rapidly, it was reported today by Superintendent John G. Rossman.

Tomorrow is the last day for parents to return the blanks, signifying that their children of high school age will attend some religious education class during the balance of the school year. Those who do not register for one of the religious classes will be assigned to citizenship classes in the high school.

The week-day religious education classes will be conducted each Wednesday, starting at 10:40 a. m. The first classes will be held on Wednesday, September 24.

Although women have done remarkably well in major tournaments during the last year or so, there are men who do not think women play as good bridge as men.

Perhaps this accounts for the fact that in the men's pair championship this year, there was not only the largest entry in the history of the event, but practically every Life Master in the country participated in the contest, which was won by Joseph E. Low and Sam Rossant of New York.

Because of the tremendous amount of work involved in conducting a national tournament, I do not have an opportunity to participate in the events. Of coulse I always manage to assume my favorite role of kibitzer now and then.

I was watching Lee Hazen of New York, who won the world championship Masters Individual last April, when he and his partner got into a small slam contract on today's hand. As Hazen's left-hand opponent lost a trick every time he was on lead, I could not help but remark that if he could have been put in the lead three times, Hazen should have made seven.

Looking at all four hands, you can see the declarer should lose a trick in each suit. But East believed West might have a singleton or void in clubs. His thoughtless lead of the ten gave up the stopper.

Hazen (North) won and led trumps. East won the second round and now tried a low heart, giving up a second trick when Hazen played low from dummy and won the jack with the queen. The third trick was picked up by a squeeze in spades and hearts against East. Hazen readily guessed that East held the spade king because of his "exit trouble."

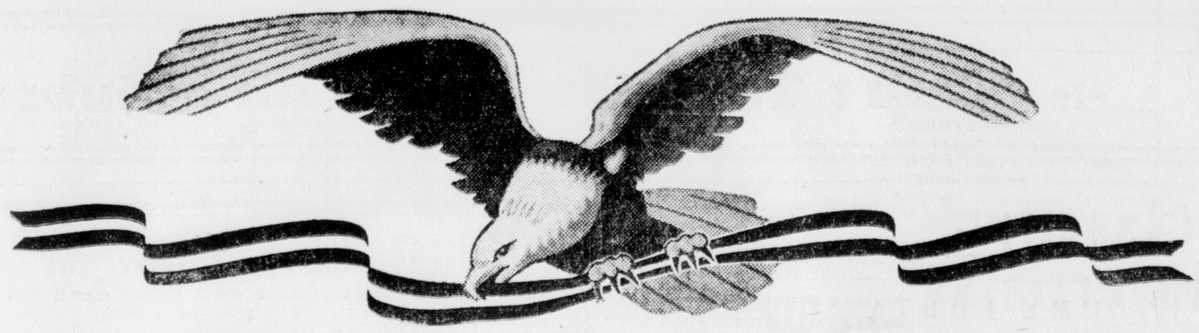
In 1930 Waldemar von Zedtwitz presented to the American Contract Bridge League a solid gold trophy to be competed for annually by the Master players of the country. This was the beginning of the Master Point plan, one of the greatest rating systems of any sport in the world today.

When the gold cup was first put into play, Von Zedtwitz said that anyone who won it three times would have permanent possession of it. Although we felt no one would be able to win the trophy three times, in the short span of five years Howard Schenken of New York had been the victor three out of five times.

Von Zedtwitz had the right to replace the trophy, but as we all wanted to see the same one remain in play, he made an agreement with Schenken that the gold cup would remain in play with the understanding that it could not be won by any other player as a permanent possession.

Now, after seven years, Schenken is again the winner of the world championship Masters Pair event with M. D. Maier of New York. I have often heard it said at tournaments that it was a pleasure even to lose to Schenken, who is one of the most popular of all tournament players. One of the world's greatest players, he certainly handled the hand shown today in nice style to win the coveted title for the fourth time.

Sitting South, Schenken won the opening lead with the ace of spades. Two heart leads exhausted the adverse trumps. Then the three top diamonds were cashed. The suit failed to break, so there was still the possible club loser to worry about. Instead of risking the club finesse, Schenken ruffed out the last diamond, then led the spade. West, forced in the lead, had to return a club or else give declarer a ruff and sluff.



Buy Defense Stamps and Bonds

★ Like all other good stores, we have carefully refrained from any form of urging our public to "Buy Now."

However, we gladly break that rule to say—"Buy Defense Stamps and Bonds Now."

The huge preparations which our government is making to provide us with adequate National Defense call for great sums of money with which to pay for some of these things.

Unless we all heed the call and rally round with cheerful eagerness to do our bit by buying Defense Stamps and Bonds, the needed funds will not be at the government's disposal.

In this week, when retail stores throughout the nation are featuring "Retailers for Defense," we urge you to join with us in this celebration and to start—if you have not already done so—a program of buying Stamps and Bonds.

A few cents, or a few dollars, according to your means, invested in Stamps and Bonds will help the Government and provide a nice form of security for your future. Also they pay a good rate of interest.
